Notice to Mariners

No. 14—1914.

Burnt Islands

District of Burgeo—South

West Coast

Latitude 47° 33' 40" N.
Longitude 58° 53' 00" W.

Notice is hereby given that two Red Lights have been placed on Great Burnt Island for the guidance of fishing craft of that harbour.

Structures—Wood, square in plan with sloping sides, 15 feet high from base to centre of light.
Colour—Both towers painted with two red and two white horizontal bands, lanterns white.

Remarks—Lights will be put in operation during month of January, 1915, without further notice.

N. B.—Burnt Islands Harbour affords good and sheltered anchorage for vessels of moderate size, but even with a small vessel no stranger should attempt to enter without a pilot, for the channels are not easily distinguished from seaward, and the numerous rocks give but little room for manoeuvring.

Sold by
C. E. Russell, Bay Roberts

A Good Investment $1.00 ONLY

Every young man and young woman should have a copy of Dr. Stall's

Self and Sex Books

They cost only $1.00 a copy. It will be the best investment you have ever made. Read what the Rev. F. B. Meyer, B. A., of London, England, has to say regarding these books:

"The questions which are dealt with in the 'Self and Sex Series' of books are always being asked and if the answer is not forthcoming from pure and wise lips it will be obtained through vicious and empirical channels. I therefore greatly commend this series of books, which are written lucidly and purely, and will afford the necessary information without pandering to unholy and sensual passions. I should like to see a wide and judicious distribution of this literature among Christian circles."

"What a Young Man Ought to Know."

"What a Young Woman Ought to Know."

Sent to postpaid for only $1.00.

Public Notice

Censorship of Telegraphs, Cables, and Wireless Stations.

By direction of the Chief Censor, London, the following Regulations will be in force on and after Friday next, January 15th, namely:—

1. Cablegrams in authorized editions of A.B.C., Lieber's, Scott's and Western Union Codes only may be exchanged between British, Allied or Neutral Territory on extra European Telegraph System, on one side, and British or Allied Territory, wherever situated, on the other side.

2. The term "Extra European Telegraph System" means the places outside the Telegraph System of Europe. Besides the places in Europe proper, the following are also counted as being on the European Telegraph System, namely:—Russia and Asia; the following French possessions in North and West Africa, namely:—Algeria, Mauritania, Senegal, Upper Senegal and Niger; and French Morocco. The island of Cyprus is regarded as outside the European Telegraph System.

3. Until further notice cablegrams in the following three Codes, namely:—Meyer's Atlantic Cotton Code, Thirty-ninth Edition; Bentley's Complete Phrase Code, not including separate Mining and Oil Supplements; Broomhall's Imperial Combination Code, not including Special Rubber Edition, are allowed only between United Kingdom and places in Extra European Telegraph System.

N.B.—All messages sent under the above Regulations have to be decoded and censored the carrying out of this work will be greatly facilitated if persons sending such messages would hand in at the Telegraph Office, at the time of presenting the message, the translation of the same.

on that job."

Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead is the one safe white lead to use because it is corroded by the famous

Brandram process, which makes it penetrate further into the wood on account of its wonderful smoothness and fineness. It can be depended upon to protect the wood longer against deterioration than lead made by any other process.

Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead has for over

100 years been accepted as the standard of values in white lead. If the world's verdict of superior quality is good enough for you, buy Brandram's.

one expected it. There would be another deficiency this year, perhaps half a million dollars. Where would we be the year after? After the war we would require five million dollars to meet our obligations, and if the Premier could raise such a sum, at such a time, he would deserve our gratitude. We should be in a very bad position.

He did not believe in the promised industry on the Labrador. We had had many such promises in the past, which had come to nothing. He would have liked to see the Combines and Monopolies Act carried a little farther. There should be a penalty clause in it. There were still several combines and monopolies in existence. He hoped that if it was necessary to increase duties, the Government would be able to avoid pressing too hard upon the people. He believed the Government could effect economies in the Public Service amounting to a quarter of a million dollars. Radical economies should be effected.

He did not agree with a statement made in the Upper House, that the price of fish was artificially inflated, and must fall. So long as the war continued, and Norway, Iceland, and other countries did not increase their catches, it appeared to him that the price must remain high. It was a time when we must encourage our fishery. He would like to see the Government attempt something to meet the scarcity of fishery supplies which must naturally exist this year. (He called special attention to the serious condition of the people of Conception Bay. The closing of the mines had hit them hard, and the Northern Districts, which were not badly off, would not grumble if special relief grants were made to Conception Bay. There had been complaints that relief was not given out fairly; but he would rather see work given than any relief at all.

He endorsed all that had been said in relation to the efforts of the Colony to help the Imperial Government in time of need. If the need were more fully realized in the outports, the response would be even greater. Taxation for war purposes would be gladly supported by the people; without the flag, there would be no freedom and no country? If there were any defects in our constitution, they were due to our own fault. The British constitution, such as ours, were the freest, the British Crown and Flag the best to be found in the whole world. Nothing that the Throne could do for us was left undone, and the names of our heroes, who died for it, should be written for ever in our history. The debate was adjourned till tomorrow.

Several members gave notice of questions. On motion, the House adjourned till tomorrow at 3 p.m. (To be Continued.)

Letters from Our Naval Reservists

From J. H. Mercer, Shearstown, H. M. S. Orpesa, March 24th, 1915. (Editor the Guardian).

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me a little space in your valuable paper to say a few words. As for our doings or our whereabouts I will be silent as this is war time and we have to be careful. Well, Sir, I was one of the number that left St. John's Nov. 6th on R.M.S. Franconia for dear old England. It just took us 6 days to go across. We left St. John's on Friday morning, and on Wednesday we landed. There were 307 of us, and we were divided into 3 sections, so many for Portsmouth, so many for Chatham, and it fell to my lot to go to Devonport where I spent 3 weeks at the gunnery school. From that 28 of us joined H. M. S. Orpesa. I am the only Bay Roberts chap on this ship. I have had very little connection with our boys, for we are scattered all around. I have been glad to learn that so many of our boys are anxious to fight for their Motherland. We have a hero of a captain and a fine class of officers, and more than glad to say Nfld. boys have proved themselves to be good seamen. What is it, Sir, they can't do? As far as I can see, Sir, they can stand by a gun as long as any other man. I hope you will excuse this for now, as I don't wish to trespass on too much of your space. Remember me to all friends. Wishing you all a pleasant time. I remain, yours respectfully,

J. H. MERCER.
