

Whale-Fishery.

[GENERAL

Before 1615 The East-India company got Biscayan whalers, and prosecuted the fishery	ii, 279	1405 W. vessels commit piracy upon the Danes	i, 615
1615 The fishery employs 14 English vessels	281	1407 Whitington, Richard , mayor of London, lends money to the King	i, 618
— English, Dutch, and Danish, vessels at the fishery—Engl. and Danes claim exclusive right	282	— Abbey history of him	618 n
1617 The English seize the Dutchmen's oil, &c.	287	1252 W. vessels damaged by the sea	i, 401
1618 English vessels driven away by the Dutch—made of conducting the fishery	287	1254 W. seamen attack a Yarmouth vessel	403
— Account of the Dutch fishery (exaggerated)	290	1701 Winchester (Venta) a British and Roman city	i, 195
1619 Russia and East-India joint fishery given up	292	075 The measure of Winchester made the standard	274
1620-1623 Several voyages with various success	302	Before 1066 Winchester enjoyed some exemptions	294, 297
1634 Seven men left at Spitzbergen—perished	379	1771 Improvements enacted	iii, 313
1669 Only 1 English ship, and 400 or 500 of Holland and Hamburg, at the fishery	544	— Winds of the antients do not correspond with the modern points	148 n
— The Dutch fishery much increased by the abolition of a monopolizing company	552	— Windward and Leeward islands —the terms explained	iii, 161 n
1672 Navigation act relaxed in favour of the fishery	563	— Wine —See Prize, Taverns .
1693 A company established in Lond. for the fishery	563	1800* Wine apparently in general use	i, 6
1696 They increase their capital—are exempted from duties—lose their capital	684	1000* Furnished by Israel to Tyre	73
— The fishery afterwards laid open by parliament	684	588* Excellent wine carried from Damascus to Tyre	78
1721 Number of vessels from various nations	iii, 110	446* Wine carried from Athens to Egypt	67
1724 Oil and fins of whales, seals, &c taken by British ships, exempted from duty	130	14 Wine of Luna, &c carried to Rome	133
1725 South-sea company send ships (See S. sea comp. )	130	— Also excellent wine from Ionia	135
1730 New-England whalers successful	156, 166	282 Vineyards planted in Gaul and Britain	203
1731 A gun invented for shooting whales	167	1068 Vineyards now in England	305, 330, 331
1733 Bounty granted by parliament—2 ships fail	198	1189 Wine a chief article of the imports of England	345
— Dutch whale-fishery in 46 years	199	1273 Quantity imported in the chief ports of Engl.	485
1736 Successful fishery of 1 English and 130 Dutch ships	211	1300 Quantity of prize wine	469
1740 The bounty continued and enlarged	224	1302 A duty of 2/ per tun laid on wine	469
1749 The bounty doubled, and extended to the colonies	268	1303 Wine not to be carried out of England	469, 510
1755 Further regulations enacted	306	1335 King Edward I's writs to several princes for the safe conveyance of some Rhenish	512
1759 Success of Dutch and Hamburg ships	315	1347 Tonnage duty imposed	526
1762 British fishery generally unsuccessful	357	1350 Quantity imported from Bourdeaux	541
1763 New-England fishery much increased	372	1353 To be imported only from two ports	531
— Money granted in Ireland for the fishery	384	1354 Quantity imported this year	553
1764 British bounty continued	400	1364 Artificers , except artificers, may import wine	571
— Fishery unsuccessful—Dutch find a new whaling station near Rona	405	1368 English not allowed to import it	575
Whales often get embayed among the islands	405 n	1369 English, except artificers, may import it	576
1768 The bounty continued	477	1372 Four pipes of Rhenish exported from York to Prussia	578
— Dutch fishery this year	485	1380 Wine to be gauged on importation	590
1771 Fishery encouraged—retrospect 1750-1770	510	1381 Prices of wine limited by law	592
— Dutch very successful this year	517	1387 A great capture of wine	599
1772 Gun for shooting whales re-invented	531	1409 Wine exported from England	621
1775 Premiums for whaling in G. of St. Laurence, &c	576	1423 Legal size of the various casks	637
1776 And also for whaling in temperate climates	589	1485 Wine to be imported only in English vessels, &c	706
1780 The line between Greenland and St. Laurence fishery	661	1489 This law now confirmed	712
1782 The bounty raised to 40%, and ships allowed to take in lieu at Shetland	710	1541 And now again confirmed	ii, 87
1786 New bounties, &c	iv, 104	1552 Sale of wine, &c regulated by law	111
1788 Retrospect of Greenland fishery 1771-1788	130	1615 Number of English ships importing wine	282
For subsequent years see the annual accounts.		1638 Duty 40% per tun—coopers not to import wine—to be sold by just measure, not by bottles	403
1789 New regulations for the bounty	187	1643 Excise duty imposed on wine	426
1791 Encouragement continued—men protected	222	1650 New tunnage duties	480
1792 Bounty reduced—other regulations	233	1663 Wine of Madeira and the Azores may be carried direct to the English colonies	510
1794 Men may be shipped in various ports	296	1668 New duty on French wines—price raised from 2s to 1/ per quart	534
1795 Foreign whalers encouraged to settle at Milford haven	347	1697 During the prohibition of trade with France the French wines are superfed by those of Italy, Spain, and Portugal	693
— Act for encouraging the fishery continued	443, 477, 494	763 Additional duties imposed	iii, 370
1799 Fishery successful this year	486	1764 Allowance for leakage rescinded	395
1795 Wharfs of London utterly inadequate to the present state of the trade—their history	iv, 363	1768 And now restored conditionally	477
1799 Proprietors to have compensation from the Well-India-dock company	480	1778 Additional duties enacted	621
1800 And from the London-dock company	502	1779 Whole duty drawn back to British colonies	636
1166 Whitby robbed of vessels by Norwegians	i, 332	1780 Additional duties enacted	637
1344 Supported chiefly by curing herrings	607	1783 Wine not to be imported in small casks	iv, 14
		1785 Duty on flasks repealed—small casks admitted for private use only	75, 126
		1786 New duties and regulations enacted	107
		— Additional duty on home-made wine	108
		— Duty reduced on French wine, &c	113
		1787 Duties returned to the dealers	116