

Russia Asks for the Dardanelles.

U. S. Senate Applauds Wilson --- Unlawful Associations Proclamation --- Coal Miners Hold Government Responsible --- Holland Curtly Replies to Five Council.

ATTACHES BLAME TO GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, July 10. (Reuter's.)—In an official statement of the miners' position regarding Sir Eric Geddes' announcement of July 9, the miners deny that any justification has been shown for an increase of six shillings per ton. In any case, they contend that the Government which had absolute control of the miners and dictated to both owners and miners the settlement of disputes regarding wages and conditions is responsible for the result. The miners deprecate the raising of prejudice against nationalism and urge that if the high price of coal proves anything, it is the failure of private ownership plus government control.

WANTS MANDATE FOR DARDANELLES.

PARIS, July 10. Prince Lvoff representative of the Russian government of Admiral Kolchak has written to Premier Clemenceau as president of the Peace Conference calling attention to the Russian interests in the Turkish Empire and asking that Russia be given a mandate for the Dardanelles.

WILSON PRESENTS TREATY TO SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 10. Pres. Wilson was given an ovation when he entered the Senate Chamber today and when he concluded the reading of his address, but he was not interrupted during the reading, senators, diplomats and crowded galleries following him closely. After concluding his address the President formally presented the treaty to the Senate and the official copy was immediately referred to the Foreign Relations Committee and rushed to the printer in order that it might be in the Senators' hands in the shortest possible time. Fifty thousand copies of the treaty and the President's address were ordered printed by the Senate. After concluding his address the President went to his room near the Senate Chamber where he remained nearly an hour receiving senators and representatives and discussing the treaty with many of them. Reasons actuating the Peace Conference on many important subjects were said to have been disclosed by the President. While the President was thus engaged Republican leaders conferred in the Republican cloak room. Those attending included Senators Lodge, Borah, Brandegee, Fall and McCormick. Nearly every Democrat senator visited the President. Senator Kenyon was the only Republican senator to call and he merely exchanged greetings.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT CRITICIZED.

PARIS, July 10. In the chamber yesterday several deputies criticized the government for the vagueness of its financial policy and for its delay in imposing additional taxes. The peace delegation was also criticized by Raoul Peret, former Minister of Commerce and chairman of the Budget Committee for failing to insist upon the necessity of pooling the war expenditures among the Allies.

THINKS IT ONE-SIDED.

SIMLA, India, July 10. (Reuter's.)—A letter from the Amir, dated July 19, has been received in which he enters into a long dissertation on the one-sidedness of the armistice terms and the impossibilities of their literal observance. He requests reciprocity in the matter of the withdrawal of troops and the foregoing of the free movement of airplanes over Afghanistan, as the Afghans inevitably fire upon them despite strict prohibition. He concludes with an invitation to the Viceroy to fix a date for the arrival of the Afghan delegate. The Viceroy replying, says the Amir seems to forget that the Afghan government began the war and is now suing for peace. The Amir does not realize that His Majesty's government was deeply affected by what has occurred and that the British people are indignant at the fact that they were wantonly attacked. Therefore the government could not permit of any modification of the armistice terms. He invited the Amir to direct his delegates to present themselves by July 22 at the British lines whence they would be conducted to Rawal. The British delegates include two Indian notables.

RECEIVED QUIETLY.

DUBLIN, July 10. The County of Tipperary and Ireland have received the proclamation of the Government on Monday declaring all Sinn Fein organizations and Irish volunteers in County Tipperary unlawful associations. The proclamation places all local activities in Tipperary under control of the military and prevents all persons from entering the district without a permit, thus restricting business.

A PRACTICAL NECESSITY.

WASHINGTON, July 10. Wilson in presenting the Peace Treaty with Germany to the Senate today declared that "a league of free nations had become a practical necessity to which framers of the treaty felt obliged to turn as an indispensable instrumentality for maintenance of the new order it has been their purpose to set up in the world."

LITTLE WILLIE STILL INTERNED.

PARIS, July 10. The Council of Five received today a reply from Holland in answer to the council's note regarding the reported escape from the island of Weiringen of the former German Crown Prince. The Dutch note in what were said to be rather curt terms pointed out that the rumor of the escape was unfounded and expressed surprise at the warning given by the council. The Dutch Govt., the reply added, is conscious of its internal obligations and must be left free to exercise sovereignty as they see fit.

Directors and officials of the company who have been in negotiation for the past few days with the minister at Ottawa, returned to Montreal to-day. PARIS, July 10. Marshal Joffre, it was announced to-day in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies, will lead the troops during the first part of their triumphant march here on Bastille Day, July 14, but at arrival at the Presidential statue to salute President Poincare, he will leave the procession and will be invited to take his seat behind the President.

EQUALITY STATUS.

LONDON, July 10. (Via Reuter's.)—Proposing "Overseas Dominions," at a luncheon of the Commercial Committee of the Commons, Viscount Milner said the only possibility of the continuance of the British Empire was on basis of absolute equality of partnership between the United Kingdom and the Dominions (cheers). Undoubtedly the working out in practice thereof would be one of the most complicated tasks of companionship, but there was no other line upon which a solution could be found. It was quite certain that the Dominions in future would be independently represented in international affairs. Foreign countries must accept the position. The Dominions might be members of the League of Nations, side by side with the United Kingdom, but at the same time they were entitled and intended to be members of the British league of Nations within the Empire. Every Saturday evening after 7 o'clock, Choice Ends of Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Pork will be sold at cost. ELLIS & CO., LTD., 203 Water Street.—nov29. KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN THE HOUSE.

Why He Was Leaving. A prosperous grocer had occasion to engage a new errand-boy. Trade was very brisk, and the lad had a great deal of work to do in delivering parcels in different parts of the town. "Well, Johnnie, how did you get on Saturday?" asked the grocer on Monday morning.

"Oh, fine," replied Johnnie, "but I'll be leaving at the end of the week." "Why, Johnnie, what's up now?" queried his master. "Are the wages not high enough?" "I'm not finding any fault with the pay," replied the boy, "but the fact is, I'm doin' a good 'orse out of a job 'ere."

On Pyorrhoea.

(By DR. A. B. LEHR.)

The following facts are thoroughly familiar to the dental and medical Professions. They are based upon the results of many years study and research by the leading scientists in the two fields of endeavour.

Cause—Effect.

Pyorrhoea is a local disease. It is an inflammation of the tissues surrounding the teeth. In most cases the inflammation is caused by tartar deposits forming on the teeth at the gum margin. The constant irritation to the gums, due to the accumulating tartar, sets up an inflammation of the gum tissues and the bony structure of the root sockets are destroyed; thus pockets are formed about the roots of the teeth, creating a base for the collection and retention of filth, and a breeding ground for pus producing and other disease producing bacteria. The teeth become loose and eventually fall out.

In the advanced stage of Pyorrhoea, as a result of deposits on the teeth, considerable gum tissue has been destroyed, exposing the roots of the affected teeth. The gums are much swollen and have a purplish colour. There has been a breaking down of the walls of the tooth sockets, causing the teeth to become loose. The teeth are tender on mastication. Considerable pus oozes from around the affected teeth and are responsible for many diseases.

We know that nearly all disease is due to the lack of, or breaking down in, the normal resistance of the body. To maintain unclean chemical changes proceeding continually in living cells at its proper balance the functions of the digestive organism must be uninterrupted. Otherwise, the red blood cells diminish in number and decrease in activity. In Pyorrhoea, we have a twofold source of danger in this respect: 1st, in providing a place of incubation for disease-breeding germs that find their way to the digestive tract; 2nd, through deficient mastication, the stomach receives food difficult or impossible of digestion; hence there is a lack of proper material for renewing and energizing the red blood corpuscles, at a time when every possible resistance is needed to meet a threatened or actual attack of disease.

It can be stated as a rule that while Pyorrhoea is often responsible for systematic disturbance, few cases admit the premise that the pyorrhoea is due to constitutional derangement. Of course, at times, a lower vitality affecting also the tissues of the mouth, increases the susceptibility to Pyorrhoea, and again, where both Pyorrhoea and systemic disturbance exist, it will be found that each unfavourably influences the other, but strictly speaking, true Pyorrhoea is of local origin.

A study of the situation has convinced the best medical practitioners that Pyorrhoea alveolaris is one of the most frequent causes of a large number of diseases whose origin has hitherto been more or less of a mystery.

At the Majestic.

The Majestic Theatre has a treat in store for its patrons to-night when "The Accidental Honeymoon," featuring Robert Warrick and Elaine Hammerstein, will be screened. This is the picture that resembles "Up the Road with Sallie," the one that was such a success when shown at this popular picture house. Those who saw "Up the Road with Sallie" will want to see to-night's show, as it is even better than the above. Laurence D'Auber despairing of his success as an artist, is about to commit suicide by jumping in front of a train, when Kitty Gray asks him to start her stalled machine. Kitty has left home because her father has insisted that she marry a man of his choice. Starting the engine Laurence drives off with her. The car breaks down again, this time many miles from the village, and they are obliged to spend the night in a farmer's house together. From this point until the end the picture is jammed with thrilling, exciting and with laughable situations and incidents, all eventually working out for the interest of the couple, who become man and wife. This is a picture that every woman from sixteen to sixty should see.

Newfoundland Remembered.

It is pleasing to note that, when Capt. Alcock and Lieut. Brown were being presented with the Daily Mail Prize of $50,000 the background of the Chairman's table was decorated with the flag of Newfoundland. The Union Jack being in the centre, while the green ensign of Ireland, and the blue of this country were on either side of the Jack. This shows that Newfoundland was not forgotten.

City's Health.

During the week only 2 cases of diphtheria were reported in the city; two residences were disinfected and released from quarantine. At present in hospital are 3 typhoid, 1 typhus and 1 smallpox patients, while 1 with smallpox is being treated at home.
