THE STAGE-DRIVER'S STORY.

How General Scott's Life was Saved and How His Driver Twice Escaped Death.

The traveler of the present day, as he is hurried along by the lightning express, in its buffet cars and palace sleepers, seldom reverts in thought to the time when the stage coach and packet were the only means of communication between distant points. It is rare that one of the real old-time stage drivers is met with now-a-days, and when the writer recently ran across Fayette Haskell of Lockport, N.Y., he felt like a bibliographer over the discovery of some rare volume of "forgotten lore." Mr. Haskell, although one of the pioneers in stage driving (he formerly ran from Lewiston to Niagara Falls and Buffalo), is hale and hearty and bids fair to live for many years. The strange stories of his early adventures would fill a volume. At one time when going down a mountain near Lewiston with no less a personage than General Scott as a passenger, the brakes gave way and the coach came on the heels of the wheel horses. The only remedy was to whip the leaders to a gallop. Gaining additional momentum with each revolution of the wheels the coach swayed and pitched down the mountain side into the streets of Lewiston. Straight ahead at the foot of the steep hill flowed the Niagara river, towards which the four horses dashed, apparently to certain death. Yet the firm hand never relaxed its hold nor the clear brain its conception of what ought to be done in the emergency. On dashed the horses until the narrow dock was reached on the river bank, when by a masterly exhibition of nerve and daring, the coach was turned in scarce its own length and the horses brought to a standstill before the pale lookers on could realize what had occurred. A purse was raised by General Scott and presented to Mr. Haskell with high compliments for his skill and bravery.

Notwithstanding all his strength and his robust constitution the strain of continuous work and exposure proved too much for Mr. Haskell's constitution. The constant jolting of the coach and the necessarily cramped position in which he was obliged to sit, contributed to this end, and at times he was obliged to abandon driving altogether.

Speaking of this period he said:

"I found it almost impossible to sleep at night; my appetite left me entirely and I had a tired feeling which I never knew before and could not account for."

"Did you ever give up driving entirely?"

"No. I tried to keep it but it was only with the greatest effort. This state of things continued for nearly twenty years until last October when I went all to pieces."

"In what way?"

"Oh, I doubled all up, could not walk without a cane and was incapable of any effort or exertion. I had a constant desire to urinate both day and night and although [illegible] like passing a gallon every ten min[illegible] a few drops could escape and [illegible] with sediment. Finally it [illegible]ely and I thought death [illegible]

[illegible] then?"

[illegible] done long before: [illegible]nder her advice I be[illegible]

[illegible] sult?"

[illegible] stopped the closed [illegible] still more wonder[illegible]ow. The sediment [illegible] returned, and I am [illegible] for twenty more years [illegible] aid of Warner's Safe [illegible] wonders for me as well as for so many others."

Mr. Haskill's experience is repeated every day in the lives of thousands of American men and women. An unknown evil is undermining the existence of an innumerable number, who do not realize the danger they are in until health has entirely departed and death perhaps stares them in the face. To neglect such important matters is like drifting in the current of Niagara above the Falls.

It Will be Overworked.
From the Philadelphia Call.

"Oh, dear, won't you please hide me somewhere?" exclaimed a big R, as it stumbled into the editorial room and looked around in affright.

"What is the matter?" we asked sympathetically.

"Matter!" said the R. "It is nearly September."

"Certainly," we responded, "but how does that affect you?"

"Affect me?" said the R piteously. "Why, I shall be worked to death by the rural papers. Don't you know that SeptembeR is the OysteR season?"

No Danger of Returning.
From the Boston Post.

"Do you know, George, I wish you would stay at home to-morrow."

"Why, darling?"

"Oh, because this afternoon a terrible-looking tramp came here while you were away and ordered me to give him something to eat, so I had to give him all that sponge cake I made last Saturday, and, George, he says he's coming back to-morrow."

"Did he eat the cake, darling?"

"[illegible] of it. Yes, every bit."

"[illegible] your mind at rest, dear, [illegible]

[illegible] the Matter.

[illegible] the northwest corner of [illegible] King streets cannot fail to [illegible] the handsome windows of W. & D. Dineen, who have just opened a fine new assortment of fall goods. The styles are nobby, the goods of the best quality, and all are marked at reasonable prices. The public schools open on Monday, and Dineen has an immense variety of boys' and childrens' felt hats, polo and Scotch caps, just the thing for school wear. Parents who take a pride in the appearance of their children should rig them out in a new tile from Dineen's.—Adv.

Remember the Bon Marche keeps open till 10 to-night.

With prices of manufactures and grain so decidedly on bottom rock, the indications of change all point toward improvement. It is not likely that better times will come with a rush and boom as in 1879; but it is more probable that a period of steady and moderate trade will be inaugurated by the opening of the fall movements of business.

—Disease gathers strength as it advances. Annihilate it at its birth. When the bowels become sluggish, digestion feeble, or the liver torpid, they should be aroused and stimulated with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, a medicine foremost in usefulness among alteratives. It should not be abandoned if an immediate cure is not effected, but be used as it deserves, systematically and with persistence. It will then prove that it is thorough.

—Mrs. O'Hearn, River street, Toronto, uses Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for her cows for cracked and sore teats; she thinks there is nothing like it. She also used it when her horses had the epizootic with the very best results. Do not be persuaded to take any other oil in place of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

—Thomas Myers, Bracebridge, writes: "Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is the best medicine I sell. It always gives satisfaction, and in cases of coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., immediate relief has been received by those who use it."

Parlor Furniture.

—There is great deception in the manufacture of upholstered goods; purchasers should be careful and buy from a reliable house. T. F. Cummings & Co., 349 Yonge street, are manufacturing none but first-class work; the prices are very reasonable for the inducements they offer. e.d.

Q. O. R.

The punctuality of the Queen's Own [illegible] all meetings and parades has become proverbial since they commenced [illegible] their watches repaired at R. Given [illegible]erty's, 205 Queen street west, a few doors west of Simcoe. 1-3-6

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. Lowden & Co., Wholesale, Agents for Toronto. 2-4-6.
