tion by Mr. Richardson, Orchard admitted that he had seen Detective McPartland this morning but said the Haywood case had been discussed only casually. Orchard continued his testimony by saying that as a result of his letter to Moyer asking for money he had received from Jack Simpkins $100, which he said Haywood had sent to him. Orchard then proceeded to trace his movements prior to his second visit to Caldwell, which was made in November, 1905. He was accompanied by Simpkins. They attempted to kill Steunenberg, but did not succeed. Simpkins, Orchard said, "got scared and went Haywood case had been discussed onbut did not succeed. Simpkins, Orchard said, "got scared and went back to Wallace". This was about December 1, 1905, and Orhard had back to Wallace." This was about December 1, 1905, and Orhard had not seen him since. Simpkins had helped him make the bomb which, with some changes, was used to kill Steunenberg. Orchard also left Caldwell after the failure of the attempt with Simpkins. He telephoned Bill Easterly of Silver City, asking him if he did not want to come over to Easterly of Silver City, asking him if he did not want to come over to Caldwell, and "take part in a contract." Easterly declined, saying he was too busy at home. Orchard then went to Salt Lake to get a man named Shoddy to help. Shoddy, however, could not be found. Returning to Caldwell alone, Orchard went to Caldwell alone, Orchard went to the Saratoga hotel, where he made no effort to conceal himself. Richardson wanted to know why it was that with pienty of opportunities to kill Steun-

"I had it to put on my shoes when necessary so as to prevent taking up my trail by dogs."
Orchard broke down and cried as Richardson plied him with questions as to how McPartland had talked to him in the jail and told him Bibl stories. Richardson plied Orchard rapidly with questions regarding the manner in which McPartland got his Orchard regained his com confession. Orchard regained his composure and answered the questions in his usual even voice.

The day after the explosion Orchard said he was placed under parole and arrested the next day, Monday. After being in Caldwell fall eighteen days he was taken to the Roise penitentiary taken to the Boise penitentiary and placed in the new cell house.

Richardson's questioning showed an attempt to prove coercion through litary confinement. Orchard admit ted that he had been brought to the penitentiary without his consent and without being advised as to his rights.

He also admitted that his confinement practically was solitary, his only cell practically was solitary, his only cell respect, yesterday afternoon, with neighbor being Bob Webster, a conthe president Mrs S. I. Thompson in ned murderer. Then he told of demned murderer. Then he bis first interview with Detective Mc-Partland, to whom he complained about his treatment. Later, he said, McPartland had talked to him about his past life, and told him about King David, who had been a murderer, but had repented and found forgiveness, becoming "a man after God's own

At this juncture Orchard's heart apparently was touched, tears came to his eyes, and it was some time before he regained control of himself. Richardson pursued his questioning by referring to McPartland's work among the Molly Maguires in Penn-sylvania, Orchard said McPartland had told him much about the lawlessness in the coal mines. McPartland, he said, told him about "Kelly the Bum," who had committed many murders, but had turned state's evidence and has escaped punishment by leaving the country after $800 had been raised for his expenses. Kelly never reformed, McPartland told Orchard. He also had been told of other figures in the coal fields troubles.

In low tones Orchard told of his conversion, how when in the peni-tentiary in thinking over his past life he concluded to put himself out of the way after making a clean breast of it all. He said he had come to feel that the grave did not end it all. The story was told in a hushed court room, broken only by the drone of Orchard's to evening from 8 to 10 a good musical programme will be rendered. In consequence, the entire country gives promise of a splendid crop. The rains have been so regular that the irrigation system has almost been forgotten. However, several weeks later than usual, the main ditch of the A. R. and R. system is filled with water, which is being distributed over the country far and wide. The water was flowing at Cardston some days ago, and is now here. A heavy shower fell on Tuesday evening, while yesterday there was a thunderstorm, which appeared to be general over much of southern Alberta. Boise, June 13.—Replying to a ques-

trict are very much pleased at the agtion of the provincial government in deciding to annul the lease recently granted to the Capital City Canning company to seine the waters of Cowichan harbor. Under the terms of the lease the company has the sole right to use nets in the harbor, as near the mouth ofthe river as they wish, for the next nine years, and all this for the years and of the delays. for the vast sum of fifty dollars a year. There is a provision in the lease stating that they must not take steelhead or trout but in view of the steelhead or trout but in view of the necord of fishing companies in the past, little attention is paid to it. A sportsman discussing the matter with a reporter for the Colonist said "A most extraordinary feature of the case is the fact that the lease had been granted in the face of opposition from every quarter. Before the Dominion fisheries commission of 1905 and 1906 the Indians gave evidence strongly opposed to such action,

If Attorney General Fulton's contention is right there will be no seining in Cowichan harbor for the local government will not allow it. It seems only just that a question which is of so great local interest should be settled at home rather than by the Ottawa authorities who know nothing of the matter except what our representatives tell them."
