Rev. Mr. Wilson addressed an audience on the afternoon of Thursday, October 23rd. He had with him an Indian in full costume, who answered questions on educational subjects in an easy and correct manner.

The Goderich Signal has entered its sixth year under McGillivuddy Bros., making over 37 years of useful life. It is a live journal, both newsy and well edited, and has deserved its prosperity. The proprietors are old Kingstonsians, have many well wishers here.—[Kingston Whig.]

On Saturday last, a partridge, which had been chased by a hawk, dashed through one of the windows of the Maitland hotel. Constable Yule, who was on the spot, immediately seized the trespasser, and placed him in durance. A partridge is a rara avis around Goderich at present.

Messrs. Grant, Watson, Rutsen and Ellard returned from Lake Smith on Saturday morning. The party bagged about 100 ducks during their camping life, so they say. E. R. Watson led the score, and he shot several with his rifle. Game was not so plentiful as expected.

Evening Classes.—The board of directors of the Mechanics' Institute are about organizing classes in book-keeping, arithmetic and drawing. Those wishing to take advantage of any of these classes must make application at once to J. H. Colborne or the sec'y, A. Morton. A shorthand class is also spoken of.

FOOTBALL MATCH.—A football match between the Seaford and Goderich High School teams will be played on the lacrosse grounds in this town next Saturday afternoon. As Seaford is one of the best teams in the Western Football Association, an exciting game is expected, and all should turn out to see it.

Puckard's Shorthand Reporter for October is as neat and attractive as ever. We put it forward as the best price of the phonographic monthlies. We are pleased to notice that Puckard's is acquiring violently toward old Father Isaac. That specimen page of English phonography was as easy to read as the plainest shorthand could be. The editor has not only mastered of the good business qualities of "the red-headed girl."

A few days ago Dr. McKenzie, of Thorndale, got in a fresh supply of vaccine points and some of them happened to be exposed to view on his counter. A busy farmer from that neighborhood was at the time and amused himself by using one of the points as a tooth pick, pricking his gums in the operation. It took in the most approved style, and the man is now in possession of a mouth that is crowding all the other features of his face out of shape.—[Advertiser.]

Capt. James Parsons, one of our best known lake mariners, left on Monday for Honduras, Central America, where he has been engaged by the Honduras Land & Navigation Co. to manage their line of steamers in developing the river Yula. He expects to be absent perhaps three years, if the business and climate agree with him. He will get a big salary, and he will earn it. He is a tried master mariner, and he will be found steady and true. Others may yet join him from Goderich.

HYMNICAL.—About seventy wedding guests assembled at the residence of the bride's mother, Auburn, on Tuesday to witness the nuptials of Mr. D. McGillivuddy, of THE SIGNAL and Miss E. J. Cassidy. The groomsmen were Mr. J. W. Shaw, principal of Blyth public school, and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Cassidy, sister of the bride. Rev. Robt. Ure, D.D., assisted by Rev. J. Pritchard performed the ceremony. The wedding presents were many, and were much admired. The happy couple left shortly after the wedding dinner for points east, where they will spend the honeymoon.

Very Rev. Dean Harris, of St. Catharines, who has been the guest of Rev. J. B. Waters during the past fortnight, is president of the Mechanics' Institutes Association. On Wednesday evening he paid an informal visit to the Goderich Institute, and addressed the directors and members present in a bright, interesting and instructive manner. He complimented his audience on the comfortable rooms and the excellent library which was the portion of the Goderich Mechanics' Institute, and said he had not seen better in any town of the size in the province. Dean Harris is an enthusiastic advocate of education for the masses, and although a young man, he has already won a high place for himself in his church and in the educational arena.

OBITUARY.—One of our best known young men died during the week, in the person of Charles Davis, son of Mr. G. Davis. The deceased had been ill for several years from an affection of the liver, and, although active, was never in robust health. He returned from the Western States about a month ago, and died on Saturday. His small nest figure, which gave him a boyish appearance, will long be remembered. He was liked by young and old, for he was always courteous and obliging, and considerate of the feelings of others. The very large turn-out to witness his funeral showed that the deceased was held in general esteem. The pall bearers were: Jas. Gordon, Jas. Wilson, F. Price, W. Rines, A. Dickson, and R. M. Frazer. He was an affectionate son and brother, and his family have much sympathy in their sorrow.

FROM FORMOSA.—We are indebted to the Rev. Mr. McKay, of Woodstock, for the following interesting extracts from a private letter just received from the Rev. Dr. McKay, of Formosa: "Last Sabbath on the east coast 1500 worshipped the true God. Not one blasphemed left our Lord and Master during the trying times. * * * God will punish the French in His own time. * * * They nearly shot me, then took me blindfold over mountain and valley, and kept me a prisoner all night on board of a man of war. A-H-o is of immense help to me. * * * The Jamiesons are studying the language. * * * Students will go with me to the country. * * * Will not open the college until later on. * * * As we have never forgotten Woodstock and good old Oxford."

JOHN R. CLARKE.—This eloquent orator paid his second visit to Goderich last week. He lectured in Victoria street church on Saturday evening, and kept up his reputation as an amusing and instructive speaker. He addressed a mass meeting of children in North street Methodist church on Sunday afternoon. The building was filled by old and young, and for an hour the eloquent speaker held the attention of all. His address was very instructive, and was as interesting to the grown up people as it was to the juveniles. Mr. Salton deserves the thanks of the public for bringing Mr. Clarke to Goderich. Mr. Clarke's three lectures in Goderich will not soon be forgotten, and his return next year will draw a full house, if fully advertised. He was the guest of C. A. Humber during his stay here.

FLOWER CONCERT.—The Flower Concert last Friday evening in Knox church was largely attended, and proved a decided success. The hymn "Bowing the Seed," Lizzie Bailey taking the solo, opened the proceedings. The infant class representing the different flowers by Father Time, recited appropriate pieces prettily. Recitation, "The Birth of the Flowers," by Ellen McIvor, was followed by a dialogue "The Time for Me," in which Masters Brown, McPhail, Bick and others took part. "The Story of Three Kittens" was nicely given by little May McCreath. An address by Dr. Ure, was followed by a beautiful piece "The Queen of the Flowers," in which nearly thirty little ones took part, and the audience was not as large as usual, although all seemed to be spending a pleasant time. Rev. Mr. Johnston's address on Temperance was very interesting. He gave a very cordial invitation to all belonging to other churches to join, and the audience was very temperance people. It was availed of by some of those present, who signed. The musical selections were very pleasing. The singers were kindly accompanied by Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Judge Toms sang "Why do Summer Roses Fade." "There's No Luck about the House" and was very cordially received in both. Mr. Belcher gave that beautiful sacred song, "Not Ashamed of Christ." He has a splendid bass voice. The Misses Barrett sang a duet in a very pleasing manner. Miss Rines sang "The Starlight" well, and also "Life's Dream is Over." They are well liked by the public. Mrs. Toms gave a reading to the young people, "The Little Dog's Mortal Be Proud," and elicited loud applause by her elocution. Mr. Strang read "The Crown's Baby," which pleased the audience well; also "Somebody's Darling." More were expected to take part, but were prevented. The open meetings will be given monthly by St. George's school house. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission free.

PASSED HIS MUSICAL EXAM.—W. F. Foot, organist of St. George's church, has, we are happy to learn, recently passed the first examination for the degree of Bachelor of Music at Trinity College, Toronto. As some of our readers may not be acquainted with the nature of, and the course of study to be pursued for, this degree, we offer a few words of explanation. In the first place, the candidate must have been engaged five years in the study and practice of music before presenting himself for the first examination. Three examinations are to be passed in all, separated by periods of not less than one year. The first consists entirely of harmony, the second of single and double counterpoint, canon and fugue, the third of instrumentation, history of music, musical forms and the critical analysis of some selected classical composition. The candidate must also compose a piece of music in four parts with accompaniment for organ, piano or string band. This course is substantially the same as that at Cambridge University, England, and the examiner is Dr. Ritter, of New York. When the degree of Mus. Bac. is taken the candidate may proceed to that of Doctor of Music, the same name in which a Bachelor of Divinity proceeds to Doctor of Divinity. So far only one gentleman has succeeded in obtaining this degree, though from ten to twenty candidates have presented themselves. We heartily sympathize with Mr. Foot in his efforts to master the highest branches of his profession, and trust that in two years he may be able to sign himself, W. F. Foot, Mus. Bac.

Prof. O. G. Fuller, the fancy and comic roller skater, appeared last night at the Princess Roller Rink, and will skate again tonight. He gave an exhibition to the press yesterday. He is an excellent skater, and his movements on the "big wheels" are the most comical we ever saw. If you want to look at skating with vigor and cleanliness, and give a pleasing entertainment.

Mrs. T. Charles Watson gave readings here on Monday evening to a fair audience, considering all the attractions of the previous week. Her rendition of the various numbers was on the whole very good. She was especially pleasing in "The Trials of St. Anthony," and the courtship of the bluff Henry V. Her rendering of "The Old Settler's Story," was good, and the description of "Rupertus Playing the Piano" carried all away in a flood of irresistible merriment. By special request she gave "Curfew Will Not Ring Tonight" in splendid style. She has a good stage presence, is a beautiful woman, recites with vigor and clearness, and gives a pleasing entertainment.

Y. P. S. C. E.—A free social was held in the North street Methodist church on Friday evening, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. After a good lunch, the constitution was read by the pastor, Rev. T. M. Campbell, and readings were given by Misses Robertson, Henderson, and Treuman, and by Mr. Salton. Miss Weston gave a solo, and duets were sung by Miss E. Ellard and Miss Graham, and by Miss E. Ellard and little Miss L. Ellard. The piano pieces were well received. A short address from Mr. T. McGillivuddy closed the programme. This society is in a flourishing condition and is doing a good work among the young people of the congregation.

THE BAND BENEFIT.

The Most Successful Concert of the Year.

A. B. Henderson, who undertook the management of the concert for the benefit of the town band, deserves the thanks of the public for the musical treat he prepared for them on the evening of Thursday, October 23, at Victoria Hall. The hall filled (the gallery was jammed) by an appreciative audience, to listen to old favorites and new. The piano duties of Prof. De Paudry and Miss Cooke were as good as the miserable condition of the instrument would permit. The piano pieces were a number of them. The first number "Christmas Bells" was a beautiful selection, and in the opening of the second part the Prof. and his fair companion captivated the ears of the cultured and the uneducated alike. "The Night Etoile," Mr. Kelly's entrance was the signal for a storm of applause. His song "The Old Church Bell" with feeling and power, and was enthusiastically received. His response "The Organist's Yarn" doubly pleased the audience. He again received an encore in "Hydras the Orestes," and in response delighted all with "Simon the Cellarman." His singing of "The Bugler" was full of pathos and deep feeling, and held the strained attention of those who were listening. He was also, in his guitar solo, "The Spanish Retreat," which was admirably played. Mrs. Hick sang "O Mio Fernando" with feeling, but we preferred her and Messrs. Kelly and Henderson, whose her rendering of "The Knight" was good voice was heard to better advantage. Miss Wynn gave "Il Bacio" in a very creditable manner, and won high encomiums as an amateur. Mr. Henderson sang "The Slave Chase" with dash, and was loudly applauded. His duet with Mrs. Caldwell, "Only Thou" was one of the best things of the evening. Mrs. Caldwell carried the audience by storm in the "Staccato Polka," and when she closed the solo by giving "F" as clear, as strong and as true as most, was at the height of her popularity. Her loud and long. Of course she was encored. In the "Cuckoo Song" later on, she repeated her conquest. No bird ever appeared to possess sweeter throat.

The warble of the cuckoo came from the mouth of the singer, and as true as nature as if the feathered songster was perched upon her fair shoulder. She repeated the refrain in response to a grand encore. Miss Knox was most cordially received, and maintained the high reputation she has won in her first appearance here. She is a "reader" rather than an "actress," depending upon inflection, tone, pause and expression, rather than mere attitudinizing. Her first number was full of tender pathos, and was very nicely rendered. "The Knight" was a beautiful selection, and was very nicely rendered. "The Knight" was a beautiful selection, and was very nicely rendered. "The Knight" was a beautiful selection, and was very nicely rendered.

Although the attendance was not large at the Princess Roller Rink Fancy Dress Carnival on Friday evening last, the quality of the dresses, etc., was ahead of anything in that line yet held there. Among those who knew enough to give their own name and name of costume in their programmes were: Miss E. Crane, Spanish Tambourine Girl; Mary Miller, Morning; Maggie Wilkinson, "Yum Yum" from the Japanese Opera, "Mikado"; Grace Polley, Mary Queen of Scots; Fanny Williams, Chinese Lady; Kathleen Bell, Old Mother Hubbard; Flo Horton, Bo peep; Miss Miller, Autumn; Rose Saults, A Hundred Years Ago; Fannie Cattle, Old Lady; Fanny Lawrence, Sailor Girl; Mary Nicholson, Officer in the Brigade; Mary Wood, Gypsy Fortune Teller; Della Vanderlip, Tambourine Girl; Hattie Wilkinson, Rebecca at the Well; Helen Polley, Gypsy; Nina Strachan, Fairy; Annie Campbell, Actress; R. P. Wilkinson, King Philip; J. McCullough, Dutchman; F. H. Spence, Bassoon; from Merchants of Venice; W. K. Porter, Persian Knight; W. Webb, Clinton, Persian Knight; Ed. Campaign and W. Roberts, "Two new Coons in Town"; E. H. Passmore, Only Original Jesse James; J. E. Lash, Bicyclist; Jack McKay, Sailor; Fred Price, Bicyclist; Willie Robinson, Indian; Summer, Turkey; George Nairn, Gentleman; Darkey; Joe Chambers, Clinton, Irish Gentleman.

The prizes were awarded as follows: Class 1, Miss Elsie Crane; Class 2, Robt. Williams; Class 3, John McCullough; Class 4, Miss Dolly Vanderlip; Class 5, Miss Rose Saults; Class 6, (name unknown, from Clinton) Class 7, Miss Newcombe; Class 7, Summer.

The band was in attendance during the evening.

Every week after THE SIGNAL is ready for the press—sometimes after the edition is begun to be worked off—communications are received of a permanent nature, and are sent in with the press, and are published in the current issue. People do not seem to be aware that the matter for the paper must be set up and the paper got ready for the press in advance of the date of publication. All communications should be in on Wednesday, while changes of advertisement should be in the printer's hands by Tuesday, notice of desired change having been previously given.

It is intended that this year shall exceed the efforts of former years, and that nothing shall be wanting to add to the luxury and increase the enjoyment of this festive occasion.

The church will be as usual tastefully decorated. The supper table will be abundantly and richly provided, and for the musical part, it is enough to say that the choir of the church, and Messrs. Wynn, Hick, Mr. Jackson and others will sing.

This will be undoubtedly the richest entertainment of the season.

THE FALL ASSIZES.

Presentment of the Grand Jury—The concluding Cases of the Term.

The grand jury brought in the following presentment on Thursday, after which they were dismissed by Justice Armour:—

PRESENTMENT.

To the Hon. Mr. Justice Armour,

The Grand Jury in attendance at the present sittings of the High Court of Justice for this county beg leave to report to Your Lordship that we have enquired into all bills set before us by the learned crown officer; and we here wish to add that our duties were greatly simplified and our labors rendered almost easy by reason of Your Lordship's lucid and able address to us in entering on our duties.

At the opening of this court Your Lordship suggested that we should be as expeditious as possible in discharging our public functions, and with a view to complying with Your Lordship's suggestion, we made a conscientious effort, but whether successful or not we cannot say. As a part of our official duties we visited and inspected the county jail, and found incarcerated therein in all eight prisoners, viz., Wm. Hunter, charged with the crime of rape; Daniel McDougall, a judgment debtor; Wm. Kelly, Sarah Henley and Isabella Muir, insane persons; Adam and Bernard Flannery, confined as vagrants. Two of these vagrants were feeble and old men, aged respectively 71 and 86 years of age, their only crime being poverty. Notwithstanding the natural repulsion to a prison home, none of the parties confined therein had the slightest complaint to make against the jail officials or the management. Whilst speaking of the jail, the Grand Jury mark with pleasure their appreciation of the courtesy and efficiency of Mr. Jailer Dickson and of the undersigned up to November 2nd, 1885.

In conclusion, the Grand Jury wish publicly to thank Mr. Louie, the able crown officer, for his marked courtesies to them during the court.

Sanderson vs. McKercher.—Action to have plaintiff declared the actual owner of north half of lot 20, con. C, township of Howick. Non jury case. Garrow & Proudfoot for plaintiff; Cameron, Holt & Cameron for defendant. Mr. Garrow asked to be allowed to plead the statutes of frauds in answer to defendant's defence. His Lordship allowed him to do so. Judgment reserved; both sides to send their respective authorities to His Lordship at Cobourg.

Deyley vs. Bell.—Action for account. Non jury case. Garrow and Dickson for plaintiff; Cameron, Holt & Cameron for defendant. Judgment directing debt forthwith to transfer to the plaintiff the promissory notes now held by him against Wm. A. Parr, and to further pay over to the plaintiff the sum of $231.95, the value of the trust moneys in his hands belonging to the plaintiff, and that judgment be forthwith entered therefor for the plaintiff against the defendant with full costs of suit.

Adams vs. McKercher, et al.—Action to enforce a mechanics' lien. Non jury case. Cameron and Dickson for plaintiff; Garrow and Elliott for defendants. Judgment reserved.

Hamilton vs. Scott.—Action to recover money due plaintiff by debt, who was a bankrupt in Vineland. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plaintiff; debt, not represented. Judgment for the plaintiff for the sum of $1509.80, with full costs of suit.

Farran vs. McNabb.—Action to recover money on the sale of a threshing machine. Judgment for plaintiff on full amount of claim, and lien granted against the lands for that amount.

Carnival at the Roller Rink.
