

BEFORE YOU GO

INFORM YOURSELF

Before you leave Canada, take time to learn about your destination and make sure it is safe to travel there. Some countries experience ongoing wars, insurgencies, or sporadic unrest that could impact on your travel plans. Trip cancellation insurance may be null and void if a Travel Warning is already in effect when a trip is booked. To find out more, see “Stay safe — stay tuned” on page 8.

BEFORE YOU GO ABROAD, WE ADVISE YOU TO

- Learn the location of Canadian government offices in the countries you plan to visit, note this information on the Emergency Contact Card provided on the inside front cover of this booklet, and carry the card with you at all times (see page 29 or visit travel.gc.ca/offices for a detailed list of Canadian government offices abroad).
- Provide family or friends with a travel itinerary and contact details, as well as the emergency number for Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada (see page 6).
