

not be in it, in fact some doubt was expressed as to whether they would be able to scrape together the required number of players. '93 was known to have a strong aggregation who would leave no stone unturned to come out on top. '94 was looked upon as a distinctively hockey year, and many were the predictions of its success in the series, while it was felt that '95, with its usual ambition and push, would not allow itself to be beaten out without a struggle.

Almost every man in college was out to see the opening match, which took place on Tuesday, February 21st, between '93 and Divinity. '93 opened up with a rush and, almost before their opponents realized that the game had begun, scored three goals in rapid succession. The embryoclerics then pulled themselves together and astonished both themselves and their supporters by the celerity of their play. They kept the "Giants" score well down, and at half-time the tally registered five games each. The second half was a better exhibition of hockey than the first, the prospective parsons keeping up their pace, and the doughty '93-ites working their combination time and again. The play was rather in favour of the latter who captured the game by a majority of one. Score, '93, 7; Divinity, 6. The teams were as follows:

'93—Goal, Fessenden; point, Gwyn; cover, Wadsworth; forwards, McCarthy, Heward, Chadwick, Butler.

On the conclusion of the first match '94 and '95 took the ice and put up a very even game. The "Razzle-dazzlers" were very swift but lacked combination, '95, on the contrary, showed itself to be "all alive" to its opportunities and frequently got in some good passing. In the first half '94 took three games, the Freshmen going them one better and securing four. In the second each increased its tally by three, the result being in doubt up to the last moment when '95 hustled the rubber through and won the match. Score, '95, 7; '94, 6. The following were the teams:

'94—Goal, Johnston; point, Hamilton; cover, Nelles; forwards, Robertson, Henry, Cattnach, McCallum.

'95—Goal, McMurrich; point, Osler; cover, Perry; forwards, Southam, Osler, O'Reilly, Osborne.

The third match was played on Wednesday, February 22nd, when '93 and '94 faced each other. It was expected that this would be the match of the series, but it was not as close as was anticipated, '94 trusted too much to its individual play, while '93 relied more on its combination. This told in the latter's favour who won the match by a handy margin of three. Score, '93, 7; '94, 4.

On Friday, February 24th, '93, flushed with its victory over Divinity and '94, met '95 and scored another win by eleven to eight. The Freshmen were in good form and put up a strong game, but their weightier opponents were too much for them and held the lead from start to finish. The "Giants" scored six in the first half and five in the second, while the losers obtained four in each. Score, '93, 11; '95, 8.

This match gave '93 the championship, they having played each class and won all their games. The two remaining matches, '94 vs. Divinity and '95 vs. Divinity, were unplayed which left the record as follows:

Class.	Won.	Lost.
'93.....	3	0
'95.....	1	1
Divinity.....	0	1
'94.....	0	2

CRICKET.

With the possible exception of the June exams., the all-absorbing interest of the coming term is "Cricket."

The snow is still on the campus but in a few short weeks the scene will be a very different one, the terrace covered with a comfortable crowd, lazily watching Trinity running up the score and making pools on the result, puffing the pipe of peace and content, happy even, for a time, to forget June, etc., etc.

Looking ahead thus far, in spite of the irreparable loss sustained in the departure of such men as Alexis Martin, Rev. Bertie Grout, Lally McCarthy, and others, the promise for the coming season is a very bright one.

Capt. M. S. McCarthy will make the most of team material. Fleet (pro.), re-engaged for this season, will be of great value to some members of the team especially.

Mr. Bedford-Jones, absent last year, will again be with us. Wadsworth has developed into a first-class trundler, likewise Laing, who will probably play with us again this year, while Southam will be an addition to our batting strength. Rumour also has it that there are one or two promising "phenoms." who will figure prominently on the team. With such material as this at our disposal we ought to have an eleven quite up to the average of former years.

Personal.

MR. BELL, the other victim of typhoid, is well on the mend; while Mr. Swayne (scarlet fever), is already out of doors.

THE unhappy non-resident Freshmen who have been suffering from the various epidemic ills, are now all promising convalescents.

MR. LAWRENCE has also taken flight from the hospital, and this week went home to Bradford, well again, but somewhat pulled down.

REV. VINCENT PRICE, who has been in the hospital for some weeks, has at last changed his abode, and, greatly restored in health, is now visiting Rev. Dr. Mockridge.

MR. CARTER TROOP, B.A., has been unanimously elected a member of the Haliburton Society, of Nova Scotia. The Society was founded in 1884 with the aim of developing a distinctive literature in Canada. Amongst its active and prominent members is Professor Charles Roberts, M.A., who has done so much to enrich the literature of Canada.

THE First Year Divinity Class Examinations begin on Tuesday, April 11th, the day following the opening of the Easter Term. The members of this class and a few Arts men alone inhabit the College at present, the great mass of students having gone down on Saturday, the 19th, for the vacation. Sported Oaks are now in order.

AT the last meeting of the Literary Institute, seven valedictory speeches were made, and very good they all were, too. The speakers were Messrs. Leach, B.A., Dumbrielle, Fessenden, Pottinger, Robinson, Chadwick and Gwyn. Mr. Dumbrielle was especially happy in his remarks, and Mr. Robinson pointed out the astonishing fact that he himself had taken part in twenty-one debates, having lost ten and won eleven.

MR. H. N. SHAW, B.A., Lecturer in Elocution in Trinity College, to whom the Literary Society is greatly indebted for his most kind and much appreciated assistance at the Annual Conversazione, has just finished his course of lectures for the present season, and will not resume his work here until after the summer vacation. Mr. Shaw is a master of the art he professes to teach, and his lectures are characterized by a thoroughness and spirit which inspire in his pupils both respect and enthusiasm.
