BEETLES EAT A CHURCH

The Edifice Is Built of Sandstone and the Walls Are Honeycombed.

Middletown, Ohio, Nov. 30.-The First Presbyterian Church of this city, a handsome brown sandstone struc-ture, is being ruined by a beetle that is eating its way into the stones. For some time myriads of small holes have been noticed in the side walls. Investigation showed that each hole penetrated for about two inches, after which it widened into a small room in which a beetle lived. The tower of the church is riddled. The beetle is a brown insect, has four legs and two large knife-like jaws. A similar beetle is known to exist in Germany that eats

The own-ership of the pistol will be made a strong point, as the defense will endeavor to prove, at least by inference, that it belonged to Ayres. Attorney Keene asserted that it would be shown that Ayres showed the same identical revolver to a man last December, that in February he loan-ed a loaded pistol similar to it, and sympathetic as I could, because I had ed a loaded pistol similar to it, and that a few days before his death he procured some oil with which to clean

NO BLOOD ON WRAPPER. Some of the strongest evidence that the defense will have to meet was introduced by the district attorney today, when Dr. E. M. Schaeffer, an expert chemist, testified that he had submitted the brown wrapper Mrs. Bonine stated she wore when she went to Ayres' room, to a most careful microscopic examination, and that he had been unable to find the slightest trace of blood upon it. In her confession Mrs. Bonine told how she felt Ayres' blood pouring over her shoulder, and how she returned to her room and washed the bloodstains out of the wrapper. Dr. Schaeffer's testimony directly contradicts this story, and in a measure supports the contention that Mrs. Bonine shot Ayres through the window from the fire escape.

FATHER OF VICTIM AS A WIT-NESS.

Much interest was manifested in the appearance on the witness stand of James Seymour Ayres, father of the dead man, who gave a pathetic account of his efforts to learn something from Mrs. Bonine. In most emphatic terms he declared that from the very first he suspected that she had killed his boy. When he first conversed with her he told her how his son had lost his mother when but 3 years old, and how dear he had been According to the witness, once. EFFECTS FROM AYRES' BEDROOM The room occupied by the criminal court in which Mrs. Lolo Ida Bonine is undergoing trial today presented somewhat the appearance of a junk shop from the fact that a number of the belongings of Ayres' room in the Kenmore Hotel were exhibited. These included the blood-stained carpet, which covered the floor, Ayres' two trunks and a section from the inner part of the well of the room, belonging under the window, showing blood upon plaster and washboard. The wrapper worn by Mrs. Bonine on the night of the tregedy was also shown. Lieut, James A. Moore, of the police force, was the first witness. He identified this miscellaneous assortment of chattels. He said that acting under Mrs. Bonine's instructions he had gone to her room the day she made her confession to the chief of police and had procured the wrapper and had delivered it to the detectives There are torn places under the arms of the garment, which he had not seen on that occasion, but he said on cross-examination that they might possibly have been there without his

HICKS' HOROSCOPE

The Kind of Weather That We Are to Have in December, if the Rev. Gentleman's Calculations Are Correct.

[By Rev. Ira R. Hicks.] December begins in the midst of a regular storm period, near the centers of the Mercury and Venus disturbances. A low barometer, with generally threatening weather and active storms will spread over much of the country from west to east, by the 1st and 2nd, and rains will have turned to snow and sleet in the west and north, with a high barometer, blizzard and cold wave coming in to view from the northwest. Some of the heaviest and most general sleet storms of the winter will most likely transpire inside the Mercury brace, and be central on 5th, extending to near the middle of the month. The moon being on the celestial equator on the 3rd heavy storms, with electrical phenomena southward. are likely to continue until after that

Threatening and unsettled weather may be expected, with renewed storm of sleet and snow about the 5th and 6th. These are reactionary storm days, calling for falling barometer, When Dr. Schaeffer was excused change to warmer and rain, turning to blizzards of sleet, snow and cold wave just behind the area of low barometer and higher temperature. Look for some boreal weather over some parts of the country between the 5th and 9th. On and about the 9th, another low barometer will start eastward from western extremes, it will grow rapidly warmer, and by the 11th marked storm disturbances will be organized and starting on their eastward journey. From about Wednesday, the 11th, to Saturday, the 14th, these storms of rain, sleet, snow and gales will pass over the country to the At-lantic coast. We caution our readers against the possible blockades of sleet and snow at this storm period. and against the sweeping cold wave almost sure to follow the storms. The North Atlantic sea and coasts will be visited severely by winter solstice had thrown his arms about me and storms about this time.

This will in all probability be one of the most active storm periods in December. If snow for Christmas should not already have fallen, it may reasonably be expected in many parts of the country from Monday, the 23rd, to Thursday, the 26th. Christmas day will be a snowy day in many sections. Watch and see. If you don't have it yourself, read the telegraphic reports from your own and other countries. About Christmas day the front of a cold wave will be found heading up from the northwest, and during three or four days following it will spread east and south over most of the country. Ships on the North Atlantic will have rough and dangerous sailing at this time. A reactionary storm period is due the last three days of December, during which time the cold will relax, barometer fall progressively from west to east, and storms of rain and snow will result in many localities as the storm conditions march eastward across the country. The year will come to its close with rising barometer, clearing skies, and change to much colder generally. Of course, intelligent readers and observers of weather phenomena will understand that storm areas and weather changes are things to be studied in transit - they move from west to east like the crest of a flood or overthrow, with very different kinds of weather prevailing in the extremes of the country at the same time - warmer, low barometer, and fair to east, actual storms and precipitation in the center, with rising barometer and change to fair and colder coming down from the northwest. But all these conditions come and run their courses in periods clearly laid down in our storm diagrams and explained in our forecasts We can appeal to reason and intelligence, but never to ignorance and pre judice.

Continuing, Mr. Keen said it would SECURITY. be shown that in getting up the dances, Mrs. Bonine had visited the rooms of all persons, regardless of sex or age, who could dance, to get them to participate. It would also be shown that Mrs. Bonine was fond of medicine Cenuine and that this fondness had served her in ministering to the sick, and that she did visit many of them. Another point would be developed was the relations between Ayres Carter's and Mrs. Bonine were not such as to cause them to feel unwilling to break them. Proof also would be given that on March 4, Mrs. Bo-
