

Capital Punishment

I will then ask Members in the first row to my left, regardless of their Party affiliation, who are in favour of the motion, to rise and remain standing until their names have been called, and I will carry on similarly with the other rows on my left.

Once the votes of Hon. Members supporting the motion have been completed in this manner, I will then invite Members in the first row to my right who are opposed to the motion to rise. I will proceed similarly through the remaining rows on my right, and then follow the same procedure for Hon. Members to my left.

It bears repetition that the taking of names of Hon. Members in every row will begin with the Hon. Members seated closest to the Chair and will continue consecutively along to the far end of the row. This will be so to my right, regardless of rank, and it will be so to my left, regardless of rank or Party affiliation.

During the taking of the vote I would ask all Hon. Members to give the very greatest co-operation and courtesy so that the vote will be taken without any error.

The House divided on the motion (Mr. Mazankowski) which was negated on the following division:

(Division No. 223)
