

Everything For Summer Wear in Brand New Styles

Waists

Voile, Crepe and Georgette
waists $1.00 to $7.50
trapes $4.69 to $12.50
georgettes $6.00 to $13.50

Summer Dresses

of Plain and Fancy Voiles, Ginghams, Taffeta, Crepe and Georgette.

Kayser Silk Gloves

Double tipped, white, black and grey, 75c, 85c, $1 to $1.50

Radium Hosiery

Fibre Silk-Ankle, white, black
and grey, 50c, 75c to $1.25

Holeproof Hosiery

All colors.
$1.50 per pair, Box of 3, $4.50

Brick & Dundas Ltd.

188 DUNDAS STREET.

ARE YOU SUFFERING?

If you are suffering from any of the following diseases—Anemia, Nervous Trouble, Rheumatism, Blood Diseases, Liver Complaint, Kidney Ills, Heart Trouble, General Debility, Vital Weakness, Derangement of the System and so on—all manifest themselves in different symptoms. Then, you get a box of TONAL-IRON CAPSULES now and begin that long-looked-for journey back to health. Tonal-iron capsules, then, French gelatin-coated, system-builder, clear up the blood, restore the nerves, drive out system poisons that cause pains, stiffness, pale complexions, wasting away, lack of ambition, loss of sleep and many more distressing affections. Tonal-iron capsules, supplied by any drug store in London or sent post-paid, carefully wrapped, upon receipt of price, $1, anywhere. Tonal-iron Laboratories, Box 184, London, Ont. zxy

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Readers are invited to phone all news of this kind to the Society Editor, Phone 3670.

Miss Jessie Shearer of Toronto, who has been the guest of Mrs. Henderson, Wortley road, while attending the General Assembly, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Walker of Toronto are visiting relatives on Horn street.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday in the Tabbot Street Baptist Church, when Miss Edna May Baskett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baskett, was united in marriage to Mr. Ross Thomas, both of this city. The bride was attended by Nursing Sister Margaret Thompson, and the groomsmen were Chester Rowntree, secretary-treasurer of Lawson & Jones. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Ross left for Tecumseh, where a wedding luncheon was served at the home of Rev. Mr. Galbraith. After a motor trip to Buffalo and other American points they will reside in this city.

The manse at Corunna was the scene of a very interesting event at high noon on Tuesday, June 11, when Elizabeth White, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement White of the 8th concession, Moore, became the bride of Edwin Henry Shaw, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw, also of the 8th concession, Moore. Rev. Dr. Schofield officiating. The bride looked charming in a gown of white voile, with a white hat, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl brooch. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held and a dainty wedding dinner served. After which a pleasant afternoon was spent by all present. The house throughout being decorated with roses and peonies. The presents were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the bride and groom are both held. Among them was a lovely leather rocker, presented by Knox Church choir and Mission Band, and a handsome check, the gift of the bride's father. The young couple left on a wedding tour.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emma Elwood, 7 Alfred street, on Wednesday, June 12, at 3 p.m., when her only daughter, Hazel Eva, was united in marriage to W. Gordon Wootton, E.A., of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Rogers. The bride was given away by her brother, Earle. The bride was prettily attired in white silk crepe-de-chine, with lace that was worn at her grandmother's wedding, and a platinum brooch set with diamonds, the gift of the groom. She wore the conventional bridal veil adorned with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bride was attended by Miss Hazel Denison, blue voile, and carried pink roses. The groom was assisted by C. Kent Duff, a fellow-graduate of Toronto University. The presents were many and beautiful, and the young couple were with Mrs. W. J. McAllister, Woodman avenue.

Dr. Septimus Thompson has returned from New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson of Hamilton were the guests of Mrs. Donald McLean during the Assembly.

Miss Wilson of Winnipeg is the guest of Mrs. Fetterly.

Mrs. Mary McAllister has returned to Dutton after a visit to the McAllister Theatre.

JIMMY COON STORIES

By Dr. Warren C. Partridge.
Copyright 1917 by George Matthew Adams.

LITTLE PEOPLE OF THE WOODS COME TO JIMMY COON'S LAUNDRY.

You would have chuckled to have seen the great number of Little Folk of Mirror Pond and the Great Forest, who came to Jimmy Coon's Laundry, to have their clothes washed. Uncle Bullfrog is the oldest brother of Grandpa Bullfrog. Now Jimmy Coon was so rushed with business at his Laundry, that Uncle Bullfrog had to have his clothes washed there. Uncle Bullfrog had quite a large wash. You remember that Uncle Bullfrog is a great dresser; and he is very fussy to have every garment he wears spick and span. He will not stand for a speck of dirt on his elegant clothing. Now you can see that Jimmy Coon has a big job to wash carefully every garment which Uncle Bullfrog wears. Why Jimmy had to wash Uncle Bullfrog's green coat, his nice yellow vest, his green pants, his socks, his undershirt, his drawers, his collar and necktie, and his green pocket-handkerchiefs. It was a big stunt to wash every one of these nice garments, to suit the fussy Uncle Bullfrog!

Well, Jimmy went to work with great speed to wash every garment of Uncle Bullfrog. And Jimmy scrubbed and scoured every garment very carefully. And you may have seen the Uncle Bullfrog's clothes. You would have feared that Jimmy would have made holes in Uncle Bullfrog's nice green coat, and his pretty yellow vest, and his costly green pants.

And Uncle Bullfrog yelled out: "Jimmy, don't scrub my lovely yellow vest so hard, you'll scrub it into nothing but holes." And I can't afford to buy another costly yellow silk vest in these hard times!"

And Jimmy Coon just laughed and said: "You wait until I finish washing your clothes, and you'll never say a word of fault finding!" And Uncle Bullfrog never said a word of complaint, for since our marriage he has seldom been away from home long enough to warrant a letter.

Like most artists, Dicky's chirography is execrable. Scrawls are almost dignified a name to apply to it. And as he writes but few words to a page I knew that the bulkiness of the envelope held did not mean any excess in the length of the epistle.

The hold rambling lines fairly jumped at me as I tore open the envelope without waiting to cut it in my usual methodical manner. A rambling scrawl came to my lips as I did so. How many times I had heard Dicky laughingly tell me when the time comes for me to explain you won't be as angry and disgusted as you think you are now."

What Dicky's Letter Brought to Madge.

I fairly snatched Dicky's letter from the top of the small bundle William held out to me. It seemed as if I were playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I looked over at Lillian in sheer helplessness. As if she were reading the letter with me. It was an unconscious gesture, born of my utter bewilderment at Dicky's words. What he meant—what he was trying to convey to me—I had not the slightest idea.

For Lillian wasn't looking at me. With characteristic consideration she had drawn William to the other side of the room, and was pointing out to him from the window the different buildings on the hospital grounds, thus leaving me unheeded to read my letter.

I dropped my eyes to the written page again. There were but few more words. I read them quickly—resentfully.

"By the way, there is a bundle of manuscripts, some photographs and stuff, belonging to Edith Fairfax, in the second lower drawer of my chiffonier. If the drawer is locked you'll find a key hanging on a small nail in the corner of the clothes closet. I meant to have shown them to her, but was called away so suddenly. Would you mind seeing that she gets them? And—please be as kind to her as you can. Always yours, DICKY."

I crumpled the letter in my hand in a sudden childish, futile passion of resentment. Again the bitter contrast came to me—the wounded officer in the next room and my enigmatical husband.

PERSONAL SERVICE CLUB COMPLETES A PROSPEROUS YEAR

Big Increase Over Last Year's Work Encouraging.

May 31 marked the close of another year's work of the Personal Service Club. This club, with sixteen members, has had an average attendance of twelve throughout the year. The ladies were pleased to learn from the year's reports that they had a great increase over the previous year's Red Cross sewing. During the past year the following work has been turned in to Hyman Hall: 265 day shirts, 52 dresses, 137 pyjama suits, 11 convalescent suits, 4 dozen personal property bags, 52 pairs handkerchiefs, 12 pairs hospital socks and 50 sweaters; 51 articles of wearing apparel were made for French children, 120 articles in the Secours Nationale. Eighteen dresses were made for Halifax children & desolate at the time of the disaster.

The club is now responsible for three prisoners of war in place of one the previous year.

White rotary sewing machines were purchased by the club, the ladies finding it most satisfactory to own their own machines.

The club funds have been augmented the past year by a rummage sale, $14.45; collection of pennies, $10.13; revenue from social meetings, $58.16; and fees to the amount of $130.75. This money has been disbursed to help meet the war needs of the day. Electric clocks have been placed at Byron Sanatorium, $225; a gymnasium fitted up at the children's shelter, $15.10; a room furnished at the Salvation Army, $100; and a box for soldiers at the Majestic Theatre, $5.

Over 35,000,000 barrels of fuel oil are annually consumed by railways in the United States. The greater part of oil used in the Gulf and California fields is consumed as fuel.

Now Heave Hoe, Men

This is the way the war gardeners here are pulling to dig out a big crop and beat the hawker with food. "Go to it, boys."

By Genevieve Kemble
SATURDAY, JUNE 15.

With the two most powerful of beneficent, Sol and Jupiter, in conjunction, this should be a day of signal achievement and gratification bringing health, wealth, fame, new and powerful friendships and affiliations, and most desirable material attachments to those who deserve. Indeed, the latter prospect is blessed out of the ordinary by the gracious assistance of Luna (Psyche) in trine aspect with the lover star, Venus. Under such combination, heavenly influence all affairs of the heart and home, as well as artistic and social circles, should flourish, giving happiness and good fortune. Saturn helps out by promising to remove old disappointments and obstructions, but Mercury, under affliction, makes it an unpropitious time for signing papers, contracts, etc., and bids beware the slanderer.

Those whose birthday it is will have a year of splendid success, with new friends and increase in health, happiness and fortune. A child born this day will be generous, affectionate, popular and will rise in life.

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Unbidden, there rose before my mental vision a picture of the wounded officer in the next room, a man who was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I looked over at Lillian in sheer helplessness. As if she were reading the letter with me. It was an unconscious gesture, born of my utter bewilderment at Dicky's words. What he meant—what he was trying to convey to me—I had not the slightest idea.

For Lillian wasn't looking at me. With characteristic consideration she had drawn William to the other side of the room, and was pointing out to him from the window the different buildings on the hospital grounds, thus leaving me unheeded to read my letter.

I dropped my eyes to the written page again. There were but few more words. I read them quickly—resentfully.

"By the way, there is a bundle of manuscripts, some photographs and stuff, belonging to Edith Fairfax, in the second lower drawer of my chiffonier. If the drawer is locked you'll find a key hanging on a small nail in the corner of the clothes closet. I meant to have shown them to her, but was called away so suddenly. Would you mind seeing that she gets them? And—please be as kind to her as you can. Always yours, DICKY."

I crumpled the letter in my hand in a sudden childish, futile passion of resentment. Again the bitter contrast came to me—the wounded officer in the next room and my enigmatical husband.

Unbidden, there rose before my mental vision a picture of the wounded officer in the next room, a man who was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I looked over at Lillian in sheer helplessness. As if she were reading the letter with me. It was an unconscious gesture, born of my utter bewilderment at Dicky's words. What he meant—what he was trying to convey to me—I had not the slightest idea.

For Lillian wasn't looking at me. With characteristic consideration she had drawn William to the other side of the room, and was pointing out to him from the window the different buildings on the hospital grounds, thus leaving me unheeded to read my letter.

I dropped my eyes to the written page again. There were but few more words. I read them quickly—resentfully.

"By the way, there is a bundle of manuscripts, some photographs and stuff, belonging to Edith Fairfax, in the second lower drawer of my chiffonier. If the drawer is locked you'll find a key hanging on a small nail in the corner of the clothes closet. I meant to have shown them to her, but was called away so suddenly. Would you mind seeing that she gets them? And—please be as kind to her as you can. Always yours, DICKY."

I crumpled the letter in my hand in a sudden childish, futile passion of resentment. Again the bitter contrast came to me—the wounded officer in the next room and my enigmatical husband.

Unbidden, there rose before my mental vision a picture of the wounded officer in the next room, a man who was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

The best you can get

DAILY BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

16. Verses 23-32—What is the degree of guilt of those that taunt a dying man, no matter what his character?

17. Why should you say, or not, that these priests thought they were pleasing God in crucifying Jesus? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

18. Verses 33-35—Had God actually forsaken Jesus, or was it the aspect he bore that made Jesus think so? Give your reasons.

Golden Text—Truly this Man was the Son of God. Mark xv. 39.

JESUS WAS THE SON OF GOD. All the tests which we apply to evidence, which bring us decisions concerning matters of fact, have been applied to Jesus Christ, and have produced the universal conviction that Jesus was the Son of God. His coming was foretold by the prophets hundreds of years before He came. His life and His death, His death, His resurrection from the dead, and His final triumph over sin and Satan, all evidence that He was the Son of God, but the supreme test in what He has done for us who trust in Him.

You will agree that a satisfying cup of tea is economical at five cups for a cent, yet that is at the genuine Salada. Low-priced teas actually cost you more, for they yield far less in the teapot, and, of course, have not that delicious flavor.

Over 35,000,000 barrels of fuel oil are annually consumed by railways in the United States. The greater part of oil used in the Gulf and California fields is consumed as fuel.

Now Heave Hoe, Men

This is the way the war gardeners here are pulling to dig out a big crop and beat the hawker with food. "Go to it, boys."

By Genevieve Kemble
SATURDAY, JUNE 15.

With the two most powerful of beneficent, Sol and Jupiter, in conjunction, this should be a day of signal achievement and gratification bringing health, wealth, fame, new and powerful friendships and affiliations, and most desirable material attachments to those who deserve. Indeed, the latter prospect is blessed out of the ordinary by the gracious assistance of Luna (Psyche) in trine aspect with the lover star, Venus. Under such combination, heavenly influence all affairs of the heart and home, as well as artistic and social circles, should flourish, giving happiness and good fortune. Saturn helps out by promising to remove old disappointments and obstructions, but Mercury, under affliction, makes it an unpropitious time for signing papers, contracts, etc., and bids beware the slanderer.

Those whose birthday it is will have a year of splendid success, with new friends and increase in health, happiness and fortune. A child born this day will be generous, affectionate, popular and will rise in life.

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Unbidden, there rose before my mental vision a picture of the wounded officer in the next room, a man who was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I looked over at Lillian in sheer helplessness. As if she were reading the letter with me. It was an unconscious gesture, born of my utter bewilderment at Dicky's words. What he meant—what he was trying to convey to me—I had not the slightest idea.

For Lillian wasn't looking at me. With characteristic consideration she had drawn William to the other side of the room, and was pointing out to him from the window the different buildings on the hospital grounds, thus leaving me unheeded to read my letter.

I dropped my eyes to the written page again. There were but few more words. I read them quickly—resentfully.

"By the way, there is a bundle of manuscripts, some photographs and stuff, belonging to Edith Fairfax, in the second lower drawer of my chiffonier. If the drawer is locked you'll find a key hanging on a small nail in the corner of the clothes closet. I meant to have shown them to her, but was called away so suddenly. Would you mind seeing that she gets them? And—please be as kind to her as you can. Always yours, DICKY."

I crumpled the letter in my hand in a sudden childish, futile passion of resentment. Again the bitter contrast came to me—the wounded officer in the next room and my enigmatical husband.

Unbidden, there rose before my mental vision a picture of the wounded officer in the next room, a man who was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I turned to utter some words of bitterness, but I entered into the loving thoughts of my husband which his reputation for the next room, a man was playing a real man's part in the greatest of all world struggles. It hurt me cruelly, this contrast of the two men which was thrust upon me.

I looked over at Lillian in sheer helplessness. As if she were reading the letter with me. It was an unconscious gesture, born of my utter bewilderment at Dicky's words. What he meant—what he was trying to convey to me—I had not the slightest idea.

For Lillian wasn't looking at me. With characteristic consideration she had drawn William to the other side of the room, and was pointing out to him from the window the different buildings on the hospital grounds, thus leaving me unheeded to read my letter.

I dropped my eyes to the written page again. There were but few more words. I read them quickly—resentfully.

SPECIAL VALUES FOR SATURDAY BUYERS at GRAY'S

Special Value in Corsets, Underwear and Hosiery

30 Dozen D. and A. Corsets, $1.00 a Pair

D. and A. Corsets, medium bust, long free hips, four hose supporters, sizes 19 to 30; quality, style and shapeliness; at a price to meet present-day demand. $1.00 pair

D. and A. Good Shape Brassiere, 50c

A Necessity of Health, a Luxury of Style. D. and A. Good Shape Brassieres, hooked in front or tie-around style, embroidery trimmed top, sizes 32 to 44 50c

Cool Underwear for Warm Days

Ladies' Extra O. S. Vests, short sleeves and sleeveless. Special value 50c each

Ladies' Fine Knit Combinations

Plain band top or fancy yoke, short sleeves and cummy-cut sleeveless $1.00 suit

Children's White Cotton Vests

Short sleeves and sleeveless, all sizes, 2 to 12 years. Prices 15c, 20c, 25c each

Boys' Fine Weave Suits

Short sleeves, knee length, sizes 6 to 16 years. Special price $1.00 suit

Hosiery For Ladies, Girls and Boys

Quality and Comfort and Popular Prices. Ladies' Silk-Ankle Hose, full-fashioned spliced heel and toe, colors black or white. Price 50c pair

Gorden Silk Hose

Lisle top, heel and toe; colors, grey, white, black and African brown. Special value $1.50 pair

Boys' Ribbed Black Cotton Hose

Triple heels and toes, sizes 6 to 10. Sale price 39c pair

Saturday Specials in Staple Dept.

EVERY ITEM AN EXCEPTIONAL VALUE

Bordered Tablecloths, two Bordered Tablecloths, 2x2 1/2 yards square, at $2.25 each | Bordered Tablecloths, 2x2 1/2 yards square, at $2.95 each | yards, at $3.50 each

20 and 22 inch Table Napkins, Special | Two special-priced White Bath Towels, plain hemmed 25c each | 65c and 79c pair

Nice Wedding Presents

See our Eiderdown Comforters, dainty new patterns and colorings. Don't delay. We cannot duplicate these values. Prices $7.95, $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $18.95

Large-Size English Marseilles Bedspreads. Specially priced at $5.50

Gray's Limited

Agents for the Ladies' Home Journal Patterns. 140 DUNDAS STREET. PHONES 115, 116.

Patriotic Western Ontario

Address All News for This Column to the Editor of the Women's Page.

CAYUGA.—The annual summer picnic and meeting of the Women's and Farmers' Institutes of Haldimand County was held in the Methodist Church, Cayuga. The attendance was good, 60 being present, and both afternoon and forenoon sessions were marked by great enthusiasm. The morning session was devoted to hearing the reports from the 24 branch societies of the county, each of which was represented, and in every case the report was of splendid work done and most encouraging to the officers. In the afternoon Dr. Culver addressed the gathering on "Health Inspection in Schools." Her remarks were conclusively expressed, and much enjoyed, as she covered her subject well. J. W. Clark of Cayuga then spoke on "Gannur," and gave his hearers some splendid pointers on this most reasonable and important subject. Lunch was served at noon in the basement of the church, and during the afternoon Mrs. C. M. Howard gave two vocal numbers to the much to the enjoyment of the audience.

COLDSTREAM.—The Coldstream Women's Institute held its annual meeting recently, the president and secretary being elected for a few months. Mrs. R. E. Owen was made vice-president. The financial report for the Red Cross showed receipts to be $283.73, expenditures $223.72, with a balance of $60.01. The total number of socks knit was 668, and 55 suits of pyjamas were made. At the mass meeting of the farmers of Middlesex the institute served lunch and took up a collection, amounting to $75. A canvass, which closed two weeks later, resulted in $35.45. On June 17 Miss Graydon will address the summer meeting at Coldstream town hall, and all ladies are cordially invited to attend the afternoon session at 2:30 o'clock.

WILTON GROVE.—The annual meeting of the East Middlesex District Women's Institute was held in the courthouse, with a fair attendance, the president, Mrs. James Angus, in the chair. The various reports of the year's work showed progress and earnest effort along all lines of patriotic work, the treasurer's report showing that about $4,000 had been raised by the branches. The old officers were re-elected, after which a very pleasing feature of the meeting was an address given by Mr. Cummer of Thorncliffe, formerly chaplain in England. Mr. Cummer, after speaking on "Women's Part in the Great War," took occasion to commend the work of the Y. M. C. A. at the front, as he personally knew of it, and denounced as unfair and unjust the criticism in certain quarters. Miss Duffin gave a reading which was much appreciated by all.

When You Want Flowers, Think of WEST FLORAL COMPANY

Phone 2187. 249 Dundas Street. VEGETABLES

New Beets, per bunch 10c
New Carrots, per bunch 10c
White Onions, per Dutch 10c
Head Lettuce, per bunch 10c
Leaf Lettuce, crisp 10c
Asparagus, per bunch 10c
Tomatoes, choice, hothouse, lb. 50c
Spinach, fresh, lb. 10c
Rhubarb, red, per bunch 10c
Cucumbers, choice, hothouse 20c
Whitloof, or French Endive 15c
Parsley, Watercress and Mint 10c
Horseradish, lb. 30c. 4 lbs. for $1.00
Tomato, Cabbage (Hard, Red and Savoy), Cauliflower and Brussels Sprout Plants.

MAIN & COLLYER Telephone 2831. P. O. Box 275.

POLLY AND HER PALS.—And Ma Is Perfectly Right, Too.

