Decrease in Enistment.

Since the war began more than three hundred and seventy thousand men bave enlisted in this Dominion. Two hundred thousand are now in the battle line. During the first ten months of the present year, the number sent forward will aggregate one hundred and forty-one thousand. From January 1st to April 15th of this year, the enlistments were at the rate of nearly one thousand per day. Up to the present our forces have been enlisted and organized more rapidly than facilities of transportation and accommodation in Great Britain could be provided.
During the past four months the number of enlistments has greatly decreased, and having regard to future reeds, the time has come for this appeal.
