CASE OF PLAGUE IS CAUSING ALARM

YOKOHAMA AGITATED OVER ITS PRESENCE

Terrible Havoc Wrought by Typhoon-Thousands of Houses Destroyed and Many People Killed.

When the R. M. S. Empress of China and the Victoria, which arrived here early in the week, left Yokohama, the health authorities of that city were considerably agitated over the presence of what was believed to be a case of plague. All the houses in the neighborhood of the suppose victim had been quarantined, and a general crusade against all rodents had been started. The disease was brought to the city, it is believed, by a cotten laden steamer.

Damage From Typhoon. In addition to the damage heretofore chronicled as a result of the typhoon which did so much injury to property and caused such a heavy loss of life in Japan last month, Oriental exchanges received by the Empress of China tell of the disastrous effects of the storm in the different parts adjoining the seaboard of the country. In Gumma Ken, owing to the flood at Arado and Sinjuku in Kiryumachi, 30 houses were washed away and three persons were drowned. Seventeen houses in Hanawa-mura, Seta-gun, were washed away, and seven persons drowned.

In Yamagata-Ken, owing to the almost unprecentedly severe wind and rain storm on the 28th September, altogether 33 persons were killed and 32 other were injured. A very large number of houses in Tohoku and Murayama districts were damaged. In Fukushima-Ken 844 houses were entirely demolished and 131 partially, 32 others being flooded. Twenty-six persons were killed and 45 others were injured, one person being missing.
