More Verses That Helped.

By RUTH CAMERON.

The most interesting thing to me about the quotations sent in by my reader friends in response to my request to pass along thoughts that have helped them is that so few of these quotations are from great authors. "Author unknown" or "clipped out of a newspaper," was written on many and others were from obscure authors.

I passed along some of these quotations a few days ago; I am giving you some more to-day. Again I ask my letter friends forgiveness if lack of space has crowded out their contributions. That does not mean it was not appreciated.

"My motto chosen when just beginning life was

'Our longing
To make the world within our reach
Somewhat the better for our living
And gladder for our human speech.'

"Now fifty years later I am moved by this 'That thou hast to do, do quickly.'

"Who among us has his heart's desire or having it is satisfied?"
—Thackeray.

"Build a little fence of trust
Around to-day.
Fill the space with loving work
And therein stay.
Look not through the sheltering bars
Upon to-morrow.
God will help thee bear what comes
Of joy or sorrow."

"Just a little verse of Scripture that has been in my mind this week. It may help others:

'Fear not thou for I am with thee!'

"My favorite is one which helps me when I am about to lose my temper with the home folks:

'They are such dear familiar feet that go along the path with ours—feet fast or slow but trying to keep pace; if they mistake we must be mute, not turning to impute grave faults, for they and we have such a little way to go, can be together such a little while upon the way, we must be patient while we may.'"—George Klingle.

"If you would live with ease, do what you ought, not what you please."
—Franklin.

"Who sweeps a room as to God's law
Makes that and the action fine."

"Keep a smile on your face
Keep a laugh in your heart.
Let your lips bubble over with song
'Twill lighten your load
As you travel life's road,
And help some other sinner along."

"It is Satan's custom by small sins to draw us to greater sins as the little sticks set the great ones on fire and a wisp of straw kindles a block of wood."—Manton.

"It isn't the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you've left undone
That gives you the bit of heartache
At the setting of the sun."
—Margaret Sangster.

DAVID HUME born 1711. The celebrated historian and philosopher whose "History of England" is a fascinating and comprehensive study. His philosophical writings were no less famous, and widened the sphere of philosophical thought.

DANIEL DEFOE died 1731, aged 70. The son of a London butcher, who after a varied business career, became a political writer and novelist, obtaining world-wide fame by his "Robinson Crusoe," written when he was nearly sixty years of age.

BJORNSTERNE BJORNSON died 1910, aged 78. The Norwegian poet, dramatist and novelist, is one of the great names in modern European literature, his poems, plays and stories being marked by a strong intellectuality and a rich imagination.

Deeds, not words. He who talks the most or shouts the loudest may not be the most patriotic. The more froth the less beer.
—Alfred H. Allen.

Great Egyptian Novelty Act.

The great Ballard Brown and Miss Madge Locke present an act tonight at Rossley's that is a decided novlety, a comedy act, and the hundreds who admired Miss Madge Locke in her scene from Richard the Third, and Madge Wildfire, last week, will be astonished to see the Egyptian act with her wonderful Salome dance. Her Egyptian costume was specially made for her in Paris by the greatest firm in the world for ancient costumes (LaRue Brothers). They sing many high class songs and character studies; they are the finest performers ever seen here. Mr. Brown has a magnificent voice and beautiful stage appearance, and both are great favourites. There are some elegant pictures, and the great Vitagraph feature: "A wooing he would go," with Maurice Costello, Anita Steward, Earl Williams and Clara Kimbal Young.

A Hint to Mr. Shortis.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir,—As Mr. Shortis is known to be a first-class speaker on all Newfoundland topics, let him come around to this District of Placentia on his next holiday, and although we're badly served as regards Railways, we'll guarantee that he'll get as much information on our Bank and shore fisheries and their adventures as will give him matter for a dozen able bodied lectures. Come along, Mr. Shortis, and let us hear you in some of our halls in this Bay. St. Johns' is a nice little town, but it's not all Newfoundaind, and we can give you as intelligent a hearing as the St. John's fishermen can give.

Yours,
C.

AT NICKEL TO-DAY.

Whatever else you leave undone to-day don't miss the Nickel Theatre. The pictures are grand and are certain to afford every pleasure. There will be two episodes of "Our Mutual Girl." See what Margaret desires this week. It will interest everyone particularly the ladies who are anxious to see the continuation of these attractive films.

The wonderful Selig story: "Thor, Lord of the Jungles," a three part film in which the dainty actress, Kathlyn Williams, is featured, will be given.

Mr. Stanley to-day sings "You made me love you." Bernard C. Spencer, America's great violinist, is coming to the Nickel shortly.

Enlisted in Canada.

Mr. T. Eustace, a former Principal of Trinity High School, and native of Torbay, who has been studying at the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, for the past three years, has enlisted in the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles, now in training in Sherbrooke, Quebec. Many students of the various universities in Canada have answered the call for men, and their various Alma Maters have willingly given their sons the degrees for which they have been qualifying. Mr. Eustace, therefore, being in his last year arts receives his Bachelor of Arts degree at Convocation the coming June. Mr. J. Vokey, of Spaniard's Bay and a student in his first year, has also enlisted in the same regiment, and both are well prepared to represent Newfoundland in the firing line. The regiment expects to move to Valcartier, near Quebec, about the 15th May, where training will be continued.

"What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured me. You can get Zylex at your druggist's."

Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

"The Old Flute Player."

The special 3 reel feature that the Crescent Picture Palace is showing to-day is certainly a masterpiece, the story is written by C. T. Dazey, picturized by Eugine Mullin and produced by the Vitagraph Company; Edith Storey and all the Vitagraph stars are cast in this powerful drama.

G. M. Anderson, the favourite cow boy actor, is featured in "Broncho Billy Wins Out."

"Wanted a House" is one of the best comedies produced. See the regular advt. for a synopsis of this big programme, and don't miss the Crescent to-day.
