

A REVIEW of the relations between the Corporation and the library profession is unusually appropriate now, since the present year marks the end of the so-called Ten Year Library Service Program adopted in 1926, and also the one hundredth anniversary, on November 25, of the birth of Andrew Carnegie.

R. M. L.