

Red Shirts in First

by DAVE A. HARDING

The UNB Red Shirts soccer team began last week-end's play minus four of their regular players. Fullbacks Gerald Murphy and David B. Harding suffered torn knee ligaments and water on the knee, respectively, while Ebenezer Dania was nursing a pulled thigh muscle. A non-injury related subtraction from the team came as a result of a one game suspension imposed on Pierre Elkhoury. The team faced a tough opponent in the Dalhousie Tigers on Saturday as coach Gary Brown entered three rookie players into the starting lineup with the hope of beating the Tigers for the first time in the last five regular season games. Dave Rouse filled in as fullback, while Dave May and Paul King played mid-field and striker, respectively. The game began under wet field conditions and with a strong wind advantage for UNB. The Red Shirts controlled the majority of play and only near misses enabled them to score on several occasions. At the twenty minute mark the luck improved as George Wood picked up a loose ball in the Dalhousie penalty area and drilled a shot into the open side of the net. The Red Shirts continued to press, and about ten minutes later Greg Kraft resulted with a goal that the right side being inadvertently put in the net by a Tiger defender. The half ended 2-0 in favour of UNB as they became more and more confident that Dalhousie could be beaten.

It was now up to the Red Shirt defenders to show their strength as the Dalhousie team used the wind in an attempt to get on the score board. The defense were effective with their clearance, and when they did miss, Dave A. Harding was there to scoop up the loose ball. Although the Tigers did manage some good attempts at goal, they were not successful with any of them, and UNB preserved their undefeated record and posted their second win and third shutout in a row.

The Red Shirts received some other good news on Saturday when they learned that across town at St. Mary's, the Huskies had beaten Mount Allison 2-0, the latter's second loss of the season.

On Sunday UNB travelled to Antigonish, N.S. to play the St. Francis Xavier X-Men. The team hoped to avenge an upset loss handed to them by the X-Men last year.

Once again the wind was a major factor in the game, only this time it was against UNB in the first half. A well disciplined St. Francis team applied constant pressure on the UNB defense. At about the twenty minute mark the X-Men were awarded a corner kick and as a result scored a highly controversial goal. As the ball crossed over towards the net the goalkeeper was taken out of the play by an X-Men forward, which went unnoticed by the referee. It was now up to the defender to clear the ball out from the goal line. As the X-Men yelled for a goal, the referee waved it off, signalling to play on. The Linesman, however, indicated to the referee that the ball had in fact gone into the net and the goal was allowed. The half ended with the score 1-0 for St. Francis Xavier.

From the onset of the second half the Red Shirts picked up the pace and began to take over the play. After about fifteen minutes into the half Dwight Hornbrook threaded an accurate twenty-five yard shot into the far corner of the net to tie the score. Approximately ten minutes later George Wood received a cross from the left side and headed the ball down to Greg Kraft's feet. Kraft wasted no time and hammered the ball into the back of the net to give UNB what turned out to be the winning goal. Play went back and forth from this point in what proved to be an exciting - although not desirable - finish to the game for the fans. UNB again maintained their undefeated streak in six games (the half way mark of the regular season) with this close 2-1 victory.

While on the topic of streaks, Kraft's goal in this match gave him a three game scoring streak, with two of those goals being game winners. Another of the Red Shirt's streaks came to an end in this game. The UNB defense had not allowed a goal against them in over 360p minutes (equivalent to four games).

The Red Shirts play two games on the road again this week-end. Today they play at the University of Prince Edward Island, and then will stop off on the way home to play the Universite de Moncton on Saturday. Neither game can be taken lightly by the RED Shirts as UPEI are proving themselves to be an improved team since UNB beat them 6-0 in the first game of the season. Moncton is also capable of coming up with a good effort on their home field. Keep posted to your favorite radio station for the results of these games as soon as they become available.

Red Harriers Win in New Hampshire

by Jacques Jean

It was amidst confusion that the UNB Red Harriers won the Plymouth State College cross-country invitational, in Plymouth, New Hampshire, this past week-end. UNB had a low score of thirty-eight points to trounce second place PSC with sixty points. It was the Harriers' second win this season. Over seventy runners took part in the competition which was held over a very tough 5.5 mile course.

Peter Richardson led the Red Harriers to victory with a first place finish. Richardson covered the 5.5 mile distance in 30 min. 59 sec. Second runner for UNB was Joe Lehman, taking fifth place, closely followed by Jacques Jean in sixth. The next two counters for the Red Harriers were Peter McAuley, who took ninth place, and Tony Noble in seventeenth position. Meanwhile, Steve Collins and Henry Flood took twenty second and twenty third spots respectively.

St. Thomas University runner Dave Allen, recovering from a hip injury, placed thirty-ninth in the competition.

The confusion arose at the end of the race when it was discovered that some runners had taken a wrong turn about one mile from the finish. Fortunately, no UNB runners committed the error. Those runners who did take the wrong turn were disqualified, in accordance with IAAF rules. This hurt some teams very badly, especially Fitchburg College, last year's winners, who lost three runners to disqualifications. Despite these disqualifications UNB would still have won, but by a much narrower margin.

Next competition for the Harriers is this Saturday on their home course as they host the UNB cross-country invitational. Teams from Dalhousie University, Acadia, Universite de Moncton, and St. Francis Xavier are expected to attend the competition. Race time is 11:30 in the UNB woodlot behind the Maritime Forest Ranger School. Come on over and cheer on the Red Harriers.

Ironmen Beat STU Again

by RUPERT HOEFENMAYER

Before the long weekend the Ironmen played S.T.U. for a 22-6 win. The game was to be the final match up between those two clubs this season.

This year the club has been plagued with injuries. From the start of the fall season Bill Sullivan (provincial no 8) has been out of action with broken ribs. Mark Miles missed the first three games with a pinched nerve in his right shoulder. Tor Wilson will be deprived of playing rugby for the rest of the season due to a shoulder separation. Brian Coneady, Nigel Campbell, Ralph Lutes and Gord MacKay were all absent against S.T.U.

The missing players are the reason why the Ironmen did most of their scoring in the second half. For the team had many key positions filled by different players, who not only needed to adjust but also acquaint themselves with the ball handling of their (closest) teammates.

Against S.T.U. Michel Panet-Raymond lead the backs with three tries. Two of them resulted from loose ball around the S.T.U. goal line. The other Ian Smith supported only to pass to Michel, at the last minute, who forced his way in for the try. Ed Patterson combined with Andy Bynum, in good ball handling, to turn the play up field. John Johnson was a threat throughout the entire match. He also scored a try by turning the play inside and at the same time breaking a couple of tackles: The cross-fire of Dave Demers and Andy Ferrier bombarded the opposing line many times. Rick MacKinnon, played his first game with the first team and showed well diversified kicks and straight running.

The first team squad was glad to have Ian Smith back into the lineup. His open field tackles and fine scrum work lead him to be a good team leader. Supporting him at props were Dan Thompson and Frank Szeligo. They gave the ape like strenght to drive the S.T.U. off the ball. Coming back from some small injuries Chris Roper and Pat
