Firemen Petition for a Higher Scale of Wages-Want Billiard and Poel Licenses Reduced-Extras on the Aerial Truck.

Last night's council meeting was just natural business meeting of the aldermanic board, devoid of any excitement, but full of hard work. There were three absentees-Add. Marshall, Ald. J. Heaman and Ald. Skinner-all of whom are under the weather. The eldermen present were Pritchard, Taylor, O'Meara, Douglass, Powell, Carrothers, W. Heaman, Garratt, Armstrong, Cooper, Dreaney, Bennet, Nutkins, Parnell, McCallum and the mayor.

During the evening Ald. Dreaney asked the mayor what was new in the Grand Trunk carshops matter.

"The position is in no wise changed by what happened in Toronto," replied the mayor.

The result of the aldermanic trip to the fire hall during the day was to be seen in connection with the fire hall repairs mentioned in No. 3 committee's COMMUNICATIONS. Communications bearing on taxes Were received from Jane Bugler, Elizabeth Hoskin, Matilda Carr, Daniel O'Hearn, O. Richards, David Smith, Eliza McKee, Mary Grey. No. 1, Mrs. H.A. Boomer applied for a grant to the Convalescent Home. No. 1. P. B. Richards, a blind man, had his taxes charged against his property. F. Bright applied for position as engineer of steam roller. No. 2.

Walter Richards wrote asking for information re deposit required for use of agricultural hall by Robin Hood for the use of the hall, other bodies were to be given the use of it during the summer months. The matter was ultimately referred to No. 2 committee with power. Mr. Ed. Horsman and others petitioned for a reduction of the billiard and pool table license, which is now $40 on each table.

Ald. Carrothers spoke in favor of the petition, and pointed out that the tables in club rooms were not taxed, and were kept going all night in consequence. The communication was sent to No.

8 committee, to bring in a bylaw. The city firemen petitioned to have the wages of the men graded as follows: First year men, $450; second year men, $500; third year men, $600; foremen, $700; department foremen, The present scale is $400, $500 and $550.

James Mason applied for entrance to the Aged People's Home. "I came to London over 40 years ago," said he, 'and except for about twenty years, have ever since been a resident here.' Granted.

The council was requested by the School Board not to grant the use of the City Hall to outside parties on the pight of the board's meeting. Filed. ed as to W. H. W. A. Howard, on behalf of the C. P. R. Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, applied for a rebate of amount paid for use of the City Hall. Granted. The Free Library Board submitted the following estimate of the expenditure of the coming year:

Amount overdrawn, $37 01; interest on debentures, $1,000; sinking fund, $839 55; sakaries, $1,950; special assistbinding, $250; printing catalogues, etc., $400; cards, stationery, and office sup- fer back to No. 3 committee. plies, $200; periodicals, $400; books, $1,-341 44: total. $7.698.

NO. 8 COMMITTEE'S REPORT. In the absence of Ald. John Heaman the report of No. 3 committee was read by Ald. Garratt. There were eleven clauses in all.

The first discussion arose over the re commendation of the committee to pay $7 50 to A. Isaac for cleaning water carts prior to storing them away last winter. The work was ordered by the engineer. Ald. Garratt mentioned that the assistant engineer had stated that the work had been ordered. What right has he to certify to anything?" asked Ald. Carrothers. Ald, Cooper and Ald, Pritchard opposed the payment, and Ald. Dreaney stated that the work had been done, and the man ought to be paid. The clause was adopted.

Progress was reported on the question of a public abattoir pending legis lation on the matter. Clause 4 empowered the fire chief to call for tenders for the yearly supplies for the department, according to a list submitted therewith.

"That is just the way," said Ald. Pritchard, as the clause passed, "things go through here without us knowing what they are."

Tenders will be called for the following work: The old hook and ladder truck repaired at a cost not to exceed $100, the hose wagon at No.2 hall painted, and the hose wagon at No. 3 hall repaired and painted, the estimated cost of work being $25 and $35 respec-

Clause 6 read: That the engineer be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for rebuilding the shed in the rear of No. 1 fire hall, and for the erection of a stable at the back of the addition built for accommodation of aerial truck, and that the committee be instructed to call for tenders for the proposed works and report. Ald. Cooper and O'Meara contended that the work was not necessary. There was a lengthy discussion on the clause, and Ald. Carrothers hinted that Ald. O'Meara and Cooper wanted the money expended on a fire hall in the North End.

Why, I should think you would favor a fire hall up there," said Ald. O'Meara; "because if the brewery was

"I can do without a brewery better than Ald. O'Meara can do without a hack," retorted Ald. Carrothers. The clause was referred back.

Clause 7 empowered the committee to call for tenders for a soft water tank and force pump for No. 2 fire hall, and also for the construction of a new top floor in the hose room, and a concrete floor in the stables, the cost not to exceed $250.

This met with similar opposition, but ultimately was carried. Clause 11 recommended the payment in full of the Waterous Company's account for the aerial truck. The contract price was $2,992 37, but $117 50 in extras has swelled the account to $3,- 109 87. The "extras" engaged the attention of the aldermen for awhile, and finally Ald. Powell moved that the contract. price be paid, and that the "extras" be referred back for fuller information. Ald. Cooper seconded.

In reply to a query by, Ald. Parnell, Ald. Garratt read the report of the mechanics-Messrs. Fairbairn and Yates-who were detailed to examine the truck. The report was very satisfactory.

made against him by the Free Press. they had tried in vain to capture. When he made a similar move in 1884, there was the same storm of abuse, but by the city owning its own pit, the price had been reduced from $10 25 for screened, unscreened and screenings delivered south of Dundas street, to $5 30, and there had been a saving to the city of $30,000 since that time.

The clause carried. It took just five minutes to adopt the report. THE FINANCE COMMITTEE. Ald. George W. Armstrong, chairman, read the report. Accounts amounting to $3,778 20 passed without discussion. The council sent back to committee the account of $5 each from Drs. Mc-Laren and Jento for examining Maggie rphy for insanity.

The committee had reported adversely because the examination had been ordered by a private individual, the mother superior of St. Joseph's Hospital, and the council was equally divided as to whether the account should

Ald. Parnell asked that the petition of C. Morton, re sewer rate, which the committee recommended to be filed, urging no power, be referred back for a fuller report. The city engineer rerorted that the case was a peculiar one, and the city auditor, according to the mayor, thought that the case was a hardship, and while the assessment doubtless fulfilled the letter of the law, it did not fulfill the spirit, and Mr. Morton was obliged to move a great deal more than the value of the sewer would warrant. The clause was referred back to No. 1 with power.

ance, $100; light, $275; heat, $200; rent The account of George Heaman for of telephone, $25; furnishings, $580; $105 75 for water cart repairs came up once more on a recommendation to re-Ald. O'Meara pointed out that Mr. Heaman had the engineer's order for the work, and could collect the amount in court.

The account will be paid. OTHER BUSINESS.

Ald. Parnell reported progress on behalf of the special committee re ex-

Ald. Pritchard insisted on having a report on the expenditure in connection with running the steam rolled last year. If it was not in by next meeting there would be a row. "We have two engineers," said Mr. Pritchard, "and they are too lazy to prepare a report." Ald. Taylor pressed his motion looking for a change in the present method of tax collection. He asked that no rebate of 3 cents on the dollar be allowed to those paying their full taxes with the first installment, and that the fine of 5 cents on each dollar be not charged to those who were slightly behind in their payments.

Ald. O'Meara supported the motion. Ald. Armstrong favored the continuation of the present method. Ald. Parnell went into figures to show the immense advantage the present method of payment of taxes was. He showed that the method made a clean saving in bank discounts averaging $3,797 51 each year. To prove that the people took advantage of the rebate by paying their taxes on the first call, mentioned that two-thirds of the taxes last year were paid on the date of the first installment. If continued, the plan would save the city half a mill on the dollar.

Ald. Powell asked Ald. Taylor to let the motion go to No. 1 committee for a report. After some further talk the matter was referred to No. 1 committee. Ald. Armstrong pressed his motion for a report from the assessment commissioners as to the number of persons ranking as voters who are assessed as tenants and who ought to be assessed for income, and thus pay statute labor, and also to give a full list of all per-sons who are doubtful tenants. Ald. Armstrong disclaimed any political motive, and the motion carried.

Ald. Nutkins moved that the Western Fair supply the council with plans of the new buildings at Queen's Park.

Council adjourned at 11:40.

Who can tell of the suffering of the winter of 1433, when all the birds of Germany perished? or the winter of 1658 in England, when the stage rolled on the Thames and temporary houses of merchandise were built on the ice? Or the winter of 1821 in America, when New York harbor was frozen over, and the heaviest teams crossed on the ice to Staten Island?

One-half of the industries of our day are employed in battling inclemency of the weather. The furs of the north, the cotton of the south, the flax of our own fields, the wool of our own flocks, the coal from our own mines, the wood from our own forests, all employed in battling these inclemencies, and still every winter, with blue lips and chattering teeth, answers: 'None of us can stand before his cold.' Wrap something around these shivering limbs. Shoe those bare feet. Hat that bare head. Coat that bare back. Sleeve that bare arm. Hundreds of garments, hundreds of tons of coal, hundreds of glaziers at broken windowsashes, hundreds of whole-souled men and women, are necessary to warm this wintry weather. What are we doing to alleviate the condition of those not so fortunate as we? Know ye not my friends, there are hundreds of theusands of people who cannot stand before his cold? It is useless to preach to bare feet, and to empty stomachs and gaunt visages. Christ gave the world a lesson in common sense when before preaching the Gospel to the multitude in the wilderness, he gave them a good dinner. But, my friends, there is more than one way of warming up this cold world, for it is a cold world in more respects than one, and I am here to consult with you as to the best way of warming up world. I want to have a great heater introduced into all your churches and all your homes throughout the world. It is a heater of divine patent. It has many pipes with which to conduct heat: and it has a door in which to throw the fuel. Once get this heater introduced and it will turn the Arctic zone into temperate, and the temperate into the tropics. It is the powerful heater, it is the glorious furnace of Christian sympathy. The question ought to be, instead of how much heat can we absorb how much heat can we throw out? There are men who go through the world floating icebergs. They freeze everything with their forbidding look. The hand with which they shake yours is as cold as the paw of the polar bear. If they float into a religious meeting, the temperature drops from 80 above to ten below zero. There are icicles hanging from their eyebrows. They float into a religious meeting and they chill everything with their jeremiads. Cold prayers, cold songs, cold greetings, cold sermons. Christianity on ice! The church a great refrigerator. Christians gone into winter quarters. Hibernation! On the other hand, there are people who go through the world like the breath of a spring morning. Warm greetings, warm prayers, warm smiles, warm Christian Influence. There are such persons. We bless God for them.

We rejoice in their companionship. A general in the English army, the army having halted for the night, having lost his luggage, lay down tired and sick, without any blanket. An officer came up and said, "Why, you have no blanket. I'll go and get you a blanket." He departed for a few moments, and then came back and covered the general up with a very warm blanket. The general said, "Whose blanket is this?" The officer replied, "I got that from a private soldier in the Scotch regiment, Ralpin McDonald." "Now," said the general, ywt "you take this blanket right back to that soldier. He can no more do without it than I can do without it. Never bring me the blanket of a private soldier." How many men like that general would it take to warm the world up? The vast majority of us are anxious to get more blankets. whether anybody else is blanketed or not. Look at the fellow-feeling disespecially appropriate. Dr. Talmage's played in the rocky defile between text was Psalm 147, 17: "Who can Jerusalem and Jericho in Scripture times. Here is a man who has been set upon by the bandits, and in the struggle to keep his property he has got wounded, and mauled, and stabbed, and he lies there half-dead. A priest rides along, he sees him, and says: 'Why, what's the matter with the man? Why, he must be hurt, lying on the flat of his back. But I can't stop. I am on my way to temple service. After a while a Levite comes up. He looks over and says: "Why, that man must be very much hurt. Gashed on the forehead. What a pity. Why, they have taken his clothes nearly all away from him. But I haven't time to stop; I lead the choir up in the temple service." After a while a Samaritan comes along-one who you might suppose through a national lenge of the text has many times been grudge, might have rejected this poor, wounded Israelite. Coming along he sees this man and says: "Why, this man must be terribly hurt. I see by his features he is an Israelite, but he is man and he is a brother. Whoa!" says the Samaritan, and he gets down off the beast, and comes up to this wounded man, takes out of his sack a bottle of oil and a bottle of wine, then pours some of the restorative into the wounded man's lips, then takes oil and with it soothes the wounds selves together for warmth; but when The Samaritan helps and tenderly gets him on toward the tavern, the wounded man holding on with little strength he has left. Now, they have come up to the tavern. The Samaritan, with the help of the landlord, assists the sick and wounded mar to dismount and puts him to bed. Then he comes out, and says to the landlord, here is money to pay that man's board, and if his convalescence is not as rapid as I hope for, charge the whole thing to me. Good morning, all.' Sympathy! Christian sympathy! How many such men as that would it take to warm the cold world up? Notwithstanding all the modern inventions for heating, I tell you there is nothing so full of geniality and sociality as the old-fashioned country fireplace. The neighbors were to come in for a winter evening sociality. he middle of the afternoon, in the best room in the house, someone brought in a great backlog with great strain, and put it down on the back The largest galleries of the world are a shovelfull of coal was taken from pile, and the kindling began, and the crackling, and it rose until it became a roaring flame, which filled all the room with geniality, and was reflected from the family pictures on the wall. Then the neighbors came in two by two. They sat down, their faces to the fire, which ever and anon was stirred with tongs and readjusted on the andirons, and there were such times of rustic rapartee, and storytelling, and mirth as the black stove and the blind register never dreamed of. Oh' come up close to the fireplace. have your worn faces transfigured in the light. Put your cold feet, weary of the journey, close up to the blessed conflagration. Chilled through with the trouble and disappointment, come close up until you can get warm clear through. Exchange experience, over the harvest gathered, tell all the Gospel news. Meanwhile, the table is being spread. On it, bread of life. On it, grapes of Eshcol. On it, new wine from the kingdom. On it, a thousand luxuries celestial. Hark! as a wounded hand raps on the table, and a tender voice comes through saying: "Come, for all things are now ready. Eat, oh, friends! drink, yea, drink abundantly, oh, beloved!" My friends, that is the way the cold world is going to be warmed up by the great Gospel fireplace. All nations will come in and sit down at that banquet. While I was musing, the fire burned. "Come in out of the cold, come in out of the cold."

TALK OF A RAILWAYMEN'S

New York, March 17 .- There are mutterings of a strike on the Great Northern Railroad in consequence of the cut in salaries, announced a few days ago as effective from March 1. Employes say if the cut is made applicable to the trainmen the road will be tied up as tight as a drum. The telegraph operators especially are incensed at the reduction.

Judge A Man

By his appearance is an old say ing, and you may judge any business institution by its stationery or printed matter. If you are in need of any printing let us do it for you. We have the facilities to get it up with style and effect; our prices are low, too.
