Glenwoods Winners.

Five innings of baseball on the East End diamond last evening resulted in a victory for the Glenwoods over the Nationals, 12 to 8. Robinson and Britton formed the battery for the winners and "Hank" was touched safely but three times, while thirteen safe ones were made off Callahan and Boudreau, who operated for the losers.

Fairville League.

In the Fairville League last evening the Cubs went down to defeat before the Royals by a score of 10 to 1. The Cubs made their solitary run in the second inning and try as they would could not get another.

Bobby Keenan was on the mound for the Royals and was in good form, while N. Gillis received the choice collection behind the bat.

Bondo Downing supplied curbs and shots for the vanquished and for the first inning appeared rather wild, but steadied down and from that on pitched good ball, having six strikeouts to his credit. Grey, the catcher, was hardly up to the mark last night.

The game was interesting enough at times; each team put through a double play, but the work of the Royals was more snappy and better organized.

Teddy McMurray made a phenomenal connection with a fly ball in right field, but fell and lost his man in consequence. He is a good runner and his judgment is also commendable.

E. Gillis, short stop for the Royals, played a star game. His pick ups and throwing were in a class by themselves. In fact some fans predict him worthy of company faster than the teams here can supply.

Murphy on first, was there when required and Sexton in left field caught two men out in succession.

Tonight the same teams will compete and no doubt there will be improvements.

On Thursday the Cubs and Athletics will clash. The latter team have made some changes and announce Geo. Riley as their new captain. On Friday the Royals and Athletics promise a stiff battle.

Welsh Beats Ritchie

London, July 7.—Fred Welsh, lightweight champion of England, today beat Willie Ritchie on points in the twenty round fight for the lightweight championship of the world at Olympia.

In the opening rounds Welsh scored more points than Ritchie. In the fifth round, however, Ritchie forced the fighting, and in this and the next two rounds there were some sharp exchanges and heavy fighting, in which Ritchie generally got the upper hand. Several times the American was cautioned for holding in the clinches.

In the eighth round the Welshman recovered his liveliness and in this and the ninth forced the fighting, and had the best of the encounter. When half the match was over Welsh led easily on points.

Ritchie revived somewhat in the eleventh and there were some hot exchanges in this round, Welsh repeatedly by his remarkable quickness scoring and then eluding heavy returns.

In the thirteenth round Ritchie had it all his own way, landing some heavy blows and forcing the fighting all through, while Welsh appeared to be weakening.

The fourteenth was also all Ritchie's, and the fighting was very fast.

Then both slowed up, but in the sixteenth round there was a lot of infighting and Welsh was boxing splendidly, Ritchie meantime trying for a knockout.

In the seventeenth Ritchie got home a number of sharp body blows and forced the fighting throughout, but Welsh was very clever in covering.

Welsh obtained some more points in the eighteenth, which was a very fast round, and left Ritchie with a bleeding lip.

The nineteenth was even, with Ritchie forcing the fighting.

The final round was the swiftest of the whole fight, and Welsh had the better of it.

Of the twenty rounds, ten were undoubtedly Welsh's, five went to Ritchie and the other five were about even.

Ritchie broke down when the decision was given against him and was in tears when seen in his dressing room. "I have nothing to say," he said, between sobs. His manager and seconds were just as dejected.

The betting was 7 to 4 on Welsh. Geo. Considine placed $2,000 at these odds.

Pastor Was Referee.

Bombardier Wells knocked out Colin Bell with a stiff right-hand jab on the jaw in the fight in London, June 30, for the heavyweight championship of the British Empire. Rev. Everard Digby, vicar of St. Agatha's church, Finsbury, London, acted as ringmaster and director of the fight. A preacher who objected to the vicar's acting in this capacity tried to make his way into the ring to express his opinion, but he was ejected.

The vicar says he was impressed by the clean, decent sort of people who attended the fight and by the kindness of the women, who stood on chairs and waved their handkerchiefs, cheering for Wells at the finish. He took exception to the lack of sportsmanship displayed by the seconds for Harry Stone, who fought a preliminary bout with Johnny Summers. Stone is an American. The fight was a draw. Stone's seconds heckled Summers, trying to disconcert him, and the sporting vicar calls the attention of Americans to the "rotten" sportsmanship of the act.

Mr. Digby holds that he is justified in acting as ringmaster because his parish is a slum among many warehouses, and by sharing the sports of his parishioners he can better get a hold on them.

The Olympia, where the championship was won, had a crowd of 10,000, including many prominent Englishmen, Americans and an unusually large group of women. The purse was $10,000.

Wants Boxing Match

Pat McCarthy, of Boston, a 145-pound amateur boxer is anxious to meet any welterweight in St. John or elsewhere in Eastern Canada.

McCarthy took part in the recent National Amateur Championships in Boston and defeated among others Thomas Barrett of this city. He was stopped in the finals by a Cleveland boxer. McCarthy is willing to meet anyone at 145 pounds. His challenge is sent out through William McNulty of 6 Bathurst street, Upham's Corner, Boston.

Hard Luck (22 1/4) to Frederickton

Hard Luck (22 1/4) the bay stallion which chased Harry Mac out of his new win-race record of 2:17 1/4 in the third heat of the 2:19 pace at Houlton on July 4, has a new owner as a result of racing qualities he then showed.

H. J. Morgan, of Fredericton, bought the son of Royal Ethan from Ira Carpenter of Patten, Me., before leaving Houlton for home, and he will probably race him through the Amoscook Short-ship Circuit, where he is already entered.

Harold Luck is eligible in the 2:26 pace races, the National Trotting Association's win-race and eligibility book showing his win-race record to be 2:25 1/4.
