LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THEATRE.—The excellent comedy of "The Victims" was produced with much effect in the theatre last night, with Mr. Wheatleigh as "Joshua Butterfield," and Mr. Taylor as "Mr. Merryweather." The piece was very well played, his friend and humble adviser making an immense hit and "bringing down the house," repeatedly. The appearance of Mr. Taylor in the cast, for the first time with Mr. Wheatleigh, was a decided improvement and met with the approbation of the audience.

INQUEST.—An inquest was held yesterday by Dr. Dickson, Coroner, at the Steamboat Exchange, Equilmat, upon the body of the little child named Kabal, supposed to have died from starvation. A jury was empanelled with Mr. Wilby as foreman, and Dr. Wallace who made a post mortem examination of the body, having testified that death resulted from diarrhoea caused by the gross neglect of the mother in failing to provide for the child the common necessities of life, the jury returned a verdict accordingly without charging the mother with criminal responsibility.

DRAWING A KNIFE.—Thomas P. Fuller was charged yesterday in the Police Court with drawing a large bowie knife and threatening to stab Thomas Abson, a special officer. Mr. Bishop defended the accused, and alleged in defence that Fuller had lately arrived from Boise, where such weapons were openly carried. On the night in question he was knocking at the door next the French Hotel, thinking it was the hotel door, when Abson accosted him without saying he was an officer. The case was remanded for one day for evidence; bail being taken.

GEORGE ROBERTS' EFFRONT.—Charles Grammes, of the Louisiana Restaurant, Johnson street, yesterday appeared before the Police Magistrate to answer a charge preferred against him by Peter McQuade, Administrator of the estate of George Roberts, deceased, of being found in the possession of certain articles the property of the deceased, knowing the same to have been stolen. Mr. King defended the accused. Mr. Bishop, the prosecuting Attorney did not appear, and the case was remanded for one day.

THE TRADES LICENSE SUMMONSES.—A number of cases were called yesterday in the Police Court against the delinquent tax payers. In some cases payment was admitted by the Sheriff. A party of 85 was indicted by the Magistrate in addition to the costs in other cases, and a few were postponed for one week. Two summonses were dismissed for the omission of the christian name.

ALL HALLOW'S EVE.—Last night was the popular festival of All Hallow's Eve or "Hallow'-en," well remembered doubtless by most of our readers as a time of youthful delights, and still observed in the north of Ireland and some parts of Scotland. The occasion passed over without special notice in this city.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—The notice proclaiming the election of Mayor and Councilors to serve for the ensuing Municipal year, to take place on the 8th inst., appears in our advertising columns.

AMUSE COURT.—A special Court of Amuse and general goal delivery will be holden in the Supreme Court on Thursday next.

A LITERARY GEM.

The following spicy production from the pen of an "anti-unionist" was found yesterday appended to the door of Fry's Hotel next Culverwell's polling booth during the election at Saanich. The authorship is attributed to a well known "iron-clad."

THE EXPORTATION OF ENGLISH HORSES.

King Victor Emmanuel seems to have the same taste for racing as Louis Napoleon. It is said that he has just purchased the celebrated stallion Canic, as well as General William. It seems strange that England should thus part with her best horses, and the result of her doing so has been plainly shown at the late races, both at home and in this country. Flying Dutchman, Cassack, Barco, and many other equally well-known animals, have been purchased by the French Government at enormous prices for breeding purposes. I saw Flying Dutchman the other day at the Imperial Harem of the Bois de Boulogne. He looked in splendid condition, and almost as fresh as ever. The French do not hesitate to give tremendous prices even for their carriage horses, which they bring over from England in numbers that would surprise you. One has only to walk down the Avenue de l'Imperatrice during the season to be convinced of the immense improvement which has taken place of latter years, not only in the style in which the equipages which crowd the drive are turned out, but in the breed of horses one sees, which bid fair to rival those so justly admired in Bolton Bow.—Paris Cor. of the Star.

AN ELECTION DIRGE.

Who killed Culverwell? "I," said old Young, "With my iron-clad, I killed Culverwell." Who saw him die? "I," said the Mayor, "For I was out there, I saw him die." Who made his shroud? "I," said H. Nathan, "I put a long face on, And made his shroud." Who dug his grave? "I," said Joe Frimble, "Although I'm not nimble, I dug his grave." Who toll'd the knell? "I," said A. D. Bell, "When the stars of J. Fell, I toll'd the knell."

ELECTION ITEMS.

Mr. Culverwell's party brought out poor Peter Lind to vote, although he is lying at the point of death; he was wrapped in blankets and brought to the polls, a distance of five miles, but on arriving there it was found that all their trouble was in vain, as Lind had not taken the oath of allegiance in this colony, as the act provides. Mr. Culverwell seeing that the election was against him, showed his good sense by resigning a little before three o'clock, and telling his supporters to vote for Mr. Cochrane. Mr. Selim Franklin who up to that time had refrained from voting, at this came forward and offered to vote, but Mr. Culverwell told him he did not want his vote now, and advised him, amid the laughter of the bystanders, to poll his vote for Cochrane. Mr. Pitwell sensibly took our advice of yesterday morning, and after making a nominal show of running for a few hours, during which time he did not poll a vote, withdrew from the field at two o'clock.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

Marshal MacMahon has been appointed governor of Algeria.

A Russian imperial decree permits the free export of horses from all parts of the kingdom.

Captain Kingsley swam across Lough Derg, in the Shannon, the other day. The distance is five miles.

The Marquis De Rivera has been appointed Spanish minister at the imperial court of Mexico.

A reporter's pew has been provided at one of the London churches where his hecabi weddings are celebrated.

As an instance of the plentiful supply in Ireland it is stated that potatoes of the best quality can be obtained in Limerick market at 8d. per stone.

The ex-Grand Duke of Tuscany has just been re-elected Mayor of Schlackenworth, in Bohemia. The ex-Governor is philosophically content to act as mayor of his village.

COIN OF THE NATIONAL DEBT.—It appears that the amount paid to the Bank of England in the preceding week, for the management of the National Debt was £301,501, 16s. 5d.

The observations made by Lord Donegal at the masonic assembly recently held at Belfast, in reference to the late riots there, have attracted the attention and drawn down the animadversion of the Grand Lodge of Ireland.

The statue of Father Matthew, in Cork, is to be inaugurated on the 10th October. Every effort is being made to divert the ceremonial of all party demonstration.

At Rome, on the 30th Aug., the Comiceau Cardinal Savelli, promoted to the purple by the reigning Pope in 1863, expired at the age of 72, after having held many important offices, among which the most conspicuous was that of governor of Rome.

According to rumor published by the Daily News, the Brazilian Government has rejected the proposals for a renewal of diplomatic relations with England, excepted by the Portuguese, and accepted by the English Cabinet.

A visit of Victor Emmanuel to Paris is again spoken of. The reason assigned is the christening of the children of his daughter. The eldest of these was born in July, 1862, and has as yet not undergone that ceremony.

On the 24th Mr. William Alexander Mackinnon, M.P. for the borough of Eps, is about to be elevated to the Peerage. The hon. gentleman has been a member of the House of Commons with scarcely any intermission since June, 1840, and has been a steady supporter of the Whig party.

The following story is going the round of Paris.—A small German baron had occasion, it seems, to see Baron Rothschild, of Frankfurt. The great financier was writing away for bare life when Baron X. was announced. He did not even lift his eyes, but said, "Take a chair, sir." The baron, with true German touchiness about titles, said, "Sir, indeed! I think M. le Baron did not hear my name. I am a baron also—Baron X." "Ah! a thousand pardons," said the banker still writing; "you are a baron—take two chairs, then, if you will be so kind, and wait till I have finished this letter."

The city of Paris is just about to undertake a gigantic work, the supplying the city with pure water. To this end a reservoir, capable of supplying 40,000 cubic feet of water every twenty four hours, is now being constructed at Montmartre at an expense of 40,000,000 francs. The water is to be brought from the Marne.

NEW PAPERMAKING PROCESS.—We understand that a gentleman of this city has patented a process for making paper stock from flax, wool, or other fibrous materials, by which it is claimed that one-half the chemical now used will be saved, and that good stock may be made for less than six cents per pound.—Boston Transcript.

A correspondent of the Sheffield Independent states that one ounce of newly-burnt slaked lime will purify 16 gallons of the foulest water.

REMOVING THE BLOCKADE.

We have received advices from Bermuda of the 21st ult. Trade has been exceedingly brisk, and the arrivals of blockade-runners almost unprecedented, 11 being reported by this mail. On the 20th, the steamers Lynn, Captain Reed, and Florio, Captain Gilmore, arrived from Wilmington. On the 6th, the steamer Alice, Captain Grant, arrived from the same port. On the 10th there were three arrivals, viz, the Little Hattie, Captain Leiby; the Flamingo, Captain Atkinson; and the Helen, Captain Wain. On the 12th the steamer Mary Bowers, Captain Horsey, arrived, having been chased by a Federal gunboat. She was obliged to throw overboard upwards of 60 bales of cotton, which were picked up by the Federal gunboat E. T. Cuyler, and sold at Bermuda. The Old Dominion has also arrived with 1025 bales of cotton. The other arrivals reported were the Let Her Re, Let Her Rip, and the City of Petersburg, all with full cargoes of cotton. The Anne, Captain Taylor, arrived from Nassau on the 23rd ult. It is reported that the steamer Falcon Fisher has broken down when on her passage to Halifax, being bound to that port for repairs. The fine ship Storm King, 1500 tons register, was loading cotton for Liverpool. She had a cargo of 3000 bales, a large portion of which was on account of the Confederate Government, being part in liquidation of the loan. It was expected that she would leave Bermuda on the 22d ult. Most of the bales were repacked and pressed for the vessel. The fine steamer Owl and Wild Rover (blockade runners) had arrived from England. The Little Hattie was chased and had to throw overboard upwards of 270 bales of cotton. The departures had also been large. The Mary Celeste, Old Dominion, Alice, Florio, Chicora, City of Petersburg, and Ella being reported as sailing for blockaded ports. The Annie, the North Heath, the Little Hattie, and the Helen, had sailed for Halifax, Nova Scotia, for it was supposed, repairs. A telegram was sent from Lloyd's on Thursday to the outposts stating that the steamer Lillian was captured on the 24th of July. This information is incorrect, as advices report her arrival at Bermuda. She subsequently sailed for Wilmington, arriving at that port about the 4th ult, and on entering she was chased by the Federal gunboat Slenadoah. No less than 267 shots were fired at her, but she escaped entirely, owing to the courage of her commander. Late advices report the blockade trade somewhat suspended, most of the steamers either having been injured, or their officers suffering from fever.—Eur Times.

HOW THE POOR LIVE IN LONDON.—The larger part of the poor women in London get a living by charring and laundry work. One of the husband will not pay the six shillings rent for two rooms, and the schooling of two or three boys and girls, and "keep the wolf from the door" as well. The wife, thinking she got out the rent in a satisfactory way, working for the shops in his own neighborhood, or for those at the West End, makes from eighteen shillings to one pound per week; a laborer the same sum. This leaves a small surplus for clothes, to assure you, if any at all, after the rent is paid, and the family consumed at the end of the week. I know as a fact that most wives who are too delicate, or are unable for other reasons to go out to work, never eat meat themselves, and they and their children mainly subsist on bread and dripping, and the rent is paid in some instances a luxury is improvised in the way of a herring, or an ounce or two salt butter and a herring. This I know to be the fare of a poor family who, out of £1 5s. per week, have 6s. 6d. rent to pay, and to support five children, and to keep the house, and to buy good meat of mutton and then in the week, or his health would decline for want of proper nourishment, and his work would flag wofully in consequence. On the return of the wives from the wash-tub or mangle they get only a few minutes to spend in the kitchen, and put them to bed. All day some of the children have been at the ragged or national schools; perhaps one boy has been carrying newspapers, and parcels, or doctor's medicine, for 8s. 6d. per week; another has had the care of the baby, as well as a small child, and has spent his time on different doctored, exposed to the temptation of marbles, pitch and toad, and countless perils to himself and charges in street affairs and meales of different kinds throughout the day.—Once a Week.

A collection of wild animals has just been presented to the French Government by the King of Siam, as well as two enormous ounces full of valuable seeds and vegetables. Among the presents are several deer, and said to be the best specimens of their kind that have reached Europe. These are a Thibet bear, a Cambage monkey, a Mongolian pheasant of extraordinary size and wonderfully beautiful plumage; also a miniature deer from Pegu, a magnificent Malacca tiger, a black Siamese panther, remarkably large in size and ferocity; a Burman peacock of singular beauty, two hooded pigeons of which the fecundity is so extraordinary that it is expected to make the fortune of the fancier who may be able to acclimatize them in Europe; and a black water-serpent, the bite of which is said to produce the same effect as a violent attack of apoplexy. To the above are to be added two Siamese buffaloes, which in that strange country are trained to run races, as horses are in England and France. A Cochinchinese Siamese carriage completes the list of those very original presents, which it is to be hoped we may soon see exhibited in Paris.—London Times Cor.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Marvellous cures of scalds, stiff joints, paralysis of the limbs, and other crippling diseases of the bones, sinews, and muscles, which flow from the Ointment and Pills are said to be the best specimens of their kind that have reached Europe. THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Young countries, like young people, are trying orders to pass through. No one is they out of one misfortune than they into another. Still, with a vitality and activity unknown in more mature years, a stake of misfortune as the spaniel does water, and are ready once more to plunge into trouble. As an infant colony, we had our share of the stumbles and falls early life, and with the happy oblivion of past dangers—the utter defiance of an experience—which characterises children still go on our unthinking way, as if world were a play-ground, and our chief occupation a hunt after butterflies. From our history is one of official mismanagement and abuse. Now it is defaulting, then bezzeling, and again gross neglect. What the mischief has grown too great for comment, it forces itself on public attention, for a time we wonder how such things be; but our dear-bought experience teaches us to amend. It is true we sometimes punish the guilty when they are covered, but we take no pains to guard against future misfeasance.

The evidence which has just been given our Police Court in the case against Superintendent of Police, unfolds a state of affairs as disgraceful to our police department as it is injurious to the public interest, although the abuses have probably existed in Victoria since the year 1859, by mere accident, they are first made acquainted with the facts in the Police Court in the autumn of 1864. It is not to be presumed, however, that during all this period gamblers have been plying their vocation in the houses of the place, unknown to the police. On the contrary, everybody seemed to be aware of the matter but those whose duty it was to detect and bring the culprits to justice. Occasionally an unfortunate Chinaman would be brought up for witness his brother celestial's money, but it was quietly pointed out by the press, that it was much higher game to look after than Chinese. The "high game," however, remained unmolested. We do not intend here, course, to touch upon the merits of the case which was yesterday sent to a higher court than that of the Police, but we think it has been sufficient (added to what we know much our Police Department requires sweeping hand of reform. A department which has been a terror to only the influential evil-doer is not the sort of institution required in a colony like our own.

Playing a game of "faro" is, with doubt, morally no worse than betting horse-races; but so long as the former is prohibited by law, justice requires that supporters and abettors should be punished. We cannot afford to have the law wicked for the foundation of society depends on impartial and strict administration. Gambling is to be permitted, let it be done openly, under the control of and by those from the authorities; but let it not be a game that we have laws in the country which cannot enforce. So far, we have got along peacefully and quietly. For a town got up originally by men of all nationalities, a migratory in their tendencies, Victoria has been peculiarly exempt from crimes of serious character; but this satisfactory result has been in no way owing to the extensions of the police. In their case, we have had the evil effects of ill-paid officers. We have had men set to watch over the public safety, who were paid the merest pittance, and that in the most irregular and fit manner. Can it be wondered that, under such circumstances, the guardianship of public should be subject to influences which eat at the very root of public safety? A members of the police presumed to be of higher order; of human nature than
