The report of the committee on educa-tion showed where defects existed in the school system and how to remedy them. The report of the committee on music stid home attractions was unique, and many valuable suggestions were made showing the good results obtained by making home attractive. The committee on temperance made suggestions how temperance could be promoted, but the grange does not uphold prohibition or compulsory total abstinence.

The committee on transportation and nonopoly brought forward a report showing attained, how they obtained that power, and the various means they use to continue it. They did not hesitate to say that bribery, by discriminating in favor of legislators and judicial officers had been resorted to, thus destroying the independence of the representatives of the people, and making them in reality the tools of corporations. They believed the tariffs were made just as high as the people would bear and they recommend that the domining grange use all its influence with the government to get them to exercise their power grange use all its influence with the government to get them to exercise their power over and control the conduct of railways. They also suggested that all applicants for parliamentary honors be asked these questions: 1st, "Will you with your vote and influence seek to restrain effectually the growing tendency of corporations to oppress the people by means of high and discriminating rates beyond the actual value of service rendered. 2nd: "Will you under any circumstances accept from any railway company any token of recognition conferring upon you the rights of travel over said railway without paying for fach privileges the ordinary rates of pas-sage. THE MAGDALEN ASYLUM.

For many years the managers of the Magdalen asylum have been in the habit of holding their annual meeting and issuing their report early in the month of January ; but being desirous for various reasons to make their year agree with that of the Government, which ends on the 30th September, they have resolved to change the time of the annual meeting to the first Wednesday in October. They have therefore resolved not to publish any lengthy report now; but for the information of those who help support the institution they give the following statistics, which it must be remembered cover only nine months:—The inmates remaining in the institution on 1st January, 1881 numbered 40, and there have been admitted since 37, making a total of 77. Of these 17 were sent to service, 22 left of their own accord, 5 were vice, 22 left of their own accord, 5 were sent to the hosnital 3 were sent to friends,

ANOTHER COLONY.

Some twenty persons held a meeting at Chesley (Co. Bruce) on Monday last to organize a northwest colony. Four of the number were selected to go up and prospect for a location, consisting of Messrs.

O. Smith, James B. Cosgrove, John Hassett, and Fred Adolph. The sum of $15 apiece was paid by the company to assist in defraying the expenses of the committee, who are instructed to take time and find a desirable location, take up land and immed iately send word to Chesley, when the bolance of the party will at once follow.
