Ken Flewelling, Clifton Boy, Killed By Gun Discharge
WESTON CRASH IN GERMAN CRASH

MISSILE GOES INTO LAD'S BRAIN

Working With Weapon in Garage With Cyril Wetmore Watching.

WAS ONLY CHILD

Bright Youth, Athletic and Popular - Parents are Prostrated.

A most regrettable accident occurred at Clifton yesterday afternoon when Kenneth Flewelling, aged about 14, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Flewelling, was instantly killed when a shot gun which he was handling was unexpectedly discharged and a bullet entered his right eye and passed through his brain.

At the time of the accident he was in his father's garage with a companion named Cyril Wetmore. The latter said he was sitting on the running board of an automobile and Kenneth was working with the gun. He said he heard a report as the weapon was discharged and saw his companion fall to the floor. Terrified by the appalling affair, he rushed to the house and informed the parents that Kenneth had been injured. They hurried to the garage and there to their horror saw their only child lying dead.

Death instantaneous. Hopes against hope that life was not yet extinct and that something might yet be done by tenderly picking up the child and carrying him into the house. Dr. Atchison of Kingston was immediately summoned but on his arrival he announced that death had been instantaneous. Coroner Peters of Robbsey was then summoned and expected to arrive in Clifton this morning.

The unfortunate lad was familiar with the handling of firearms and was reputed to be one of the best shots in that district. Whether or not he knew the shot gun was loaded or just how the accident happened will likely never be known, but it is presumed that he was looking down the barrel of the gun to see if it was clean, when the cartridge exploded.

Ken was a student of grade 8 in Kingston Consolidated school and was one of the most popular boys in that district. He participated in various forms of athletics and won honors in many competitions held among the students. He was of a pleasing disposition and was beloved by his boyhood friends as well as by the residents of Clifton and Kingston.

News of the accident quickly spread and neighbors hurried to the home of his friends to tender their sympathy. The parents are prostrated with grief. The blow is especially hard as he was their only child and the pride of their lives. His death has cast a gloom over the entire district. Arrangements for his funeral had not been made this morning.

Word of the accident was wired to relatives in the United States and his grandmother, Mrs. N. N. Puddington who was visiting in Lowell, Mass., was expected to arrive in the city today enroute to Clifton.

GRAND TRUNK SUPERINTENDENT SAYS DOCKS THERE WILL SEE RUSH.

Portland, Me., Nov. 5.—Superintendent A. B. McNaughton of the Grand Trunk Railroad, who came here from Montreal to witness the docking of the passenger ships, predicts a busy season at the Grand Trunk docks this winter. He says that in addition to 250,000 bushels of grain now on the way here from Canadian points, other large amounts will soon follow. Some 200 cars of grain were received at the Grand Trunk elevators last week, the first that has reached here this fall. Rogers & Webb of Boston, who for several winters have operated a freight service between Portland, Antwerp and Rotterdam, will continue it during the season of 1923-24. As usual grain will be the principal item in the cargoes of the steamers loading at this port for the places mentioned, but heavier shipments of miscellaneous freight are anticipated than have been the case in previous years.

Woman Battles With New York Gunman

New York, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Catherine Reynolds battled with a gunman who shot her husband, Francis Reynolds, early today, and held him until the police arrived. The gunman was one of three who entered Reynolds' restaurant as he was talking with his wife and five of their patrons. The leader of the trio ordered Reynolds to put his hands up, but he leaped at him instead. Three shots brought him down. Before the gunman could turn his weapon on the others, Mrs. Reynolds was upon him, wrestling him to the floor and taking his gun from him. He said he was Louis Wetmore, a laborer.

Waldie, 29, former teller at the Amherstburg branch of the Bank of Commerce, was freed on Saturday by a jury at Sandwich on charges of receiving part of $6,000 stolen from a mail car near Amherstburg two years ago. BONAR LAW IS AT REST IN ABBEY

PRINCE PALLBEARER

Beaverbrook Also is One—Impressive Service at the Funeral Today.

(By Canadian Press.)

London, Nov. 5.—The ashes of Andrew Bonar Law, who was for seven months Premier of Great Britain, but perhaps the most modest man upon whom that honor was ever conferred, were entombed today in Great Westminster Abbey.

In this shrine, wherein the nation holds its most sacred rituals, both solemn and happy—coronations, weddings and funerals—was assembled a distinguished company of nearly 3,000 persons representing all who prize and honor the memory of the late statesman. There were members of the royal family, several hundred members of the House of Commons, members of the diplomatic corps, and numerous leaders in finance and politics from which spheres the late statesman had passed into a life of public life.

Also there were present many persons whose names are familiar to the readers of this paper in literature and the arts. "British" soldiers, thousands of whom had written their names on the Abbey in the hope of being fortunate enough to gain admission.

Recalls Gladstone's Funeral. Except for a few men in uniform, there was no suggestion of the glitter or regalia and jewels which makes a spectacle of coronations and state weddings, for nearly everyone in the vast congregation wore mourning black. The minds of many present went back to that former day when Gladstone, who ruled for many years as Premier, was laid to rest in the old Abbey, and by the dean, clergy and the choir, King Edward, gave his arm to the widow beside the grave.

The service of the Church of England was carried out today without the musical accessories arranged for Gladstone's funeral. The choir, made memorable to musicians by one of the rare renderings of the quartette for tom-toms which has seldom been heard in a century.

Thousands of people lined the streets to witness the short procession as it passed by the church to the Abbey. The pall-bearers joined in the cortege a short way from its destination.

The service was conducted by the Dean of Westminster, the Right Rev. Herbert Edward Kelly, and preacher, The Archbishop of Canterbury, head of the state church pronounced the blessing.

During the moments of waiting before the noon hour strain, Bethoven's funeral march and "The Rag" were played on the organ. As the coffin was brought through the great west door of the Abbey it was borne by the dean, clergy and the choir, with the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Bearing the casket were four non-commissioned officers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers and four from the Royal Air Force. They represented the organizations to which belonged the two sons of Mr. Law, who last their lives in the world war.

Prince is Pallbearer. The congregation rose as the coffin was borne through the nave and the choir to a position in front of the altar. Ten pall bearers walked behind the casket. They were the Prince of Wales, representing King George; Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin; Hon. John Henry Whitley, the Speaker of the House of Commons; Former Premier Balfour and Asquith; Viscount Fitzalan, former Lord Lieutenant and Governor General of Ireland; Lords Carson and Beaverbrook; and Austin Chamberlain and Ramsay MacDonald, Viscount Pitt. CALLS WAR GRAVES POORLY DESIGNED Maine Representative Found U. S. Burial Sites in Europe Ugly.

Portland, Me., Nov. 5.—The plains upon which the American cemeteries in France were designed are "lamentably inadequate and characterized by a false economy," according to Representative A. Platt Andrews, of Gloucester, Mass., who arrived here on the United States liner President Taft. Mr. Andrews said he found that the work of leveling and planting of trees and shrubs was being carried on expeditiously and will be completed soon. Much of the delay in completing this part of the work was caused by the removal of the 46,000 bodies taken to the United States and the subsequent necessary removal of those remaining.

"I visited all seven of the American cemeteries," he said, "and have no criticism to offer in regard to the Graves Registration Service in France. They have had an immense and difficult task to perform, and they have done better than Spentinihas was shot in the leg and arrested.

TO EXHUME REMAINS OF FIVE HUNDRED

Quebec Cemetery to go to Make Way For Construction Work.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—Progress respects neither living nor dead, and to make place for the waters of the Chicoutimi and Des Sables rivers, which are to be regulated by $2,000,000 dams under construction at Kenogami, near Chicoutimi, not only will the residents of the parish of St. Cyrille, a small village, have to move away, as previously decided, but even the ashes of their ancestors must be disturbed. Such is the decision arrived at by the Running Streams Commission.

Tenders are called for the exhumation of some five hundred bodies, all that remains of some of the pioneer settlers who in the last forty years passed away, after devoting their lives to the opening of the Lake St. John and Chicoutimi district.

The bodies will be interred either in a new cemetery at a short distance or taken to other parishes. The work will be accomplished before the end of the present year, the cold season being appropriate, and also because by this time next year water will cover their opened graves.

Permission will have to be obtained from the civil courts for the removal of each body, as the law provides that the last repose of the dead must not be violated without the authorization of the Superior Court, and this for very serious reasons.

While the dead are not concerned with the doling of the commission, their sons are disputing foot by foot their land, and in several cases it will be necessary to resort to expropriation, as the demands for compensation are too high.

Row Starts Over Arrest of Hanger-on at a Pool Room.

(By Canadian Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—A riot in which two policemen were stabbed and an assailant shot, spread three blocks in Harlem's "Little Italy" yesterday afternoon when 2,000 enraged men battled with the police. The miniature war was precipitated by the arrest of a poolroom hanger-on at 111th street and Second avenue, who refused a patrolman's order to move. The riot spread and soon had the detective and policeman backed against a house. A second policeman came to their aid and was stabbed in the back. Meanwhile a riot call was sent in but until after the policeman and the detective were showered with bricks and stones from the tops of tenement houses. The mob was dispersed by the reserves after a ten minute hand-to-hand fight.

The bird's score was the same as another Hollywood Poultry Farm bird which stands in third place, but the Barred Rock won out on size of egg.

POLICEMAN'S LEAP STOPS A RUNAWAY

Pursues Horse on Bicycle for Six Blocks, Then Jumps on Its Neck.

New York, Nov. 5.—A well-populated section of Brooklyn got a thrill when a frightened horse bolted and ran six blocks with its wagon while a patrolman raced after it on a bicycle. Irving Miller, driver for the Blake Wet Wash Laundry Company, had left his wagon at the curb at Blake and Sheffield avenues, with a chain thrown around a wheel as a brake. As he unfastened the chain his horse shied and started down the street before he could stop it. Patrolman Maurice Healy jumped a bicycle and started in pursuit. He was half a block behind. The horse, with the wagon swaying dangerously, crossed Pennsylvania avenue. There was another wagon directly in the path of the runaway. The runaway horse swerved just enough to clear itself. The laundry wagon side-swiped the other, and the driver, Leslie Fox, was hurled from his seat to the street. This slowed down the runaway and Healy began to gain.

Five blocks further, at Miller avenue, he left the bicycle in a flying leap for the horse's neck. He caught hold and hung on, while the animal dragged him half a block before he could stay it.

Healy was taken to Bradford Street Hospital, where it was found that his ankle and wrist had been sprained, and he had been only slightly cut on the chin.

COLLAPSE OF MARKET HITS MANY

United States and English Financial Men Suffer Big Loss.

GERMANY GAINER

Thousands of Dollars of Small Investors are Swept Away.

(By Canadian Press.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Between $500,000,000 and $750,000,000 has been lost by U. S. investors through the collapse of the German market, the Tribune states today. English investors lost about $500,000,000 and other countries a like amount, the newspaper continues, declaring that Germany not only repudiated its national debt, but had been the gainer to the extent of about $2,000,000,000.

The loss includes the funds of thousands of small investors, it was said, many of them German-Americans who bought marks at one and two cents each, in the belief that they would recover. It also includes money invested in German bonds payable in paper money.

Doubt Is Expressed. Francis R. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Co., expressed doubt as to whether Germany would be able to establish a stable currency before a basis for a settlement of the reparations question was decided upon, the Tribune states, quoting him as follows: "I do not believe the decline of the mark to its present stage of weakness was due to a deliberate plot on the part of Germany to evade responsibility for its paper money. The decline of the mark began soon after war was declared, and it has declined ever since as a result of Germany's economic condition."

BRIDAL PAIR DEAD

Probably Overcome by Gas While Young Wife Was Preparing Breakfast.

New York, Nov. 5.—Joseph Martino, 26 years old, and his bride of a few weeks, Alina Martino, 24 years old, were found dead, lying fully dressed across the bed, with the table set for breakfast. The house was filled with gas.

It is believed that the wife was preparing breakfast, unaware of escaping gas, and that both, feeling dizzy, lay down for a moment and were overcome. Martino was a builder with an office in Jamaica. About three months ago he was overcome by gas but was revived. The bodies were found by Joseph Santamaria, a tailor, who occupied the second floor of the two-family house. He smelled the fumes and entered the apartment.

REACH AGREEMENT

Washington Hears That British, Italy and Belgium Favor Experts Conference.

Washington, Nov. 5.—State department advices indicate that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have reached an agreement favoring a free and full reparations inquiry by an expert committee.

In effect the position of these three countries, as understood here, coincides with that taken by the U. S., and opposes the stand for a restricted inquiry only taken by France.

This development, indicating an entirely new alignment of the European allies over the reparations question, appeared to stimulate hope here that eventually the French, too, would accept an unrestricted programme of inquiry rather than risk diplomatic isolation. Heretofore both Belgium and Italy have followed the French lead in most of the questions affecting reparations.

Administration spokesmen declared today to indicate the probable attitude of the Washington Government in case the French Government—insisting its position.
