

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

BASEBALL

Yesterday's Big League Games

National League

At Brooklyn—Brooklyn-New York, 2.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia-Boston, 2.
At Cincinnati—Cincinnati-Pittsburg, 2.
At St. Louis—St. Louis, 2; Chicago, 0.

American League

At Boston—(1st game)—Philadelphia, 2.
Second game—Philadelphia, 6; Boston, 0.
At New York—New York-Washington, 2.
At Chicago—Chicago-St. Louis, 2.
At Detroit—Detroit-Cleveland, 2.

Federal League

At Kansas City—Indianapolis, 7; Kansas City, 2.
At St. Louis—St. Louis, 3; Chicago, 1.
At Pittsburg—Pittsburg-Buffalo, 2.
At Baltimore—Baltimore-Brooklyn, 2.

ING.

Bouts Tonight

Tommy Maloney vs. Joe Chick, 11 rounds.
Eddie Mack vs. Eddie Kelly, 10 rounds.
Tom Gibbons vs. George Brown, 10 rounds.
Joe Mandot vs. Marty McCae, 10 rounds.
A. Cate vs. Jimmy Quinlan, 10 rounds.
Phil McGovern vs. Young McCoy, 10 rounds.

A Clever Exhibition

Sol Gallett and George Garnett, two young local boxers, gave a clever exhibition before the pupils of Jack Power's boxing school last evening. After six rounds of good going, Daniel Connolly, who refereed the bout, declared it a draw. Harry Harley and Murray Keefe; Jim Sullivan and T. Buckley, and Jack and Daley figured in three-round preliminaries, which pleased the large number present.

Murphy to Meet Walsh

"Harlem Tommy" Murphy has been attached for a twenty-round bout with Eddie Walsh, the British champion, to take place in San Francisco in June.

Smith and Carpenter to Meet Again

Georges Carpenter and Gunboat Smith to meet in London in June for a twenty-round contest for a stake of $25,000, and a side bet of $2,500.

Fans Disappointed

The bout in London last night between Bandaman Blake, the English middleweight and Joe Borrell, of Philadelphia, ended in a draw and was decided no contest. Borrell floored Blake; the latter was going to his corner and the blow was declared accidental.

Wolcott and Rivers Matched

Ad Wolcott and Joe Rivers have been attached for a twenty-round battle at Camden, N. J., on the night of May 22. Wolcott stopped Rivers at the same place on July 4, 1912.

ATHLETIC

Duffy Won Boston Marathon

The Boston Marathon, over a course of 26 miles, was won yesterday by Duffy, of Hamilton, Ont., in two hours, twenty-five minutes and one second, or most four minutes slower than the record for the course, 2:21:18.4. Fabre, Montreal, was second, only fifteen seconds behind the winner; Carlson was third, but was disqualified, his place going to Louden, of Dorchester, and Bell, Montreal, came fourth. More than quarter of a million people witnessed the race.

Gardner Wins Again

In last night's game in the English billiard tournament at the Ideal billiard cafe, Gardner won from Thompson, 64 points to 64.

Local Sport Briefs

Despatch says that two games in the American League were postponed yesterday on account of cold. The icy waves seem to be general.

Too bad if the pro. league does not materialize. There are hopes yet, but they are mighty slim. However, if the organization does not go, the St. John ab cannot be blamed; they did all in their power, within reason, to have the clubs come to terms.

Tom Barrett failed to get a championship title in the Boston championships, but he worked his way into the semi-finals. Tom weighed in for the 145-pound class at 136.4, while some of the opponents went the limit.

Canada showed up well in the Boston marathon, getting three out of the first four places.

Gallett and Garnett are two young real boxers, who are expected to make names for themselves. How about their entry into the next American championships?

Kind of backward weather for the off. enthusiasts. They are waiting patiently for a break.

Some Moncton men are considering re-opening of a swimming tank that will be open to the public all the year round. With St. John's lack of bathing places, and the difficulty experienced in reaching those that are available, how would this suggestion work out?

Tom Daly, a former North End boy, who distinguished himself in the world's cup of the Giants and White Sox, is keeping up the good work in the American League series.

GLANSON

Shown 23 in. Standard 23 in. Army 23 in.

Idle Silver Collars

3/4 Size

Box P. 10 & Co. Montreal, 170, N. E.

Jeff Would't Make Very Much of a Farmer

By "Bud" Fisher

BOXING CHAMPIONS OF BRITISH ARMY

These officers were winners in the final contests at Aldershot. Above (left) Lieut. L. H. Jackson, of the 18th Rajputs, winner of the Officers' welterweights. He scored a knockout over Lieut. Cross; (right) Lieut. E. C. E. Smith of the 9th Lancers. He won on points in the heavyweight class over Lieut. V. A. S. Cowley. Below (left) Lieut. B. J. N. Marden of the 9th Lancers, winner in featherweights by the knock-out route from Lieut. P. J. Whitty; (right) Lieut. Sir Ian Colquhoun of the Scots Guards, who defeated Lieut. A. B. Butterworth and retained his title as lightweight champion of the army.

BORROW "CAVE MAN" FASHIONS AND BE STYLISH

A learned college professor is saying that women are not the equal of men, because they still retain their love of the uncivilized and barbaric.

Many of the new fashions that are now exploited in Paris give some semblance to the truth of this.

But in the barbarian countries it is the male and not the female that makes himself beautiful; who decks himself with beads, feathers and other gauds.

The hat shown is called the Igorrote, and its inspiration was the head dress of the Igorrote head hunter whose picture accompanies it.

The cap crown is made a little larger, and a few feathers, instead of a tomahawk, decorate its side, but the beads and general idea are the same, even though the face below the modern head dress is Miss Today and that facing it is the head of a savage.

SAYS UTILITY COMMISSIONS ARE BEING OVERWORKED

So Much Detail Forced on Them That Machinery is Clogged.

Whatever may be said as to the desirability of state or national regulation of public utilities, the administrative difficulties are unquestionably enormous. The amount of detail work put upon the commissions of the various states, by the public utility laws, is so great that it is questionable whether any of these commissions is even yet equipped to make available for intelligent use the vast mass of information, which the utilities are compelled to furnish them. Indeed in many cases, commissions are forced by the very volume of duties imposed upon them to devote their attention to those which they consider the most important and to neglect others of seemingly less importance.

This point was strikingly illustrated to the House Committee on Interstate Commerce during the course of the hearing on the steel car bill.

One speaker advanced the argument that under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the affairs of electric railways would be neglected in favor of the seemingly more important matters connected with steam roads, and pointed out that after six or seven years' jurisdiction over electric railways, the commission paid so little attention to this branch of its work that it was impossible for it to report a list of the electric railways reporting and their mileage.

The administration of the affairs of a single railway company is a work of complexity and magnitude. Multiplied by the number of companies in our larger states it assumes colossal proportions and while regulation is, of course, not administration, in many instances, in some of its aspects, it is fast approaching it and in consequence the detail assumed by the commissions is swamping their forces, clogging their machinery and is responsible for those delays, which are hampering to the companies, annoying to the public, and costly to the state.

It is a constantly increasing cause of criticism of public service commissions, that they are so overwhelmed with detail, that they have not the time to devote to the broader and more essential duties assigned them. In bare administrative efficiency, the commissions have much to learn from the companies over whose destinies they preside and whose affairs they guide.—April Aera.

OWEN MORAN SAID TO BE DYING IN ENGLAND

Owen Moran, a clever English feather-weight, has contracted tuberculosis, and has not long to live, according to despatches from London. Moran is one of the best fighters ever produced across the pond. His last appearance in the United States was in January against Young Shugrue, and he showed then that he was not right, being forced to quit in the seventh round.

HOW SOME ANIMALS SLEEP

They Have a Wonderful Power of Automatic Balance

The elephant apparently invariably and the horse commonly, sleep standing. This is really astonishing. Aside from the apparent difficulty of maintaining the balance of the body during these long periods of unconsciousness, one would have supposed that a recumbent position in the case of both these animals was imperative. Cattle and their kind commonly sleep lying down, and during many hours of the day they lie down, as when chewing the cud.

More curious still, there are creatures which invariably sleep hanging head downward, suspended by their hind feet. The bats afford a case in point. Among the birds we meet with the same strange habit in the little hanging parrots of India and the Malayan region. In this they differ from all other birds, which invariably sleep with the head turned tailward over the back and the beak thrust in among the feathers between the wing and the body, not under the wing, as is commonly believed. No explanation has ever been offered to account for this strange habit. It is followed even by the penguins, whose feathers are so short as to fall completely to cover even the back. Owls are, perhaps, the only exception to the rule. And, by the way, the only other animals which thus turn the head backward after this fashion during sleep are certain peculiar tortoises. No animal, save man, sleeps upon his back.—Illustrated London News.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS CO. IN

"CHELSEA 7750"

Mysterious Detective Story

The play sounds every depth of the underworld—its secrets, its methods and its emotions. It penetrates the innermost recesses of the submerged half. Its revelations are startling, its climaxes are overwhelming.

Throughout the Play There is the Mystery and Fascination of the World That Lives Under Cover

It Will Be Especially Interesting to Note How Our Orchestra Will Handle This Thrill-Fest

OWEN MORAN SAID TO BE DYING IN ENGLAND

Owen Moran, a clever English feather-weight, has contracted tuberculosis, and has not long to live, according to despatches from London. Moran is one of the best fighters ever produced across the pond. His last appearance in the United States was in January against Young Shugrue, and he showed then that he was not right, being forced to quit in the seventh round.

HOW SOME ANIMALS SLEEP

They Have a Wonderful Power of Automatic Balance

The elephant apparently invariably and the horse commonly, sleep standing. This is really astonishing. Aside from the apparent difficulty of maintaining the balance of the body during these long periods of unconsciousness, one would have supposed that a recumbent position in the case of both these animals was imperative. Cattle and their kind commonly sleep lying down, and during many hours of the day they lie down, as when chewing the cud.

More curious still, there are creatures which invariably sleep hanging head downward, suspended by their hind feet. The bats afford a case in point. Among the birds we meet with the same strange habit in the little hanging parrots of India and the Malayan region. In this they differ from all other birds, which invariably sleep with the head turned tailward over the back and the beak thrust in among the feathers between the wing and the body, not under the wing, as is commonly believed. No explanation has ever been offered to account for this strange habit. It is followed even by the penguins, whose feathers are so short as to fall completely to cover even the back. Owls are, perhaps, the only exception to the rule. And, by the way, the only other animals which thus turn the head backward after this fashion during sleep are certain peculiar tortoises. No animal, save man, sleeps upon his back.—Illustrated London News.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS CO. IN

"CHELSEA 7750"

Mysterious Detective Story

The play sounds every depth of the underworld—its secrets, its methods and its emotions. It penetrates the innermost recesses of the submerged half. Its revelations are startling, its climaxes are overwhelming.

Throughout the Play There is the Mystery and Fascination of the World That Lives Under Cover

It Will Be Especially Interesting to Note How Our Orchestra Will Handle This Thrill-Fest

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS CO. IN

"CHELSEA 7750"

Mysterious Detective Story

The play sounds every depth of the underworld—its secrets, its methods and its emotions. It penetrates the innermost recesses of the submerged half. Its revelations are startling, its climaxes are overwhelming.

Throughout the Play There is the Mystery and Fascination of the World That Lives Under Cover

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS CO. IN

"CHELSEA 7750"

Mysterious Detective Story

The play sounds every depth of the underworld—its secrets, its methods and its emotions. It penetrates the innermost recesses of the submerged half. Its revelations are startling, its climaxes are overwhelming.

Throughout the Play There is the Mystery and Fascination of the World That Lives Under Cover

It Will Be Especially Interesting to Note How Our Orchestra Will Handle This Thrill-Fest

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS CO. IN

"CHELSEA 7750"

Mysterious Detective Story

The play sounds every depth of the underworld—its secrets, its methods and its emotions. It penetrates the innermost recesses of the submerged half. Its revelations are startling, its climaxes are overwhelming.

Throughout the Play There is the Mystery and Fascination of the World That Lives Under Cover

It Will Be Especially Interesting to Note How Our Orchestra Will Handle This Thrill-Fest

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

AMUSEMENTS

Wednesday and Thursday

AT THE

IMPERIAL

The Foremost Favorite of Male-drama—Henry E. Dixey—supported by Laura Sawyer, House Peters and