

HOLSTEINS SELL AT GOOD PRICES
Upwards of 500 persons were present at the dispersion sale of registered Holstein cattle, held on Tuesday, Feb. 11th, on the farm of Mr. Francis Trottier, Loohiel, Ont. In many ways this sale was one of the greatest ever held in that section, from point of numbers present, from active bidding and prices realized, all of which must have gone far to compensate Mr. Trottier, who for upwards of 30 years has devoted his time and energy in building up a fine herd of pedigreed cattle. Not only was the immediate vicinity well represented at this sale but many came a long distance, and some prominent breeders of Holsteins were noticed in the crowd. After the auctioneer had disposed of horses, farm implements, carriages, wagons, etc., the cattle were brought out and the sales resulted as follows:

Lester of Ormstown, bull, price $200, sold to Ed. Welsh, Apple Hill; grade cow, $78, S. A. Kennedy; Nodda, $140, Scott Frazer, Lancaester; Lilla, $42, John R. McCuaig, Peveril; Ellis, $156, D. MR. LAMBLIN'S HOLSTEIN SALE
Farm and Dairy readers will take note of the Holstein sale to be held at Glenside Farm, Gorrie, Huron Co., Ont., on Wednesday, starting at 12:30 p.m., February 25, the sale including the stock of pure-bred Holsteins, as well as 40 head of grade cattle, registered Gledsdale brood mare and other horses, etc., as described in the advertisement this issue for Edwin W. Lambkin.
The young pure-bred Holsteins offered in the sale are sired by the imported bull, Highland Veeman Kordyke, whose three nearest dams average 25 lbs. butter in seven days. This stock is connected up with the best breeding available in the Holstein world, and will make excellent buying for some one. Plans to attend Mr. Lambkin's sale on Wednesday, February 25.

THE VALUE OF ENSILAGE
Silage keeps young stock thrifty and growing all winter.
It produces fat beef more cheaply than does dry feed.
It enables cows to produce milk and butter more economically.
Silage is more conveniently handled than dry fodder.
Waste of corn stalks is prevented, saving one-third of the food value of the entire crop.
When silage is fed, the corn stalks do not bother in the manure.
Feed that would not otherwise be eaten will be made palatable by the silo.
It enables the farmer to preserve food which matures at a rainy time of the year, when drying would be almost impossible.
It is the most economical method of supplying feed to the stock during the hot, dry periods in summer when the pasture is short.
