

It's a "Clean-Up" Sale

Over $100,000.00 Worth of High Class Furs to Be Disposed of

There is only one good term that we can apply to this sale and that is a general "clean up." We have taken stock and we find that we are going to carry over altogether too much. So we are taking the only real good and sure way to lighten that stock---By cutting prices.

Now cutting prices at this particular time means a great deal to you for there has been an enormous advance in the price of all furs in London, England. The price of Canadian mink alone has advanced one dollar per pelt. This sale offers you a chance that will positively never come again. Next year there will be at least fifty per cent. advance in every fur.

Every thing in fur in the big showrooms is reduced from twenty per cent. up. AND REMEMBER THERE IS NO OLD STOCK, ALL THIS SEASON'S FURS AND, WITH FEW EXCEPTIONS, EVERY GARMENT MADE ON THE PREMISES. THE SALE IS FOR CASH ONLY. YOU SHOULD CALL AND SEE THE WAY GOODS ARE MARKED.

All Reduced---All Good Furs and All New

Men's Coonskin Coats, splendid value, $35.00. Another superior line at $50.00.

Men's Fur-lined Coats, with German Otter Col-lars and Lapels, and lined with marmot, $30.00.

Men's Fur-lined Coats, lined with muskrat and with otter or Persian collars and lapels, $40.00.

We cannot impress too strongly upon you the fact that all fur is steadily going up in price and that the latest reports from the London market show the advance is no small item, in some cases being one hundred per cent. Canadian mink, the most popular of all furs, is quoted at one dollar a skin higher this month than ever before. To buy any kind of fur to-day and especially at this sale is an investment worth considering.

JURY UNABLE TO LEARN WHY ENGINE LEFT TRACK

Inquest Into Sunday's Wreck—Elgar Choir's Fine Program—Boxing Bout Gives Good Sport.

HAMILTON, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury, inquired into the Sunday morning wreck on the T. H. & B. spur line, in which Henry Rumble, the engineer, was killed, brought in a verdict to-night, to the effect that Rumble came to his death by being crushed by his engine, but that they were unable to discover what caused the engine to leave the tracks.

The Elgar Choir, conducted by Bruce A. Carey, gave the first of its sixth annual series of concerts this evening in the Grand Opera House, which was crowded, and scored another triumph. It was assisted by the Buffalo Orchestral Society and Mrs. Barnes-Holmes, Buffalo. The work attempted to-night was the Angelus (Chaminade), arranged by Mr. Carey, and Sea Drift, a choral rhapsody (S. Coleridge-Taylor). The choir will give another concert Wednesday evening, assisted by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

Andrew Lewis, 331 East Ferry-street, was arrested to-night charged with re-sulting George Mason and with being drunk and disorderly.

The Boxing Bout.
The three boxing bouts put on in the drill hall to-night, under the auspices of the Army Medical Corps, drew a big house and gave a good evening's sport. The main event was a ten-round bout between Frank Carroll, Toronto, and Jack Brennan, Philadelphia. It was declared a draw, but Carroll had clearly the best of it and would have been given the decision had it not been agreed between him and Brennan that the contest was to be a draw on account of the fact that clean breaks were insisted upon, and Brennan said that he could not adapt himself to that style of boxing, being accustomed to hitting with one hand free.

There were two preliminaries. Hunt and Britton boxed four rounds to a draw and Nott, Brantford, got the decision over Artie Fair, Hamilton. It was supposed to be a six-round bout, but Fair hurt his wrist in the fourth round and was unable to continue, so the decision went to the Brantford man, who Fair was the aggressor. Billy Carroll was the referee.

Call to Kentucky Pastors.
The fact that the Kentucky Pastors' Society church has extended a call to Rev. Felix Taylor, Lexington, Ky., the board of control has discovered that it cannot impose a penalty greater than five per cent. for arrears in taxes.

J. J. Scott, K.C., declines to give the names of those for whom he is acting in the purchase of the Hamilton Gaslight Co. stock, a Toronto broker, is said to be behind the deal. The offer is $110 a share, or $300,000 in addition to assuming the bonded indebtedness of $200,000.

Walter R. Downie, 25 Oxford-street, a T. H. and B. brakeman, was run over by a car last night, losing part of an arm and a leg.

There was a general slump in prices on the Central Market this morning, the price of eggs dropping from 50 to 35 cents a dozen; butter from 22 to 25 cents, and potatoes from 80 to 60 cents a bag.

Judge Snider has awarded Carmelo Scime $661 damages against Colgas Costanza for breach of promise.

UNIONISTS LOST LAST ONE

Gives Liberals a Majority of Their Own in the House.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Liberals won the election at Wick Burgh, which was polled yesterday, from the Unionists, B. Munro defeating Sir A. Blinfield, so they will just have one more member in the new parliament than the Tories, the respective representation being Liberals 274, Unionists 273.

The return of two Conservatives for the north division and west division respectively of Cork County to-day completes the Irish elections. Out of 82 Nationalists in the new house, a dozen of them are followers of Wm. O'Brien.

DISCOVERER OF LLOYD-GEORGE
Something About Staunch Welsh Nationalist, Sir Marchant Williams.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—One of the most striking figures in the national life of Wales is Sir Marchant Williams. He is the personification of Welsh nationalism. He knows no political party and acknowledges no religious sect. His religion is a healthy, vigorous and fervid nationalism.

Altho Sir Marchant is well-known in England as an educationalist, his peculiar province is the national education of Wales. He has gradually raised to a great national force. What the Olympic games were to the Greeks the Eisteddfod is to the Welshman. The former reflected the Greek ideal and tendency to cultivate that sense of physical and moral beauty, which constituted the most potent principle underlying the intellectual life of the Greek. So it may be said that the Eisteddfod reflects the musical, literary and poetic aspirations of the Welsh. When the history of Wales comes to be written according to modern lights it will be seen how much the Eisteddfod has done to discover Lloyd-George. Fifteen years ago Williams wrote to him:

"He is by far the best fitted for the leadership of the Welsh Nationalists in the house of commons. He is quick witted, he is eloquent, he is daring, he has made many conspicuous contributions, but he will survive them all. His rashness and indiscretions are more apparent than real."

Sir Marchant finds scope for his literary activities in the Nationalist, a non-political publication which he was mainly instrumental in bringing into existence. With a vigorous style he reveals in burlesque. He is ruthless in his dissection of human weakness, and yet his praise is free and unconstrained.

Quite recently Sir Marchant published a series of Welsh lyrics entitled "Odlau Serch a Bywyd" ("Songs of Love and Life"). The zeal and passion of this eminent Welshman for the land of his birth have inspired many of his elegies to those departed souls which have helped to make Wales great in the annals of the British empire.

STILL AFTER GUARANTEE

C. N. R. Don't Like to Take "No" for an Answer From Legislature.

A rumor is current at the parliament buildings that Mackenzie & Mann will renew at the present session of the legislature their petition, which was turned down last year, to have the form of provincial aid to a section of the line of the Canadian Northern into the clay belt of northern Ontario changed from a subvention of 4000 acres of land per mile, to a guarantee of the bonds of the railway.

It will be remembered that Premier Whitney was firm last year. "No guarantee" was his ultimatum, and that settled it. Whether the railway officials think they see signs of softening, which might prestage a more favorable answer, or whatever other reason may suffice, the rumor is undoubtedly afloat.

In this connection it is worthy of

AMUSEMENTS.

ONLY ONE FOUND ALIVE

79 MINERS ARE KILLED

Forty Bodies Recovered—Hope Abandoned For All Who Were in the Workings at Explosion.

PRIMERO, Col., Feb. 1.—To-night in Primero, where yesterday the lives of 79 miners were snuffed out by an explosion in the main stop of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co.'s mine, the bodies of 40 victims lie in the temporary morgue installed in the machine shop.

A large force of men still is engaged in restoring ventilation through the mine and hundreds of people are lined about the mouth of the shaft awaiting the recovery of the bodies.

The cause of the disaster is still unknown, and definite information as to the cause is not expected until the mine is completely cleared and an investigation is completed.

Leonardo Virgen, a Mexican, and the only surviving miner, is unable to make a clear statement.

Immediately following the explosion a column of dust and smoke poured out of the main entrance. Large pieces of timber were thrown from the entrance more than a hundred feet, and with such terrible force that a string of cars in the mine mouth was blown from the track.

The huge ventilating fans were put in operation, and within an hour rescuing parties were forcing their way into the gas-filled workings.

A huge cave-in at the mouth of the main stop blocked entrance at that point, but the rescuers followed the hundred yards, gaining entrance to the main stop thru a cross-cut.

It was not until the relief party reached entry A7, on the main stop, that they found the first evidences of the destruction wrought by the explosion. Here about a dozen bodies were encountered, but the rescuers pushed on in the hope of finding signs of life. A little further on the party came across Leonardo Virgen, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning.

As if waking from a deep sleep Virgen opened his eyes and said: "Please may I get home now." Virgen was hurried to the temporary hospital. To-day he had sufficiently recovered to join the ranks of watchers around the mine entrance.

Encouraged by the finding of Virgen, the rescuers worked with renewed energy, hoping to find others alive within the recesses of the mine, but failing in this up to the evening, those still missing were given up as lost.

Early last night local workers had been reinforced by squads of miners from surrounding camps. Rescue work was pushed with frequent reliefs until to-night, this advance guard had pushed within 40 yards of the face of the main stop.

Orders were issued to-day thru officials of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. to issue provisions to families of the victims until a permanent system of relief could be organized.
