Winnipeg, July 2.—The Winnipeg Telegram criticising Brandon's Chief of police says this morning: "Brandon's chief of police is a worthy citizen and an excellent officer, but his zeal in refusing to permit a prisoner who wore military uniform to be tried in these clothes for fear of disgracing King's colors is carrying patriotic fervor to extremes."

Something Like A Boom In Brandon

Fleming Galvanizes Realty Market into Activity, How Did He Manage It?—136 Lots Sold

"A dollar down, a dollar a week" This is the magic talisman with which the something-doing-realty man, Mayor J. W. Fleming, galvanized a rather stagnant real estate market into a whirlwind of activity.

Reasonable, but not prohibitive, building restrictions go with the deals. In word, the sellers did not wish the property to be scattered over with "shacks."

The property lies between Lorne and Louise avenues and runs from 27th to 31st streets. This is, of course, all within the city limits.

Mr. Fleming is not a disciple of Mahomed but he knows that that astute Oriental booster went to the mountain when it would not go to him.

LLOYD GEORGE HITS 'EM BACK

Fighting Chancellor Takes War Into Enemy's Camp Despite Advice of Timorous Friends

LASHED OUT FURIOUSLY AT MARCONI SCANDALMONGERS

Liberal Enthusiasm Fanned to White Heat—"You Are The Man for Us," Says Churchill

London, July 2.—Lloyd George's fighting maroon speech at the National Liberal club luncheon has been enthusiastically received by the fighting ranks of the Liberal party.

Lloyd George rejected all moderate counsel, lashing out furiously. Liberal members of Parliament declare the speech has pulled the party together and cheered everybody up.

The Daily News says: "It was as though an old hero had come back to his clan. Those who doubted if it were possible for the chancellor to lead on again into the heart of the fray with all his old courage and gaiety of heart, above all, to lead on at once, sprang to their feet to wave their handkerchiefs, while the hall shook with cheers."

The Liberals here are very tired of the apologetic, defensive attitude of the past week and welcome the opportunity to carry the war into the enemies' country.

As the Ministers were leaving the luncheon, Churchill pulled Lloyd George on the back declaring "You are the man for us."
