

FRENCH AVIATION SPEED
CONTEST IS CALLED OFF

Aero Club of America. Notified That International Event Is Postponed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Aero Club of America, in an announcement made public today, gives out a notice received from the Aero Club of France that the contest of 1914 for the Coupe de l'Internationale d'Aviation has been indefinitely postponed.

The international contest was to have been held this month in France, and was of unusual interest because of new conditions established by the International Aeronautic Federation, which will make it in the future something more than a speed event, open only to flying machines built solely for the purpose. The action of the French Club in postponing the contest was expected because of the war. Abandonment of the race follows a similar decision on the contest of balloons for the Coupe Internationale des Aeronautes, which was to have been held at Kansas City.

RASH COVERED
CHEST AND BACK

Itching and Burning Pimples Spread. Clothing Irritated. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Well in Three Weeks.

High River, Alta.—"My baby was a sufferer from an itching and a burr on the chest and back. The trouble began with a fine small rash and pimples about a size of a pin's head. It spread until his whole chest and back were covered. Some of them festered and on some the top festered clear. He was fretful and cross and was always rubbing his chest and back. The trouble caused itching, burning and loss of sleep. His chest and back grew worse and worse. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. The trouble cleared in three weeks. He was well again. He owes it to Cuticura Soap and Ointment."

(Signed) Mrs. Alice W. Jones, 1114 1/2 St. For red, rough, chapped and itching hands, itching, burning, and painful finger-ends with shapless nails, a one-night Cuticura treatment wonders. Soak hands, on retiring, in hot water and Cuticura Soap. Dry, anoint with Cuticura Ointment and wear soft bandages or old, loose gloves during the night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

Cut This Out

Famous Specialist's Recipe for Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. Recent experiments have shown conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were the direct cause of constipation. The effect of cathartics, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late by a noted specialist in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effect of this prescription which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (double strength), about 75c. Wash. Take this home, and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful for three days.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of sleep and nervousness in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison and which are quickly overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh, therefore there are but few people whose hearing cannot be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

Important—In ordering Parment always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you. If you do not see the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine St., Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it—H. and S. 16, 17.

134 BIG GUNS TO BE CANADA'S GIFT

Will Aid Equipment of British Force in Field.

ASKED BY WAR OFFICE

Announcement Made by Sir Robert Borden.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—In a statement issued today Sir Robert Borden announced that the Canadian Government, at the request of the British War Office, would undertake to pay for 134 heavy and machine guns to add to the fighting forces.

These will consist of ninety-eight 18-pounders of most modern type, six 60-pounders, and 30 machine guns.

Men Have Improved.

The following announcement was made by the Prime Minister today: "In company with Sir George Foster and Mr. Rogers, I have spent three days at Valcartier camp, where we met Col. Hughes and had the opportunity for seeing nearly 25,000 men under review. During the past fortnight the men have improved wonderfully in appearance, and I have no doubt in efficiency. The organization of the camp seems excellent in every way. Everywhere I found most intense anxiety and even impatience to get to the front as soon as possible."

All Will Go Together.

"After careful consideration, it was determined yesterday to send forward all the effective men in the army who are all those who have passed the necessary medical examination. The expeditionary force, including the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, will number approximately 31,200 and 7,600 horses. It will comprise eleven batteries of horse and field artillery, each of these are of the most modern type and are as good as used in the British army. In addition, four heavy guns, known as the 6-inch guns, will be sent, as well as a number of machine guns, many of which have been generously donated by patriotic citizens, and to whom the very sincere thanks of the Government and the people of Canada are due."

Men Pleased With News.

"The news that the entire force assembled would go forward was received with great enthusiasm and satisfaction. Yesterday I visited every brigade, shook hands with every officer of the force who was available, and addressed the assembled officers of each brigade. In speaking to the officers I said that Canada was proud to be a part of the expeditionary force, and that the Canadian people were proud to be a part of the expeditionary force."

Not Represented on Workmen's Compensation Board.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Political truce, which is still being maintained in all matters affecting the war and the defence of the country, does not make the Ontario Government secure from serious criticism for its choice of the workmen's compensation board. Praise even from Government supporters is noticeable by its absence, and censure is prevalent.

The grounds for criticism are the appointment of a representative of labor. Labor men themselves are not silent. J. Gibbons, the well-known union leader, points out that the Government, while it has appointed a representative of the manufacturers and the employer, "has ignored the request of the working people by not appointing Fred Bancroft." H. B. Withrow says: "Labor interests are responsible for this act, and yet they are not represented on the board that has to administer it." Other labor leaders refer to Mr. Wright, vice-chairman, as "a politician, nothing more or less."

Responsible Duties.

The administration of the workmen's compensation act will be one of the most responsible duties of public life in Ontario, and a task that would demand the ability of the ablest and most outstanding men in the province. Not one of the three appointees could be put in this category even by their own friends. It seems almost incredible that the Government should have filled three high-salaried and important offices by the men they have chosen.

Connection with the appointment of A. W. Wright as vice-chairman, it is worthy of mention that Mr. Wright, in addition to having been organizer for the Conservative party in the general elections, has also been closely connected for years with the liquor interests. He has done much organizing for them, and for example, was one of those in charge of their campaign against the reduction of licenses in Toronto in 1906.

GREAT SUFFERING IN GERMAN ARMY

Vivid Story Told By Soldier In a Letter To His Wife—Worse Than Hell.

[Extract from report of fighting sent out last night from the headquarters of General French.]

"So many letters and statements of our wounded soldiers have been published in our newspapers that the following episode from a German soldier of the Seventy-Fourth Infantry Regiment, Tenth Corps, to his wife, may also be of interest:

"My dear wife: I have just been living through days that defy imagination. I should never have thought that men could stand it. Not a second has passed but that my life has been in danger. Yet not a hair of my head has been hurt."

"It was horrible; it was ghastly. But I have been saved for you and for my happiness, and I take heart again, although I am still terribly unwell. God grant that I may soon see you again and that this horror may soon be over."

Human Strength at End.

"None of us can do any more; human strength is at an end. I will try to tell you about it. On the fifth of September the enemy were reported to be taking a position near St. Prix, southeast of Paris. The Tenth Corps, which had made an astonishingly rapid advance of course, was attacked on Sunday. Steep slopes led up to the heights, which were held in considerable force. With our weak detachments of the Seventy-Fourth and Ninety-First Regiments we reached the crest and came under a terrible artillery fire that moved us down. However, we entered St. Prix. Hardly had we done so that we were met with shell fire and a violent fusillade from the enemy's infantry."

Lost Three Colonels.

"Our colonel was badly wounded—he is the third we have had. Fourteen men were killed around him. We got away in a lull, without being hit."

"The seventh, eighth and ninth of September we were constantly under shell and shrapnel fire, and suffered terrible losses. It was a house which was hit seven times. The fear of death, of agony, which is in every man's heart, and naturally so, is a terrible feeling. How often I have thought of you, my darling, and what I suffered in that terrifying battle, which extended along a front of many miles near Montmirail you cannot possibly imagine."

Worse Than Hell.

"Our heavy artillery was being used for the siege of Montmirail. I wanted to tell you that the enemy had their in force, and kept up a furious bombardment. For four days, I was under artillery fire. It was like Hell, but a thousand times worse."

"On the night of the ninth, the order was given to retreat, as it would have been mad to attempt to hold our position with our few men, and we should have risked a terrible defeat the next day. The first and third armies had not been able to unite with us, as we had been advanced too rapidly. Our morale was absolutely broken; in spite of unheard sacrifices, we had achieved nothing."

Does Not Understand It.

"I cannot understand how our men, after fighting three great battles, 50,000 MEN WANTED.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur, for darkening grey, streaked and faded hair, is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Naturally, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Putnam's Sage and Sulphur is that it besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft, lustrous and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

DIVED TO HER DEATH IN SIGHT OF FRIENDS

Owen Sound Girl, Strong Swimmer, Met Tragic End.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 22.—A sad accident occurred here last evening, when Miss Jean Young, a student at the Collegiate Institute, was drowned while bathing in Wright's mill dam. The girl, who was 16 years of age, had been at school during the day, and in the afternoon, when she reached home, donned a bathing suit and went down to the mill-pond, accompanied by two girl friends. Telling her companions to watch her dive, she plunged in and never came up.

The girls who were with her could not swim, and they at once gave the alarm, but it was not until about three hours afterward that the body was recovered. It being necessary to drain the water off the pond before it was found. The unfortunate girl was an excellent swimmer and diver, and it is thought that, being overheard, she plunged into the cold water caused heart failure. Miss Young was a daughter of Mr. E. O. Young, a well-known citizen of Owen Sound.
