

Blood Poisoning

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piquette, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon thereafter she was afflicted with a terrible blood poisoning. Her hair all came out. Her husband spent hundreds of dollars without any benefit. She weighed but 75 pounds, and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says, "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla."

and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 pounds, eat well and do the work of a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

Dr. Weldon's Bill to Disfranchise Bribers Discussed.

The Senate Deals With a Peculiar Divorce Case.

Petition From Cardinal Taschereau and Other Church Dignitaries.

Setting Forth Grievances for Which They Ask Redress.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, May 9.—When the House met to-day it went into committee on Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise bribers. Mr. Jeanotte, who was strenuous in his opposition to a similar bill last year, again criticised the measure adversely, as did also Mr. Dupont.

Hon. David Mills (Bothwell) pointed out that the bill was unwarrantable and impracticable as it stood. It was of some value, but it would be of much greater value if the Government provided the $500 deposit required before any petition alleging extensive bribery at an election could be investigated by a court. It was not likely that any 25 persons would be found ready to put up $500 out of pure public spirit.

Mr. Weldon admitted the force of this, but thought perhaps in a case of notorious and outrageous bribery it might be done. Messrs. Jeanotte and Amyot made long speeches in opposition to the bill, and then Mr. Jeanotte again took the floor and spoke for an hour and a half up to 6 o'clock.

The point of order was taken several times that he was discussing the principle of the bill, and not clause 2. The House appeared to be amused and did not seem inclined to take the bill seriously.

At 8 o'clock Mr. Jeanotte again took the floor amid laughter and cheers, and continued his talk against time. He moved an amendment to clause 2, providing that the petition to the court must give the names of those charged with bribery. Mr. Denison, of Toronto, was acting chairman, and Mr. Jeanotte would occasionally lapse into English in order to address a question to the chair. When a point of order was taken that Mr. Jeanotte was not speaking to the clause under discussion the chairman looked a little foolish, being unable to say whether the point was well taken or not and would rise helplessly to his feet and say "I hope the honorable gentleman will keep to the clause before the chair." Mr. Jeanotte's amendment was declared lost.

The filibustering was, however, carried on by Mr. Belley, who moved an amendment calling on the petitioners to give the facts on which they allege extensive bribery. This was lost by 35 to 45.

Mr. Amyot moved another amendment providing that the court shall only investigate the alleged extensive bribery, if the court is satisfied that such extensive bribery has been practiced. A standing vote was taken, and although there was a substantial majority against the amendment, the clerk's assistant declared the vote to be 40 yeas and 36 nays, a majority of four for the amendment.

The committee laughed at the absurdity of the whole thing. The Minister of Public Works, the Conservative whip, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Madill, Sir Hector Langevin, and a large number of other Government supporters voted for the amendments, and the Liberals, two of them French-Canadian members.

Sir John Thompson, Mr. Laurier and all the other Liberals voted against the amendment.

Dr. Bergin moved another amendment to the same clause, providing that the petitioners must give full particulars in their affidavits of the alleged extensive bribery.

Sir John Thompson said this was not necessary.

Mr. Bergin's amendment was declared out of order.

Mr. Jeanotte moved that the committee rise.

Sir John Thompson moved that the committee rise and report progress, but the motion was lost.

Mr. Jeanotte then withdrew his motion and Sir John Thompson's carried, and the committee rose, the bill coming out of the committee slightly amended and not passed beyond clause two.

The House adjourned at 11 o'clock.

NOTES.

Sir John Thompson presented to the House to-day and at the Senate the petition of Cardinal Taschereau and all the archbishops and bishops of the Catholic Church in Canada, praying (1) for the disallowance of an act of the Manitoba Legislature, passed two months ago, amending the public schools act by depriving municipal councils of the power of making assessments for school purposes other than for public schools; (2) to give directions and make provisions for the relief of the Roman Catholics of Manitoba; (3) to provide redress for the grievances of the Roman Catholics of the Northwest. The petition is a long one and recites the grievances already made public. It says that the bishops are fully determined to preserve their rights in their integrity.

Before the Senate divorce committee, in the case of W. S. Piper, of Port Arthur, the facts were somewhat interesting. In 1886, while in Winnipeg on a visit he fell in love with a Miss McKenzie, who, without waiting for him to propose to her, asked him to marry her at once. Two days later was fixed as the date, but on the day previous she disappeared from Winnipeg. It was subsequently found that she had gone to Selkirk with another man. Piper returned home a sad man. A week later he received a letter from her, asking him to meet her and that she would marry him. He met her at Port Arthur, and they were married. That evening after tea at the hotel she told him she had married to please her friends, and that she did not wish to live with him. He remonstrated to no purpose, and she left him. Evidence was given of her subsequent misconduct with a commercial traveler. The committee decided to report in favor of the divorce.

Mr. Hughes puts the following question on the order paper: "What language was used by Major-General Herbert on the occasion of his recent visit to Montreal in reference to the Pontifical Zouaves? Had Major-General Herbert permission from or the authority of the Minister of Militia to use the language he did on that occasion?" As reported in Montreal, General Herbert said to the Sixty-fifth Battalion: "Never forget that you belong to the same race as those of your valiant compatriots who formed part of the Papal Zouaves Regiment—those crusaders of the nineteenth century. That noble regiment rendered illustrious fame by defending the church at Fedaric at Mentona, at Monte

NICE HANDS

Are an acquisition to any lady; so are nice gloves. And is it not a fact that a well-fitting pair of gloves often sets off a pair of hands that may be shapely enough, but whose color, alas, is anything but fascinating?

EVERY LADY

Wants gloves this summer. Why not, then, get the best at the lowest price? Our reputation for gloves, as well as other things, is one that we look to with pride. We never put into stock anything that we are not assured will give good satisfaction; therefore, it is not to be expected that we will have any inferior grades to offer.

The Price of Salmon.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 9.—The salmon canners of British Columbia held a conference here, and have devised a scheme whereby the salmon packs this year will be limited from a certain quantity from each cannery. Affixed price at which sales will be made was also determined on lines similar to those upon which San Francisco canners work on the rates in Eastern Canada on canned fruit and vegetables.

It is expected that the canners' action will prevent the disposal of salmon at such ruinously low prices as those current at present.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Tip, the big elephant in Central Park, was today sentenced to death by the board of park commissioners. He was presented to the city by Adam Forepaugh in 1888. During the six years he was with Forepaugh he killed eight men, and he is now so vicious that it is considered necessary to kill him.

He is fastened only by a chain around one foot, and no animal trainer dare approach him to fasten him more securely. If he should become enraged he might, therefore, easily break away and charge with deadly effect on the big crowd that gathers every day to see him.
