We want you to know this store better. All the stocks are fuller than ever before at this season-more goods and church choirs had been diligently practis church choirs had been diligently practising anthems and choruses for Easter Sunday. Yesterday saw special song services in all the sanctuaries. Not the catchy airs of a street song, but the majestic cancuces of classic composers—music that lifted one from the stern actualities of prosaic life to the calm contemplation of a ligher life of perfect peace.

The story of Christ's resurrection from the dead was tenderly told, and the pathos of ais cruel treatment softened many a heart. "Like Christ, it is your privilege to rise again," said the preachers, while the congregations stiently accepted the precious truth.

Easter brought many strange faces to church. All hearts are inclined to worship at Easter-tide. The churches were prettily decorated with flowers, among which pure, white lilles predominated. Not less attractive were the dapper, natty, chic costumes of Toronto's fair women. All the world donned its splendor. The very air was vivified by the awakening of rature, and the rising of new life into ail vegetation. The gospel of cheerfulness and life was preached by young and old alike, by their costumes, their smiles, their words and their thoughts.

The beautiful day, so full of soft whisperings of nearing spring, melted away the dross from hard hearts, and humanity turned in its thankfulness to God, who giveth every good and perfect gift. Truy, Easter is the crowning glory of the year.

At the Catholic services.

—At St. Mary's Church. —

The pastor and people of St. Mary's Church, Bathurst-street, are to be congratulated on their success in celebrating the giorlous resurrection of Jesus Christ. The sacred edifice was crowded from éary morning with devout adherents of the Catholic faith. The beautiful altar, which at all times presents a pleasing appearance, was on this occasion grand. Only recently being repainted white and gilded with gold it was decorated with flowers and lights so arranged that the evidence of an artist's touch was noticeable with every bud and light that appeared. At 7 o'clock high mass was sung by the boys' choir. At the 10 o'clock mass the girls of the Angles' choir were present, and at 11 o'clock the adult choir sang Mozart's Seventh Mass, in each case the singers were accompanied by an orchestra. The sermon at 11 o'clock mass was preached by the pastor, Vicar-General McCann, who took for his text, "This is the day the Lord hath made; et us rejoice in it," Ps. cxvii. The sermon was an eloquent one and thoroughly appreciated by those present. In the evening's grand musical vespers, the principal solo, 'blizabeth's Prayer,' was given with pleasing effect by Miss Amy Redway.

Methodist Services.

Methodist Services.

Grenier's ever-popular "Hosanna" was sung in good voice by Mrs. Jury at Eamstreet Church.

"I Know My Redeemer Liveth" was tenderly sung by Mrs. Scrimger Massey at Carlton-street Church.

At New Richmond Methodist Church, McCaul-street, Rev. W. J. Barkwell, the pastor, preached ably and appropriately at both services. The morning anthem was "Awake Thou That Sleepest," finely sung, and Mr. S. S. Martin, the choirmaster, gave a splendid delivery of Vandewater's Easter Song, during the offertory, "See, Now the Altar," was the evening anthem, with Paul Rodney's fine solo, "Resurrection Morn," beautifully sung by Miss Mabel De Geer after the sermon.

The pulpit in Wesley Methodist Church was yesterday adorned in ficral beauty. The pastor, Rev. S. D. Chown, in his morning sermon, spoke on the Resurrection. During his discourse he dealt with the Crucifixion, stating that to sin is to crucity Christ. The great lesson to be learned from the Crucifixion, the most important event in the history of the universe, is, as was learned by the Jews, that all sinful expediences will lead to evil.

Trinity Methodist Church celebrated Easter Sunday with special services. In the morning Rev. Prof. Wallace, D. D., of Victoria College, occupied the pulpit, and in the evening the service was conducted by Rev. I. Tovell, D.D. At the close of this service the sacrement of the Lord's supper was administered.

The services at the Metropolitan Church were beautiful. In the evening the choir, under the direction of Mr. Torrington, rendered many selections from the "Messiah" and Gound's "Redemption." In the latter numbers the harps played by Mr. Glionna and Mrs. Burns were charming, The church was crowded, many being turned away. The sermons were preached by the Rev. Mr. Bowles, and were appropriate to the day.

At St. Thomas' Spohr's "All Glory to the Lamb" was given during the Offertory. At the Church of Holy Trinity, Chappel's Easter Canticle, "Christ, Our Passover" was rendered with artistic effect while Rodney's "Calvary" was inspiring. At St. Luke's Mrs. Eyron Nicholson sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" at the morning service, and also rendered the solo in the anthem at the evening service. -St. John the Evangelist. - z The services at this church yesterday were of a very high order, and the rector, Rev. The Gradual Breakdown of Health Or the Rapid Decline in Strength, Either of Which Invariably Precedes the Tuberculous Stage, is attributed to nervous prostration, debility, in fact, to everything but the true cause, and is very generally neglected, because non-professional people do not know that this is the way consumption begins, and that there may and there may not be a cough present, according to the organs attacked. When the tuberculous condition develops, the eyes brighten, the skin grows clear, and there is a buoyancy of spirit which lulls all fears to rest.

I have in mind a case which is truly remark-I have in mind a case which is truly remarkable for its characteristic unconsciousness of danger, a youth approaching the last stages of consumption. His father and mother and brothers and sisters are all as unconscious of his danger and theirs as he. Sad to say, he is under the care of a quack physician who prescribes nightly mustard plasters and plenty of whiskey; just as if the inward fire of consumption were not doing its work fast enough! His father, under the impression that the cold air is bad for him, keeps all the doors and windows closed and makes the poor boy sit by the fire. All the family hover about him, especially when he has those terrible fits of convulsive coughing. Will it be any wonder that these young people, living in an atmosphere rife with the bacilli of tuberculosis, fail in health and drift into a decline? In the beginning of his attack, friends who knew the virtues of Shiloh's Consumption Cure coaxed him to take it; he did so and began to feel better; but his physician bade his mother throw it away and avoid all such stuff. He wished to go on with it; his people would not let him; he must obey his doctor. He has done so, and with what results? He is drifting rapidly we "that bourne from whence no traveler e'er returns."

"that bourne from whence no traveler e'er returns."

S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y. Gentlemen:—No tongue can tell the great good I received from taking Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Both my lungs were badly affected, but they are now completely cured.

— At Saint Anne's Church.—

Merrily the bells of Saint Anne's pealed forth their Easter chimes. They seemed to know that it was indeed the church's "triumphant holy day." The sacramental celebrations at the hours of 7 and 8 and at noon were very large, attended, and the sacred edifice was crowded at both the morning and evening regular services. The rector, Rev. J. McLean Ballard, preached at the former one, and Rev. J. F. Davidson, curate, at the latter. The music was of the best, and throughout beautifully rendered by the excellent choir and orchestra, its purity of tone, enunciation and balance of the parts and leads showing most carefull training. Now that the fine weather has come all ride, whether it be week day or Sunday, nen, women and children, grandsons, grandparents, rich and poor, high and low, and they raised such a cloud over the city yesterday afternoon, that many and subtle Easter effects were almost totally lost. Those that didn't own them hired them, although it was Sunday. How could they help it, when every fourteen steps a citizen takes he strikes a bleycle livery? There are fully one hundred per cent. more this year than last. The world will soon be composed of two classes—those who ride wheels, and those who keep bleycle liveries. High Park was a maze of wheelers on Easter Sunday, who came along on all sorts of machines, and got into the pleasant paths of the park and formed themselves into groups and watched the scorcher make the hill with a careless swing, and the bicycle girls dash half-way up and grandparents, rich and poor, high and low, of wheels, of all kinds, shapes and conditions.

Out west of Sunnyside is a long open fence to keep people from falling into the lake, and this was black with human crows, who bunched together where the sharp turn goes into High Park, and enjoyed watching wheelers attempt to take the turn gracefully and glide up over the tracks into Paradise! Their sense of humor was gratified when hidden kinks in the moral nature of the wheel would come out at the vital moment and render the turn not graceful, but ignominious and dusty.

Two costumes were noticed that were so extremely striking, so apallingly original that to leave them unchronicled is to defeat the purpose of history. One was a fair maiden in a complete suit of royal blue velvet, with a sure 'nough christy perched on her sunny curls and terminated at the pedatend with a coquettish pair of galters. She looked almost too sweet to be out, and one shuddered as the ruthless dust surrounded her, as with a halo, but she accepted the halo and glided smillingly on. The other was a creation of shirred pink stuff veering to a white vest and a blue background. Andrey Beardsley would have welcomed her.

The great army were tired and hot and hungry when the year to the year of the moral was a creation of shirred pink stuff veering to a white vest and a blue background. Andrey Beardsley would have welcomed her.

The great army were tired and hot and hungry when the year they are they had started the season and thus enjoyed themselves on Easter Sunday afternoon.

The Master-in-Chambers on Saturday morning dismissed Abner Summerfeldt's motion to compel Edward Hastings, who is suing the former for penalties for alleged wrionful acts as returning officer in the late election, to furnish particulars relative to the manner in which the plaintiff's ballot was spoiled, and to strike out certain statements in the claim as embarrassing.
