LOCAL NEWS

COUNTRY SCHOOLS STARTED MONDAY.

The rural schools throughout the province commenced study on last Monday. A good attendance is reported.

IS THIS A TRUE SIGN?

They say that one of the sure signs of a severe winter in store is a bountiful supply of bitter red rowan berries. If this be true the coming season will be a hard one for it has been a good many years since the rowan trees have borne such bunches of fruit.

REMANDED FOR SENTENCE.

In chambers on Tuesday before Judge Armstrong, George Minette pleaded guilty under the Speedy Trials Act to an indictment charging him with a serious offence. He is not yet ten years old. His Honor remanded the prisoner for sentence. The information in this case was laid before Magistrate Adams by Rev. George Scott, agent for the Children's Aid Society, on August 12. The preliminary examination was conducted at Brookville, when County Secretary J. King Kelley, honorary counsel for the society, appeared in its behalf. Application will be made soon to have the little girl committed to the Maritime Home for Girls in Truro.

FAIRVILLE PEOPLE

HALED TO COURT ON CHARGE OF TRESPASS

C. P. R. Brings Cases and There Are Some Developments Promised

Thirty-one persons, including men, women and children, were in Magistrate Allingham's court in Fairville this morning charged by the C. P. R. with trespassing on the railway tracks, on Labor Day. The particular spot where the alleged trespassing occurred is where Fairville people have crossed the track for the last thirty-five years or more to take what is locally known as the short cut to Milford, going via the old Woodman field.

Warden Golding was present at the hearing, as well as J. King Kelley, county secretary, and Councillor John O'Brien. It is contended that old plans show a right of way over the tracks near the place where the trespassing took place, and on hearing the views of the officials the magistrate dismissed the case for the present, with the understanding that the councillors would take up the matter further with the railway commission.

Local people contend that the proper right of way across the tracks was originally planned by Station street, a cross street at the left, running parallel to Prospect street and from there over the tracks and on to the river. This route has never been used, as in the old days practically all the traffic was on the way to Milford or the mills in the vicinity and the path through the old Woodman field was the best for the purpose.

Added interest in this morning's case developed when the two C. P. R. men who laid the information of trespassing, also charged local people with not carrying their registration cards. The magistrate is said to have struck a fine of $5 in these cases.

The military authorities are now said to be on the lookout for the C. P. R. men to ascertain if they had the proper credentials and authority to demand the registration cards and if not they are taking action against the men who laid the information.

SEPTEMBER BRIDES

Driscoll-Carlgen.

In the Cathedral, Waterloo street, at 6 o'clock this morning Miss Anna Elizabeth Carlgen, daughter of the late Lars and Elizabeth Carlgen, was united in marriage to Thomas Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Driscoll. Nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis Walker, who performed the marriage ceremony in the presence of an assemblage fully representative of the friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was given in marriage by James L. Riordan and looked expectant in a suit of sand color with hat corresponding. She wore white fox and held a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Carlgen was attended by Miss Madeline Driscoll, sister of the groom, and Andrew Driscoll, brother of the groom. The sumptuous affair of the guests made the scene truly a pretty one. Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll and guests were tendered a tempting breakfast at No. 28 Peters street, the home of Mr. Riordan, where the bride had been residing, and later went to their own home, 71 High street, North End.

The gifts showered upon them were generous in number and marked by quality and usefulness. They included a check from the bride's brother in Halifax, furniture, cut glass, silverware and other home necessities and adornments.

Duerr-Sugrue.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's Baptist church this morning, when the pastor, Rev. Francis J. McMurray, united in marriage Miss Teresa Geraldine Sugrue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sugrue, and William Frederick Duerr of New York. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a pretty tailored traveling suit of grey with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet of roses. She was unattended. Following the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sugrue, where a dainty wedding breakfast had been prepared. Mr. and Mrs. Duerr left on a honeymoon trip through Nova Scotia, returning via the Annapolis Valley. They will reside at 208 Britain street. The groom is assistant superintendent of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery. Both he and his bride were the recipients of a large number of magnificent presents.

LAMB BROUGHT $17

Moncton Transcript.—The present high cost of living is vindicated in the price which farmers are this season receiving for their lambs. It is reported that recently Palmer Rogers, of Lutes Mountain, brought to Moncton a lamb which netted him the sum of $17. Only a few years ago farmers thought themselves extremely fortunate if they could secure $8 for a lamb.

HONORS WON BY SON OF FORMER ST. JOHN MAN WITH AMERICANS

Captain Medley Whelpley Prominently Mentioned for a Good Bit of Work

There are many who will remember Charles Whelpley, a speedy skater of twenty or more years ago here, and they will be pleased to learn that one of his boys has been bringing credit to the name in the big war. Mr. Whelpley has been for some years located at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he is a prominent practicing physician. Two of his sons are in American uniforms, one, Captain Medley G. B. Whelpley, in the artillery service in France, and the other, a younger brother, in the navy. The Evening Gazette of Cedar Rapids, Aug. 26, says:

"Captain Medley Whelpley, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Whelpley of Cedar Rapids, was prominently mentioned in the cable despatches from the battle-front yesterday as the result of a daring exploit in which Captain Whelpley and four companions cleaned out a German filtering group, and captured four prisoners."

"A story of the raid by Captain Whelpley and his men was cabled to the New York Sun and Chicago Herald-Examiner by Thomas M. Johnson, special correspondent at the front for these papers. The paragraph relating to the Cedar Rapids officer is as follows:—

"Get Four Prisoners." "One of the most remarkable exploits was that of Captain Medley G. B. Whelpley, an artillery officer, who went forward to form a liaison and who volunteered to reconnoitre a position on the left. He started off with four men and returned soon with not only the information sought, but with four German prisoners. The party ran into one of the filtering groups of the enemy, killed nine by rifle fire and took the rest prisoners."

Conductor Ernest Whelpley of the C. P. R. here is an uncle of the gallant young officer. The latter numbers personal friends here, for while born in the United States, he used to come here to spend a vacation with his grandparents. When he was fifteen or sixteen he was in training at Camp Sussex for the soldier strain was in him. And it surely has well developed.

FELT LIKE GOING TO HIS SCHOOL AGAIN

St. John Friends Enjoying Visit of Former Principal Parlee

Ex-Principal Parlee of various schools in the city until four years ago, under whose tuition many a man of today received his educational grounding, has been in town for a few days visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Parlee is making his home, since his retirement from school life, in a pretty little Massachusetts village near Fitchburg, where he resides with his sister. In conversation with a Times reporter he said it seemed as if he should be rushing off to some school building where he saw the thousands of boys and girls wending their way back to study on Tuesday and the sight was not without its sentimental emotions.

Mr. Parlee speaks highly of the spirit with which the American people are taking up war burdens and is happy to know the two adjoining nations on this continent are now so closely knit in feeling and a common enemy. While taxes accumulate even in the land of the free there seems to be no serious complaint. On a property in which the former St. John teacher is interested in Massachusetts the taxes have increased almost 800 per cent in a very short while.

WILL BE MUCH MISSED

Retirement of Miss Kate Bartlett From St. John School Life

The retirement of Miss Kate Bartlett from the school life of St. John is a matter of much regret among pupils and fellow workers in teaching staffs, and also among parents who have learned the lady's sterling worth for some years past. Miss Bartlett is a lady of exceptional talent. Before assuming the principalship of the household science department in Waterloo street she devoted herself to a large number of pupils in the senior grades where she taught a great many pupils during her tenure of office. In the household science branch her efforts to inculcate the rudiments of good housekeeping were crowned with success every term and it was one of the delights of school life for girls to have her instruct them in the kindly and understandable manner which always marked her teaching.

A lady of unusual graciousness, the retiring teacher was an inspiration to her pupils and it was seldom necessary to exercise the disciplining measures to which teachers are so often forced to resort even with girls learning how to cook and keep house properly. Miss Bartlett's resignation removes another factor that has helped make St. John conspicuous in the public school life of the dominion and Superintendent Bridges must certainly regret the loss as keenly as any. Miss Bartlett is making her home in Hampton.

FAMILIES GOING TO THE COUNTRY

Now and again there crops up word that some family has succumbed to the high cost of living in the city and has sought refuge in rural districts where they will be able to take full advantage of Lloyd George's admonition to get back to the land. Within the last month one section of the river districts alone, a rear tier of farm lands near Wickham, has had its population increased to the extent of four families who have moved from the city. These families consist of middle-aged parents and healthy boys and girls are taking up farming with alacrity.

This "back to the land" idea is also being taken up by business men's families to some extent in the suburbs of St. John but more particularly in this case to evade high rents in town or to secure suitable quarters. It is quite probable that this autumn, and on a larger scale next spring, will see a boom in suburban homes of the all-the-year-around type.
