In 1895 only 3,650,000 pounds of butter valued at £140,000 were exported from Canada to the United Kingdom. In 1896, the last year the · Conservatives were in power, the export reached 5,800,000 pounds. In 1899 the export of butter had risen to 20,139,000 pounds. These figures completely refute the dishonest statements made in the Sun. With respect to fruit and poultry, trial shipments have been made. Shipdinary storage have been compared, and the result shows a decided profit in the shipment in cold storage. The present minister of agriculture do erves a great give our farmers facilities for the export of their produce and it is utterly absurd for any Conservative organ to attempt to deprive him of it.

urged that no doubt some good people believed them. The Conservatives had been in power for eighteen years and a good many of the electors had never known any other condition of things than to see fore, they should think that a Conservative administration was the only possible administration for Canada. Among the organs of the Tory party which went into the fight of 1896 with the utmost zeal and energy was the Montreal Star. That paper professed to be sure that Canada would be ruined if the Liberals were allowed to return to power. The following extract from one of its articles will show the nature of the canvass which was carried on against the Liberals:

"Wages of all operatives will fall." "The money in circulation all over Cah-ada will shrink until scarcity of money will increase the length of the working hours to compensate for the loss of trade."

"Americans, Germans and Swiss will immechanics driven from the country, will put up the prices of all imported goods, with the certain result of increased ex-pense to every family."

"It will take twenty years, even with the abolition of the condemned revenue tariff, to climb again to the post where Canada stands today, and we believe ten-of thousands of families will be pauperized

The same parrot-like cries were reechoed all over the country and it was declared that Liberal rule meant ruin with a very large R. The balloting then proceeded and when all had voted the scrutineers left the hall to count up in an ante-room.

Speeches were then wanted by the delgates. Some one thought it a good chance the hour Houten B. Hattherington show gates. Some one thought it a good chance to have Horton B. Hetherington show himself and called on him. The cry was taken up and he responded. His thoughts naturally ran on the severe lesson he had been taught Tuesday at the Queens county by-election, and he chose that as his sub-ject. He thanked the non-resident voters for support. He said Queens county was a hard one for a Liberal-Conservative to hardest one in the county for a Liberal-Conservative. But they had carried it. Brussels, Oct. 4-The festivities arranged for Saturday and Sunday in order to celebrate the wedding of Prince Alber of Belgium to the Duchess Elizabeth of Bavarra, threaten to be troubled by So-cialist demonstrations. The Socialists pro-pose to gather Sunday, on the square in front of the Bourse, where the prince and front of the Bourse, where the prince and his bride are to witness a procession of 7,000 school children. The Socialist organ, Le Peiple, calls on the populace to demonstrate that they are in favor of amnesty and universal suffrage. It deprecates a disturbance of order, declaring that an immense clamor for justice will suffice to achieve the object in view.

Nevertheless, the authorities fear that the proposed assemblage of Socialists will lead to disorder and are considering the abandonment of the procession.
