Mr. Bruce Hart is visiting in Brantford.

Miss Isabel Macleth leaves for Toronto Thursday for a fortnight.

Mrs. J. M. Hargreaves of Ottawa is in town, the guest of Mrs. H. E. Ashplant, Waterloo street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peterman are leaving, July 1, on a motor trip to Toronto, Bradford and Detroit.

Mrs. David Williams, Bishopstowe, has returned home after a happy little visit in Toronto in the home of Mr. A. R. Williams.

Misses Alma and Babe McKay, Rectory street, have returned after attending the graduation exercises, Alma College, St. Thomas.

Mr. C. E. Prince and Mrs. B. W. Nelson were guests at the annual June ball of the Royal Military College, Kingston, Monday evening.

Miss Agnes Stewart, of the Technical and Art School staff, goes to Goderich Thursday, where she will spend a few weeks at Hotel Sunset.

Miss Margaret Reid was the hostess of a charming luncheon recently given in honor of Miss Amy Pearce, a bride-elect of this month. Covers were laid for eight.

In honor of Miss Margaret Simson, a popular bride-elect of next month, Miss Margaret Reid entertained at the tea hour Wednesday at her home, Talbot street. Tea was poured by Mrs. E. E. Reid at an attractive table centered with peonies, and the guests included Misses Madeline Simson, Jessie Gillespie, Theresa White, Isabel Tanton, Margaret Coleman, K. White, Gwen Seraton and Mrs. L. Purdon and Mrs. Chapman.

A happy surprise party was held recently by 45 members of the Aberdeen Mothers' Club, in honor of their retiring president, Mrs. Albert Rumbold.

Sand Pile Finished—Preserves Wanted.

THE sand pile at last is complete at the day nursery, and the kiddies are reveling in its delights to the content of their little hearts. With the summer days, the attendance still shows no signs of abating, and still more high chairs are needed to accommodate the many wee tots safely left there while mothers are at work.

A hint comes from the board that there are still a number of empty fruit jars patiently waiting to be taken away and filled in the canning season.

At her home on Horton street, an interesting feature of the evening was the presentation of a case-serole to Mrs. Rumbold by Mrs. John Waiton, and Mrs. Richard Langford read an address expressing the respect of the members upon losing their president. Games and music were enjoyed, followed by a dainty supper.

Miss Kathleen Ashplant was the hostess of a towel shower Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Norma Sharman, a bride-elect of next month. Numerous attractive towels were received by the guest of honor. The rooms were bright with marguerites, which were also used to deck the supper table. The guests included Mrs. W. J. Ashplant and Misses Iris Graham, Margaret Dudley, Connie and Lillian Gordon, Marjorie Archer, Winnifred Ashplant and Mrs. J. M. Hargreaves of Ottawa.

A happy finale to the round of delightful parties, given in honor of Miss Peggy Gemmill, whose marriage takes place Thursday, was the dinner party given Wednesday evening by Mrs. H. A. Sabine, Ridout street. The guests included the Holmes-Gemmill wedding party. The table was effectively decorated with white roses, gracefully arranged in a large basket with small baskets of rosebuds at each plate. The guests were Miss Peggy Gemmill, Miss Christine Tilden and Miss Katharine Sabine, the bridesmaids; Dr. Chalk, who will be best man, and Mr. Urban Tiger Holmes.

A jolly event for the London Alma Daughters was the annual picnic

ST. JAMES' GUILD FETE CHARMS WITH NOVELTY

Fortunes, Tea, Pretty Booths, Gay Program, Lovely Setting Delight Guests.

Chinese lanterns and electric lights strung from the trees, and numerous booths decked with bright flowers, gave the grounds surrounding the home of Mrs. Rowland Stevens, Base Line road, a gay appearance Wednesday afternoon and evening when the Guild of St. James' Church held its garden party.

There was a large attendance in the afternoon as well as the evening, a great number enjoying a cup of tea in the attractive tea room, in charge of Mrs. Hardy. Miss Mabel Macbeth and Miss Hodgins proved to be interesting forerunners of the future, and keen interest was shown in the silhouette cutting, in charge of Miss Wilburton. The candy table, gayly decorated with popcorn balls and little nosegays made of candy, was in charge of Mrs. Halsett. The ice cream and soft drinks were in charge of Mrs. A. O. Hunt and Mrs. Colbert. Lovely summer flowers were found at the flower table, conveyed by Mrs. C. L. Jeffery, and the various games were in charge of Messrs. Hodgins, McNaughton, Speer and Frank.

A dainty little dance, "Little Miss Macbeth," presented by a group of young girls, under the direction of Miss Wynne-Frye, was greatly enjoyed. The many guests were made welcome by the president, Miss Josephine Macfie, the treasurer, Mrs. Lionel Elliot, and the secretary, Mrs. Jeffries.

held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the attractive country home of Mrs. T. H. Haskett, fourth concession of London Township. A very special guest of the occasion, and one who contributed much to its interest, was Miss Ida Alderson, president of the Toronto Alma Daughters. Other popular guests were Mrs. Lipsey and Mrs. Duncan of St. Thomas. A most provoking program of sports was run off after tea under the convener'ship of Miss Margaret Coleman, these including balloon, peanut, clothespin, candle, married and fat ladies' races. Amongst those included in the merry party were Miss Venning, president, Mesdames A. T. Edwards, A. E. Barbour, F. W. Hughes, Leslie Hawkes, W. G. R. Bartram, F. Marshall, W. H. Hiles, Joseph Smith, Ed, and Misses Gertrude organ, Ethel Lewis, Velma Wylie, Gladys Arcott, M. Hawkins and May Bradshaw.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Green Peas Have Come—How To Can Them

IF YOU have your own vegetable garden the problem of getting green peas perfectly fresh for canning is minimized. But if you must rely on the city markets, the difficulty is very real.

Wash pods well. Shell. Be careful not to bruise the peas. Put enough peas to fill one jar in a cheesecloth square. Dip in boiling water and let boil five minutes. Or place in a colander over boiling water and steam 10 minutes. Plunge at once into cold water and lift out immediately. Plunge again into another pan of fresh, cold water and lift out immediately.

Drain. Pack in sterilized jars to within one inch from top of jar. Add one-half teaspoon salt to a pint can and one-half teaspoon sugar.

Fill jars to within one-fourth inch from the top with boiling water. Fit on rubber and half seal. To half seal tighten cover with thumb and little finger as tight as possible.

To half seal, spring top glass jar—adjust cover and pull over top ball, but do not clamp down the ball over the jar.

Put jars in canner. The water in the canner should cover the jars by two inches. When water begins to boil after filling canner with the jars boil for four hours.

Remove jars from canner and finish sealing. Turn upside down to test for leakage. Cool as quickly as possible.

WITH THE BRIDES

HARTE-SCHINDLER.

St. Paul's R. C. Church, Thamesville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 4 o'clock Monday morning, June 12, when Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schindler, was married to Mr. Patrick Harte of Detroit. Rev. Father McCarthy performed the ceremony.

The bride looked smart in her traveling suit of navy blue crepe with a picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. Robert Schindler, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor, and wore a handsome gown of blue silk with bead trimmings, and a black picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. R. J. Schindler, daughter of Rodney, acted as bridesmaid.

After the ceremony the bride party returned to the bride's home, where a wedding breakfast was served. Covers being laid for 50 guests.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, to the matron of honor a pearl brooch and to the best man a tiepin.

The happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti on the 12:28 to London and points east. Upon their return they will reside in Detroit.

Guests were present from St. Thomas, Chatham, Rodney and Wallaceburg.

BERRYHILL-ROSS.

A pretty June wedding took place Wednesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Horton street, when Lillian Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colmar Ross, was married to Gordon William Berryhill, son of Mr. Thomas Berryhill of Taber, Alta., and the late Mrs. Berryhill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Gunni.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended, and wore a graceful gown of white georgette over satin, with strappings falling from the shoulder, which were caught at the waistline with knots of georgette. Her hat was also of white georgette, trimmed with white roses, and she carried an arm shower bouquet of Mary roses.

The rooms were massed with roses, peonies and daisies. Garlands of daisies decorated the arch under which the ceremony was performed. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Miss Violet Ross, who wore a gown of maize canton crepe with a corsage of roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl ring.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and a dainty buffet supper was served. The bride's mother wore a gown of black satin and a corsage of sweet peas, and Miss Eva Berryhill of Port Huron, sister of the groom, was gowned in mauve georgette, and Mrs. Agur, sister of the bride, wore blue chambray with strappings lined with rose. Little Miss Lorraine Ross, the bride's sister, wore a frock of Alice blue silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Berryhill left on a honeymoon which will be spent at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross at Port Stanley, later going on to Cleveland. The bride traveled in a suit of navy crepe, heavily beaded, and a gray and black hat with blue ostrich trimmings. Upon their return they will reside in London.

Guests were present from Minneapolis, Seattle, Port Hope, Sarnia, Port Huron, Denfield and St. Marys.

STONE-HUGHES.

A pretty wedding took place at high noon on Tuesday, June 20, in Wesley Road Baptist Church, when Gwendolyn Miriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes, 207 Worthy road, was united in marriage to Rev. Leslie Stone of Wyoming. Rev. N. S. McKechnie, pastor of the church, officiating.

Girl friends of the bride had beautified the church with daisies, peonies and roses. The bride was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of white canton crepe with pearl trimmings, with which she wore the conventional veil, caught up with orange blossoms, and carried roses and carnations. Her only attendant was the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls. Miss Marjory Hughes, who was her sister's bridesmaid, wore a dainty mauve costume and carried carnations. Little Gwen James was a dainty flower girl. Clifford W. Chapman, B.A. of London was best man. During the signing of the register, "Because" was sweetly sung by the bride's father. Following the service in church, a buffet wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, which was made festive with decorations in a yellow and white color scheme carried out with quantities of daisies. Those invited included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. May, Mr. and Mrs. George Gross, Mr. and Mrs. The Clark, Mr. and Mrs. F. James and little daughter Pearl, Misses Carrie Blackwell, Effie Wilson, Edna Giles, Rita Crawford, Viola Sinclair and Mr. F. Rundle.

The happy couple left on a honeymoon trip, the bride traveling in a gown of navy taffeta and fawn hat. They will take up their residence at the Wyoming Baptist residence.

HALL-LAMPMAN.
A pretty wedding took place at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, June 17, at the home of the bride's parents, when Mrs. T. A. Lampman, second concession of Bosaquet, when Miss Alice Lampman and Mr. C. Russell Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hall of Warwick, were united in marriage. A solo was rendered by Miss Clara Lean. While the wedding march was being played by Miss Jeanette Hall, sister of the groom, the happy couple took their places under a beautiful arch of roses and orange blossoms. Mr. Milton Hall, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Miss L. Lampman, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Rev. C. L. Cozons, pastor of the Arkona Methodist Church, performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a white satin dress with bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, wearing a beautiful string of pearls, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served on the

AID DEFICIT FUND.

Knox Church W. M. S. Auxiliary has decided to take up a special collection for the general council deficit fund at the June meeting Thursday afternoon. A very special program has been arranged for the meeting, including an address by Dr. Wallace Crawford, returned missionary from China, and solos by Miss Gladys McEvoy. Executives of the other Presbyterian W. M. S. Auxiliaries of the city are specially invited, and afternoon tea will be served at the close of the program.

GIVE STUDIO RECITAL.

A pleasing event of this week was the recital held at the studio of Miss Edith M. Jones, 368 Horton street, when several of her pupils in singing and piano presented a program which was much enjoyed by relatives and friends of the young artists who attended.

A group of young people left to spend a honeymoon in London, Niagara Falls and Toronto, and will reside at their new home on the groom's farm in Warwick.

The gifts were both numerous and costly, including several substantial checks.

SMITH-OLIVER.

The wedding of Margaret Floretta Oliver, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Oliver, to Russell R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith, took place Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at All Saints' Church. Rev. A. A. Rice performed the ceremony.

The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played by Mr. J. McAlpine's wedding party entered the church, and soft music was also played during the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. W. J. Oliver, was lovely in her wedding gown of white georgette and radium lace, which fell in accordion pleats and was caught at the waist with a soft girdle of white ribbon and flower. The flowing sleeves and peonies were trimmed with radium lace. Her veil of silk net was caught with orange blossoms to form a Juliet cap, and she carried a shower of bridal roses.

Miss Gertrude Ward was the bridesmaid, and wore a graceful frock of orchid organdy, with a hat of the same shade, and she carried mauve sweet peas. Mr. Fred Landon was the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oliver, Lorne avenue. The rooms were decorated with carnations and peonies, which were also used on the tables, at which a dainty wedding supper was served. The guests numbered thirty, many of whom were from out-of-town.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on a honeymoon which will be spent in Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride traveling in a smart suit of poiret twill, with a sand colored blouse and a black mohair hat. Upon their return they will reside on Broughdale avenue.

Among the numerous handsome gifts, was a silver tea service, from the main branch of the Bank of Montreal, of which the bride was a former member.

CLINIC GROWS UP LIKE BEAN STALK

Victoria School Well Baby Clinic grew and grew until it was finally necessary, immediately after Easter, to open a second clinic for that end of the city in the Tecumseh School. Attending clinic and keeping well has become such a fad with the little folks that last clinic day in Victoria School there were 36 children there, and nineteen at Tecumseh Clinic.

How is it that the clinics prosper so? Because the mothers tell one another, so child welfare nurses say, and they are all keen to have their babies measure up to a high standard of infanthood efficiency. With the "dangerous days" of hot weather ready to enter at any moment, the wise mother is anxious to get all the authentic advice possible on keeping the baby healthy and the home happy.

Taking the place of family physicians, "Not a bit of it," declares the voice of the Child Welfare Association. "The clinic," says the association, "sends many a child to the family doctor upon detecting trouble when the little one is brought to be weighed and measured."

"In many cases the physical defect or incipient disease would be overlooked by the parents until a danger point had been reached. Through the baby clinic the doctor in the little place in plenty of time to effect a speedy cure."

PRESENT PURSE TO MR. LIDDICOATT

Wednesday afternoon the Mothers' Club of Talbot Street School entertained in honor of Principal W. H. Liddicoatt, who has tendered his resignation, and is retiring from the teaching profession after more than 40 years of service. The guests also included the members of the staff, pupils of the eighth grade, with their mothers, and a number of former pupils of the school. Mrs. Brennan, president, was in charge, and during the progress of the party, Mrs. W. Liddicoatt, on behalf of the mothers' club, pupils, ex-pupils and staff, made a clever little speech in connection with the presentation of a purse of $112 to Mr. Liddicoatt. The actual presentation was made by little Eloise Tennant, who gravely offered the gift almost hidden in a basket of flowers. Mr. Liddicoatt made a suitable reply.

Light refreshments were served by members of the club, assisted by the kindergarten teachers.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Moore left Wednesday for New York, where they will spend the summer. Dr. Moore is taking a post-graduate course in orthodontia, given by Dr. Dewey at the New York College of Dental and Oral Surgery.

How to make the most delicious strawberry jam you ever tasted

New Certo process astonishes housewives

Never fails—requires only two or three minutes boiling. Retains all the flavor and color of ripe strawberries—and makes two-thirds more jam from the same amount of fruit

For a spread on hot biscuits or toast strawberry jam has few equals. Its sweet, delicious flavor makes children of us all.

A new and very revolutionary method has now been discovered by which anyone can make a far better quality quickly and very economically. With the Certo process full-ripe strawberries are used and only three minutes' boiling is required—not the 30 or more minutes so necessary by the old method. The result is a far superior fruit flavor and two-thirds more product from the same amount of fruit because no juice is boiled away. Best of all, the taste of fresh strawberries—the kind you picked in childhood in the old berry patch down by the woods—is now actually preserved for the delectable of winter.

The Certo Process banishes all guess-work or worry, as perfect results are certain.

The new Certo Process for making Strawberry Jam is very simple:

Spread berries on their sides in single layer on flat plate and gently press each berry nearly flat with bottom of small bottle. (This leaves skins nearly intact, but ruptures fruit inside and makes it low, allowing boiling sugar to saturate tissues quickly.) Add juice of one lemon. Have sugar measured in saucpan. Measure berries and juice into large kettle, placing layer of sugar over each cup of berries and allow balance of sugar on top. Allow to stand over night, so that part of sugar will be dissolved, and mixture can be stirred and cooked without crushing fruit. Stir constantly and bring to a vigorous boil over the hottest fire. Boil hard for 3 minutes with continual stirring. Remove from fire and add Certo, stirring it in well. Skim at once and pour quickly within five minutes from removal from fire. Result is about 11 half-pound glasses of delicious strawberry jam for about 7 cents per glass.

The former guess-work or worry of making jam or jelly is now past. The Certo Process is endorsed by government authorities and cooking experts; it insures perfect results with every batch. It is also very economical.

requiring only a few minutes' boiling and thereby making two-thirds more jam or jelly than the old method. It also makes all kinds of jam or jelly, some you have never tasted before, like cherry jelly and rhubarb jam, or unusual combinations like strawberry and pineapple, etc. Hundreds of Canadian housewives with no little pride are exhibiting the new flavors and better quality of jams and jellies made with Certo.

Certo is absolutely pure—contains no gelatine or preservative. It is Mother Nature's "jelly-maker." Housewives particularly have received it with open arms because it is so certain, so economical, so simple, and so useful. They are recommending it to all their friends. Get a bottle of Certo with recipe book from your grocer at once. Try it right away with fresh fruit or with bottled grape juice for grape jelly. Then you will do all your preserving the new and modern way, the easy, economical and better Certo process.

Send your grocer's name to the Douglas Packing Company, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont., and they will mail you a recipe book containing 53 recipes for making jam and jelly.
