

General Business. Vegetine. CONDUCTORS TAKE IT. Blotches, Pimples, Humors on the Face and Neck Disappear.

A Sovereign Remedy for Rheumatism! Dear Sir - I most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number who are daily receiving relief from your Vegetine.

Vegetine. Dr. Callier Surprised. VEGETINE CURED HIS DAUGHTER. GASTROENTERITIS, Cholera Co. Ala., May 15, 1873.

Vegetine. Worked Like a Charm - Cured Salt Rheum and Erysipelas. 75 Centre St., Boston, N. Y., July 30, 1870.

Vegetine. Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face. WASHINGTON, Conn., June 19, 1870.

VEGETINE. PREPARED BY H. R. Stevens, Boston, Mass. and Toronto, Ont.

TOP BITTERS. (A Medicine, not a Drink.) HOPS, MICHIGAN, DANDELION.

NEW LEATHER & SHOE STORE. The Subscriber, having disposed of his tannery, and retired from the business connected therewith, has opened a

TIN SHOP. I have now opened the well known establishment formerly occupied by the late James Gray, and now the property of James Gray, and prepared to execute all work in TIN, SHEET-IRON, GAS-FITTING. Granite Ware, Japanned Stamped and Plain.

COFFINS & CASKETS. The Subscriber has on hand at his shop, a superior assortment of ROSEWOOD, WALNUT AND OTHER COFFINS, which he will sell at reasonable rates.

TURBINE WATER WHEEL. FOR SALE. ONE new Lefell Turbine Water Wheel - 22 inch diameter, with 8 feet of EXTRA SHAPING, 8 inch flange, CROWN WHEEL PIVOT, MILLAR BLOCK, and STEEL.

BUSINESS NOTICE. The "MIRAMICHI ADVANCE" is published at Chatham, Miramichi, N. B., every Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock, by J. B. SNOWBALL.

Miramichi Advance. CHATHAM, N. B., DECEMBER 1, 1881. The Tory "Convention".

What the Tory papers call the "leading event" of the past week, was their party "Convention" in Toronto, which began on the 22nd ult. About 800 persons were present, largely representing the party in Toronto and other parts of Ontario.

On the 23rd the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 24th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 25th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 26th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 27th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 28th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 29th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 30th the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

On the 31st the "convention" resumed, many of the members showing evidence of having thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings of the city. Reports from different constituencies were handed in - "to be digested by Sir John."

connected with the far west - much farther west than this suffering County of Northumberland.

By the way, - can the Advocate tell us how that requisition is getting along? Did he get any to take hold of it in earnest? When may "the fellows in the country" expect to be asked to sign it and "keep it quiet for a while"?

The "Laborers" of the "Sun." At a meeting held in Glangerry, Ont., recently, a scurrilous and slanderous editorial published in a Glangerry County journal in reference to the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise, was "indignantly repudiated."

The reason why no such action is taken in Miramichi is because people read for themselves and have no reason to believe that anything even so respectful in reference to either the Marquis or Princess has been published here.

The Provincial Board of Agriculture has been re-appointed, with Hon. Provincial Secretary Wedderburn as President and Chairman, the other members being as follows: -

The second annual meeting of the Board is to be held at Fredericton, on Tuesday 13th December, commencing at 3 p. m.

The Guitau Trial. WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. From the manner in which the spectators regarded Guitau as he entered, it was evident the majority had not seen him before.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

There was an unusually amusing feature in that part of Mr. Scoville's speech which referred to the restoration of a defunct politician who had been admitted to the Bar at Chicago.

was here and there a smile of approval when Mr. Scoville said he was merely following the example of Mr. Corhill, who had said a number of letters from the defendant to President Garfield and Mr. Blaine.

With this Guitau relapsed into his former position, his hot air resting on the left hand and bowed a little forward. He denied the statement that he attempted to kill his sister with an axe, and indignantly said: "I have heard that story before, but it is absolutely false."

In regard to the emotional traits which characterized the prisoner Mr. Scoville said: "He will talk to a lady as long as he is permitted. This seemed to fire Guitau with passion, for he replied, 'No true; that's not true, may I please your honor?'"

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

higious sentiment. The letter which he wrote from New York regarding his enterprise in trying to establish a daily theological organ was replete with quotations. In one place he stated: "The Bible is my text book and the Holy Ghost is my schoolmaster."

He was less than a minute in writing the letter, and those who Mr. Scoville presented had no connection with the case. Judge Cox said he did not know how he could draw the line of distinction, as it was legal to give a photograph of the prisoner's life and mind as well before as after the shooting in order to determine his responsibility.

The court said that the easiest way out of the matter would be for the counsel to state that he expected to prove the condition of the prisoner's mind by a series of his letters of the following tenor, and that they were subsequently introduced as part of the evidence which would have to be proved.

The entire day was occupied by Mr. Scoville in his statement which will be concluded to-morrow. It is evident that Mr. Scoville, although alone in this case and opposed by four lawyers for the government, understood what he was doing.

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

Mr. Scoville was evidently anxious that it be known he had travelled in the interest of his book and lecture. He said: "Not only did I visit Washington, but all the large cities. I am glad I did it. I was working for the Lord."

The question of Guitau's insanity is receiving much attention. There has doubtless been a gradual change in sentiment, until many now believe the man should go to the insane asylum instead of the scaffold. The quickness with which the attorneys for the government object to evidence for the defence, and the earnest manner in which they cross-examine witnesses, are regarded as indicative of their fears as to the probable result of the trial.

Witnesses for the defence in great numbers are present. Dr. John Rice deposed at length on the subject of Guitau's insanity. He had been called in by Guitau's friends some years ago to examine him. To summarize the case, he came to the conclusion - First, that there was strong hereditary predisposition; second that there was more or less congenital moral defect or moral imbecility. Engrafted on this had state of things came the effect of paucity, adding to the exaltation of his emotional nature.

It affected mostly the emotions of pride and of vanity. On the supposition that his diagnosis was correct, witness informed Guitau's friends that he believed him insane; that he thought him dangerous, perhaps incurable, and that he ought to be secluded - that is, put in an asylum. Witness either corresponded or was about to correspond with a neighboring physician to hold a consultation for the purpose of having him secluded, but that movement came to nothing, because Guitau did not want to be secluded; and he left the country; witness had not seen him again until he saw him here in Court. Witness related seeing Guitau on one occasion, in the course of an evening conversation, in which religion was not the subject, start up suddenly and appeal to the company to come to the Lord so incoherently that witness could not tell what he was talking about; Guitau burrowed some clothing and disappeared all at once. Witness also knew the prisoner's father, Luther V. Guitau; he had been called to attend him during his last illness at Mr. Scoville's house; he did not observe any delusions in him, but did observe great obliquity of thought on religious subjects; he frequently exclaimed during his illness that his sickness was entirely unnecessary; that if he had lived with proper faith and had brought himself in proper relations with Christ there was no necessity for him to be sick, and that he thought he might live forever; he noticed in him a feeling of petulance and fault-finding to the greatest extent he had ever known.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24th. The taking of evidence to-day proceeded quite steadily, with the usual interruptions from Guitau. Witnesses were examined chiefly in reference to the question of insanity with the result of strengthening the impression that the prisoner was always a very eccentric, if not an insane person.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25th. At the opening this morning, Guitau was given a few minutes to address the court and read a paper and said that he was determined every fact in the case bearing on the question of who fired that shot, the Duty or him, should be made plain. Hence everything connected with his personal, political or theological record must be developed. He places great stress on the editorials from the newspapers of last spring, denouncing Garfield for the use of patronage as a means of securing public party, and says that he had never before had the President but for them, and they should bear their just portion of the responsibility, as should also the doctors who actually killed him, as except for their treatment he would be alive to-day. He was not afraid of death; he was certain of his destiny, as the Lord inspired him to act as he did.

Several witnesses testified as to the peculiarities of the Guitau family, trying to show that the prisoner was not responsible for his actions, but to vital effect. He was certain of his destiny, as the Lord inspired him to act as he did.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26th. Nothing very new to-day. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28th. Marshal Henry says the Guitau trial will cost the Government not over $100,000. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29th. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30th. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1st. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2nd. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3rd. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4th. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5th. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: "The assassin's counsel and family state the tone of the letters received by them has changed greatly within the past two weeks. They detect more pity for the prisoner based on the hypothesis that he was and is not sane and more sympathy with them in their effort to save him from the gallows."

Get out Doors. The close confinement of all factory work, gives the operatives pallid faces, poor appetite, languid, miserable feelings, poor blood, inactive liver, kidneys and urinary troubles, and all the physicians and medicine in the world cannot help them, unless they get out of doors or use Hop Bitters. The present best remedy, especially for such cases, having abundance of health, sunshine and fresh air in them. They cost but a trifle. - Christian Recorder.

A Word of Wisdom! There is only one sure and certain way of keeping your live stock - whether fowls or animals - in a perfectly healthy and paying condition, and that is by mixing HARVELL'S CONDITION POWDER with their feed. Try these great specifics and satisfy yourself.

NOTICE. The subscriber will open up in a few days a very excellent line of English, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds suitable for spring and summer wear. Also a beautiful and choice lot of English Coatings, personally selected in Montreal. W. S. MORRIS, 100 St. John Street, Montreal. These goods will admit of my making suits 10 per cent less than heretofore.

For Sale. The property at Bay du Vin, known as the BAY DU VIN MILL PROPERTY. Farm consists of about 300 acres, a large portion is cleared, well fenced and under good cultivation. The Water Power Saw Mill on the property is new, will saw over 20,000 cu. feet of lumber per day. The property has a good dwelling, barn and other buildings. Foundation given immediately if required. Also two million feet of spruce and pine saw logs will sell with the property if the owner is disposed to sell. For full particulars apply to J. B. SNOWBALL, Importer of Wines, Brandy, Whiskies, ETC., ETC., ETC. VICTORIA WHARF, Smyth St., St. John, N. B.

R. FLANAGAN, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries and Provisions, Hardware, Hats, Caps, Ready-Made Clothing. Choice Brands of LIQUORS, always kept on hand. Customers will find our Stock complete, comprising all the goods usually found here to compare and all sold at moderate prices.

Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Puttiner's, Scott's, Robinson's, Northrop & Lyman's. ALLAN'S LUNG BALM, ATHERTON'S PECTORAL, WISTAR'S BALM, BEEF IRON AND WINE, HOH BITTERS.

EMULSIONS OF GOD LIVER OIL. The above received this week direct from the manufacturers, and we guarantee them genuine and fresh.

RESTAURANT. OYSTERS by the Pint, Quart, or Gallon. OYSTERS served at short notice in all the ordinary styles. HOT COFFEE, BREAD, PASTES, PIES AND CAKES ON HAND, A. T. LE FOUNTAIN.

WHISKEY WHISKEY. Just received per Steamer Austrian from Glasgow, 100 Cases Finest Blended Glenlivet Whisky. JOHN W. NICHOLSON.

JOHN HAVILAND, HARNES AND COLLAR MAKER. would announce to his former customers and the public, that he may be found at his old stand, 100 CASES FINEST BLENDING GLENIVET WHISKY, in preparation to manufacture Harnes of every description.

Collar Making. Having a practical experience of this branch of the Trade for THIRTY THREE YEARS, he is prepared to turn out COLLARS which cannot be excelled in the Dominion. The most difficult ones satisfactorily fitted.

CARRIAGE TRIMMING. executed in a tasteful and workman-like manner. For Sale, 50,000 Pine Shingles, - AT - CHATHAM SEPT. 28th, 1881. R. FLANAGAN'S.

Commercial House. Now opening a very large assortment of NEW SPRING Staple & Fancy Dry Goods, MILLINERY HATS, CAPS, CLOTHING, TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS, CURTAIN MATERIAL, TABLE LINEN, DOVILS, NAPKINS, TOWELS, HAMBURG, TRIMMINGS, LACES, BEDDINGS & FRINGES, HALL & ROOM PAPER, OILCLOTH, SMALL WARES & NICK, NACKS.

Grocery Department. JUST RECEIVED: 125 Bbls. Choice Superior Extra Flour; 10 Bbls. Super Hay Fall Herring; 1 Box Dorax Toilet Soap, 1 lb. and 1 lb. Bars; 1 "Castile"; 1 "Crown Soap"; 16 Boxes; 1 Bbl. Bone Meal; 1 "Pea Meal"; Manufactured by Peter Hainstock & Co., N. Y., and all other goods. It is claimed that he made 5 minutes. A trial asked. W. S. LOGGIE, N. B. - Apples and Cabbages, fresh every Friday or Saturday.

Notice. All persons having any legal claim against the Estate of the late Miss Corroll, of Chatham, are required to render the same fully stated in writing, under oath, within 3 months of date, and all persons indebted to the same estate are required to pay the same immediately. ANDREW CARROLL, Administrator. Miramichi, N. B., 1st.