Blaze in a Hospital.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Victoria Park Hospital for Consumptives caught fire this morning from a defective flue. Sixty patients were hastily removed to another ward. The fire was extinguished before it had done serious damage.

Thirty Shot Down.

ROME, Jan. 5.—A riot occurred today at Marino, two miles southwest of Palermo. A body of rioters who were demanding abolition of the octroi duties made an attack upon the town hall. Troops fired on them, killing 30 rioters and wounding 50.

Catholics Slaughtered by Cossacks.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The newspapers here state that the recent massacre of Catholics at Krosche, Russia, by Cossacks was due to the express order of Gen. Kokhanoff, Governor of Vinnia. The papers declare that 70 persons were killed and 100 injured by the Cossacks.

Labor Reform.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—In the House of Commons H. Campbell-Bannerman, Secretary of State for War, replying to a question asked by John Burns (Labor) said that he had carefully considered the question of reducing the hours of labor in the ordnance factories, and the Government had decided to reduce the number of working hours to 48 weekly. He believed this could be done with advantage to the public service and to the employees. The change would be made at the Woolwich ordnance factory and elsewhere as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made.

Mr. Burns thanked Mr. Campbell-Bannerman in the name of the men employed in the factories, and then asked if their wages would be reduced.

The Minister of War replied that they would not, and the answer was received with cheers.

Coldest in Fifty Years.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—In Cornwall the cold is greater than before experienced in 50 years. In Hyde Park, London, the thermometer registers eleven degrees above zero. The Thames from Windsor to Teddington is frozen over. A number of trading vessels are fast in the ice in the middle of the stream. The River Rhine at Frankfurt and other places is covered with thick ice and navigation is badly impeded.

At the Isle of Wight, where the Queen is at present sojourning, the mercury registers 10° above zero, the lowest point it has reached in 100 years.

Show has been falling in Westmoreland, northern England for 24 hours, and the storm shows no sign of cessation. The roads are impassable by drifits. Two mail coaches running between London and Tunbridge in Kent are snowed in on the road. The suffering of the poor all over the country is terrible.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The thermometer registers 22° below zero centigrade in several parts of the empire. Reports of deaths from cold multiply. Five dead bodies have been found on the highways since noon.

May Mean a War!

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Military and political circles were excited to-day by a sensational report which reached here from Sierra Leone, Senegambia, the British colonial settlement of West Africa. According to this report, Capt. E. A. W. Landy, inspector-general of the frontier police, with 26 men and several officers of the first battalion of a West India regiment, who were engaged in an expedition against the Sotahs, have been killed, and it is added they were shot by French troops. It is also reported that a French officer engaged in the attack was captured.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The news received at Liverpool concerning the slaughter of British troops in the interior of Sierra Leone has been confirmed by the advice of the Foreign and War Offices. The officers killed were: Capt. Landy, Lieut. C. Wroughton, Lieut. Linton, and a sergeant. The 26 privates who were shot were all negroes. According to all accounts the French opened fire upon the British troops without provocation or warning. How they could have made such a mistake is very difficult to conceive, as the West India regiment wear bright scarlet uniforms, and carry British arms, and observe all the regulation army discipline. The attack took place in the district whose possession is still a matter of dispute between France and England. The British captured a French officer at Warina.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

Meeting of the Foreign Mission Committee—The Financial Statement Not Encouraging.

TORONTO, Jan. 5.—The Presbyterian foreign mission committee met on Tuesday and Wednesday at the Presbyterian mission rooms. Mr. Jas. A. Simmonds, who has labored nine years in China, and is now attending classes in Knox College, appeared before the committee, and expressed a desire to be ordained by the Presbyterian Church, and to labor in connection with Presbyterian missions in Honan. It was agreed to ask the General Assembly to grant Mr. Simmonds' request.

Mr. Eshov, a Nestorian, from Persia, who has been pursuing his studies in Knox College, asked that he might be employed as a missionary among his own people. The committee was very much interested in Mr. Eshov's case, but, inasmuch as the committee has no mission in Persia, and is not in a position to start a new mission, it was decided not to employ Mr. Eshov.

Dr. G. L. Mackay, gave an interesting account of his work in Formosa.

Communications were read stating that the Y. P. S. C. E. of three churches in New Westminster have combined for the purpose of doing work amongst the Chinese.

Medical certificates and other communications were read, which made it evident that it is necessary for Mr. Wilkie to come home from India for a season of rest, and it was accordingly agreed to invite him to come home.

The financial statement of Dr. Reid is so far discouraging. In order to prevent a deficit this year it will be necessary for every congregation to put forth extra efforts.

WINKED IN CHURCH.

As a Result Taylor Has a $10 Fine Hanging Over Him.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Jan. 6.—The question as to whether it is a misdemeanor to wink at a pretty girl in church will probably be decided in a few days by a local justice of the peace, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Frank Taylor, a young man 19 years old, charged with the offense mentioned on Sunday at the Baptist Church.

The young lady at whom the wink was directed, resented it, and as a result one of the elders entered complaint against Taylor, who was arrested and ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail. He demanded a hearing and claimed that the wink was involuntary. The justice is holding the matter under advisement.

CHARGED WITH BLACKMAIL.

A Wealthy Norfolk Farmer the Victim of the Attempt.

His Ex-Housekeeper, Phoebe Hall, Arrested—Benjamin Maybee Threatened by "White Caps"—How the Case Was Worked Up.

A case with many interesting features has just been ferreted out by Village Constable Ward, of London West. It is one of alleged blackmailing, and the intended victim was Mr. Benjamin Maybee, a very wealthy farmer of Middleton township, in the county of Norfolk. Mr. Maybee is a bachelor, and for a number of years had as a housekeeper, a woman named Phoebe Hall, of Tilsonburg. The two had a dispute, and the woman decided to quit Mr. Maybee's employ. After considerable trouble a settlement was reached and Miss Hall is said to have been given $1,000 in cash, a house and lot in Tilsonburg and a horse and rig valued at $200, in return for which a guarantee against any further claim was given.

Nothing more was heard of Phoebe Hall, but as a result of a thorough investigation by Constable Ward, she is now in St. Thomas jail awaiting trial on the charge of blackmailing.

On Nov. 20, however, Mr. Maybee received a letter through the post, having a 1-cent stamp on it and on which 4 cents had to be collected. The receiver was rather surprised on reading the following: "Dear Sir,—This is to give you notice that you will have to, within seven days from date of receiving this notice, in some way, we do not care how, deliver over to your wife $100 to defray expenses you caused her. We will find out in our own mysterious way, if you have done as commanded or not. If we find out you have refused, then will we go out and make you a visit and give you the first degree of our impartial order. Remember, we mean business."

The "white" was evidently meant to be a threat to the woman, who was a neighbor. Maybee was alarmed and placed the letter in Detective Ward's hands. It had been posted Nov. 18, at Aylmer, whither Ward went. He found that Phoebe and a young man from Simcoe had been in the town that day, and that they had stopped at Mrs. Allan's, who is a relative or a friend of Phoebe's over night. The detective called, and Mrs. Allan was shown the epistle. She immediately recognized the address as being in her own handwriting.

"Are you sure it is your writing?" was asked.

"Quite sure," was the reply. "It is the one which Miss Hall and Mr. — handed to me."

To make certain Mr. Ward got Mrs. Allan to rewrite the name on another piece of paper which she has now in his possession. The writing on both was the same. Mrs. Allan said that Miss Hall and the young man had stayed there over night, and that they were supposed to have written the letter which she had addressed.

Constable Ward had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Phoebe Hall, and since his visit to Aylmer (some ten days ago) the officers have been looking for the woman. They were unsuccessful, however, until yesterday, when Ward received word from Chief Constable Hufman, of Aylmer, that the woman had been landed in St. Thomas jail.

The trial is to come up on next Monday in St. Thomas, when some interesting developments are expected.

MIDDLESEX WINTER ASSIZES.

A Variety of Cases To Be Tried by Justice Rose.

The L. and P. S. R. Syndicate Resurrected—Action for Libel Against the Glencoe Transcript—A Railway Accident Case.

The Middlesex Winter Assizes, which open here on Tuesday before Mr. Justice Rose, is likely to occupy a week or more. There is a great variety of cases entered on the docket, but a noticeable feature is the absence of criminal actions, only one being entered—Silas O'Neill, of Ailsa Craig, charged with, on Dec. 27, shooting at the inmates of his sister's house with intent to kill. In the jury cases one brought for libel by Mr. Homan, of Glencoe, against the proprietor of the Transcript, published in that village. It arose through an item which appeared in the papers concerning a notion which had occurred there, and in connection with which Holman's name was mentioned, he being afterwards arrested and discharged. Following upon the discharge of Holman, the Transcript published another item retracting the previous statement, and expressing regret for the injury which had been done. In spite of this the action was entered. Godwin vs. Jarras received by Mrs. Jas. Godwin, of the Hamilton road, while crossing the tracks on Wellington street. Mr. Godwin was thrown out of the wagon, bruised about the head and had a finger cut off besides receiving internal injuries. In the non-jury cases the affairs of the Cleveland Syndicate will likely be brought to light through the case of Long vs. the Syndicate. It arose through the purchase of piles for the Port Stanley slip dock by the syndicate from the plaintiff, who wants the money for them. The docket is as follows:

JURY.

Smith vs. Madole—An action for wages due. Parke for plaintiff, E. Meredith for defendant.

Godwin vs. G. T. R.—Brought by Mr. Godwin, of the Hamilton road, for injuries received at a crossing of the railway. Bartram for plaintiff, Ball for defendant.

EXIT NUMBER ONE.

The Finance Committee of 1893 Holds Its Last Meeting—Syndicate Employes War, and Air Wages—Ald. Welford's Retirement.

The final meeting of the finance committee of the City Council was held last night, and the business for the year concluded. Messrs. Parke & Pardon forwarded the communication which was brought up some time ago. It was on behalf of a number of employees of the defunct L. and P. S. R. syndicate, and asked that they be paid wages due out of the $25,000 guarantee money now held by the city. The communication was referred to the incoming council.

For some years past, the property on the east side of Rectory street known as the Ontario Car Works has been assessed at $7,500 in the name of George B. Burland, Montreal, and that gentleman requested that the amount be reduced, as there were only 10 acres and not 15. Filed; no power.

Geo. W. Kitchen applied through the Bank of Scotland to have a debenture coupon of the city valued at $15, which had been inadvertently destroyed, made good. The committee will take the same action as on previous occasions of a similar nature. Secretary Pope handed in a statement of the number of meetings during the year. Fifty-one had been called, at six of which was no quorum. The attendance, in which Ald. Parnell leads, was as follows:

Ald. Welford thanked the members for their kindness, and No. 1 committee of the
