A FAMILY JAR. The Origin and History explained to a Bench of Athol Magistrates.

On Friday evening last, before magistrates Wight, Scott and Cawley, Frank Latour, of Malloorytown, was charged by his wife Jessie Latour with having deserted her and having neglected and refused to maintain or support her.

This proceeding is taken under an Act of Provincial Parliament of the Province, passed in 1883 and known as "The Married Women's (Maintenance in Case of Desertion) Act, 1883."

For a comparatively recent enactment, this Act seems to be quite popular in this neighborhood, judging from the fact that quite recently we have had one lady in all the amount of the fine.

Mr. B. Bates has recently had the tin roofing of his residence replaced, being the third time in the last twelve years.

The pioneers of this country are fast passing away. Mr. Wm. Rudd and Mr. Richard Ferguson, sr., taking their departure within the past two weeks.

Our formerly big woman visited this neighborhood last week. She has gone to keeping pigs herself, but has them confined, and claims to have better than our east-end farmer.

The 24th of May was passed very quietly here, the usual bell ringing being about the only celebration.

A couple of our young men had laid out for their old home at the Mills. Saturday night a large number of the elite of McIntosh Mills assembled at the Bolger residence to bid the venerable and respected couple welcome to their midst.
