

as something which would help prevent Europe from becoming an isolated third force. If you like, I see Britain in the role of link between Europe and America, the position which has so often been given to Canada in relations between this country and the United States. Maybe we can give you some advice on how to perform that role! Feeling this way, I naturally think it is wrong and unwise for any European country to oppose or put unnecessary obstacles in the way of Britain playing a full and constructive part, as I am sure it would be, in the evolution of a united Europe. . . .
