Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

Such an atlas is of special interest at this time when the war news from day to day announces names of places which we all feel desirous of locating. This is certainly a comprehensive atlas of the theatre of the war now going on and brings these countries closer to us. News of the War.

Washington, June 1.—The Japanese Legation yesterday gave out the following despatch from the Government at Tokio embodying a report from General Okuma as follows: General Okuma commanding the army operating against Port Arthur reports that our troops occupied Dalny on May 30. Over one hundred warehouses and barracks, besides the freight offices and railway station were found injured. Over 200 railway bridges in the neighborhood are destroyed. All dock piers except the great pier which was sunk, remain uninjured. Some steam launches were also found at the mouth of the dock.

London, June 1.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Nanchang, says: "Some Chinese fugitives from Port Arthur arrived here describing the situation of the inhabitants there as desperate. Famine prices exist. The cost of provisions increases weekly. Many persons are reduced to eating Chinese food, and even that is dear. Millet flour is six dollars a bag. Whole streets and several public buildings have been wrecked by Japanese shell fire. The hospitals are packed with sick and wounded. The work of repairing the damaged warships is stopped. All civilians have been given military duties. The general health of the inhabitants is good except that the Chinese are dying of starvation. There have been made punishable by death. The railway is completely destroyed as far as Kin Chou and there are several gaps in it between Kin Chou and Wafangting. At Wafangting there are 15
