

a study but was well conceived and carried out as a picture. Miss Penfold's small picture was also good, especially in colour.

The annual competition for Scholarships took place at the close of the session, and the exhibition of work then held in the class-rooms showed the work of the school to be at least equal to that of former years.

When the new class-rooms become available it is to be hoped that the usefulness of the school may be greatly increased by the opening of new classes and the improvement of those already in existence and in the general extension of the work.

The number of Pupils who attended during the last Session (1891-'92) was 36, and up to the present date this Session 32."

There were fifteen competitors for the Association Scholarships at the annual competition, the successful ones being :—

In the 1st Section, D. P. MacMillan.

In the 2nd Section, James Sonne.

The work of Miss Ethel Arnton, Miss F. Hunsicker and Charles Smith, received honorable mention.
