CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS YOUR BEST FRIEND

Concrete Hog Houses and Feeding Floors

Enable you to raise bigger hogs and better pork without heavier feeding. A concrete feeding floor permits the animals to clean up all the feed without waste, and eliminates the possibility of your hogs contracting disease. To you they mean bigger profits.

Hog houses of concrete are sanitary, easily cleaned, maintain an even temperature and give plenty of light and air, which tend to better the quality of pork. Concrete will not rust or rot. Never needs repairs or painting. It will outwear any other material for farm structures. Write for this beautifully illustrated free book "What the Farmer can do with Concrete." It shows how to build Hog Houses, Feeding Floors and many other things the farmer needs.

PUZZLES THE TRAVELER.

The Native Names of Various Foreign Cities and Countries.

A person who is starting on a trip around the world must be thoroughly acquainted with the names of the different places in which he is to stop or he will find himself much perplexed on arriving at the same. One would think that London is called London the world over, but such is not the case. Once you arrive in France and London become Londres. To most persons in Canada, the capital of Turkey is called Constantinople, but the inhabitants of the Ottoman empire call their chief city Stamboul, and it appears as such on all Turkish maps.

Rome and Florence in Italy may sound all right to the average Canadian, but once you visit the two cities you discover that they are called Roma and Firenze, respectively. Not one in six of the ordinary inhabitants of Greece call their country by such name. The proper name is Helles.

Most travelers making their first visit to the Holy Lands are startled by the announcement that Jerusalem is called El Kuds, the Sea of Galilee, Bahr Tubaripeh; River Jordan, Sheriat el Kebir; the Dead Sea, Dahr Lut, and Bethlehem, Beit Lahm.

Every person in the Dominion knows what country you are referring to when speaking of Switzerland, but the traveler visiting the little European republic discovers that the inhabitants of the same call it everyting but Switzerland. The population of that country is mostly made up of French and Germans with about six per cent. of Italians and those nationalities call it respectively La Suisse, Schweiz and Svizzera.

Three peoples in one country calling that country by three different names may appear bad enough, but the English and other tourists stopping in the capital of Egypt call it Cairo, the French officials stationed there call it Le Caire, and the Arabs, who were there first and should know best, call it Masr el Kahira.

A Japanese has to leave his own country and go to the nearest English-speaking settlement to know he has ever been in Japan at all. Japan, to its own natives is Nipon or Nippon—whichever way you think gets nearest to their pronunciation.

Likewise there is no China and more strangely still, there is no word in Chinese to represent China as a whole. We of the outside always think of that vast republic as of one country and of one people, whilst in reality it is practically a number of countries with a wide divergence of language and race. The natives range from copper to almost white, and vary in religion from Buddhists to Jews, and in language from Siamese and French in the south to Russian in the north.

The best way to express the term China and the one most often used seems to be Chung Kwoh, China proper, but it is to be expected that the new Government will soon adopt a more comprehensive name for its country along with its other modern improvements.

Most Chinese towns with which we think we are familiar are quite something else if we happen to visit them—such as Kuang Chou, for Canton. Corea calls itself Tsotsien; the natives of Siam when speaking of their country refer to it as T'hai, and the Persian thinks he lives in Iran.

Strength of Eggshells.

Most people are aware of the power of eggshells to resist external pressure on the ends, but not many would credit the results of tests recently made, which appear to be genuine. Eight ordinary hens' eggs were submitted to pressure applied externally all over the surface of the shell, and the breaking pressures varied between 400 and 675 pounds per square inch. With the stresses applied internally to twelve eggs these gave way at pressures varying between thirty-two and sixty-five pounds per square inch. The pressure required to crush the eggs varied between forty and seventy-five pounds. The average thickness of the shells was thirteen-thousandths of an inch.

Famine Origin of Game.

Herodotus learned from the Lydians that the Greek ball game originated in a prolonged famine in Lydia. For some time they endured it, but at last they invented dice, knucklebones, the ball and all other games except draughts. One day they played these games so as to keep their minds off food; the next day they took food and did not play. This alternation eked out their provisions for eighteen years, at the end of which time, the situation still being desperate, half the population emigrated. One can only suppose that the ball games were not very athletic, otherwise the increased appetite given by them must have undone much of the saving.

An Expert in Handwriting.

Mother was fair, but she wishes to be fairer still. Adorned by nature, she sought further beautification. Loveliness was her great goal. Invited out for dinner, she stood before the mirror and proceeded to apply the pencil to her eyebrows. This, it may be remarked, is an age of artificiality, and mother had reached this age.

The little daughter stood by and wondered. Finally she asked: "Mother, what are you writing on your face for?"

Wily Hawks.

Hawks have been seen to follow in the wake of a moving railway train, to swoop down on small birds that were suddenly disturbed and frightened by the noise and therefore for the moment were off their guard.

French Chickpea Farms.

The French people are great chicken raisers. A return gives the income derived by them from this industry as $335,000,000.

SHILOH
quickly stops coughs, cures colds, and heals the throat and lungs. 25 cents.

Poor Economy.

Don't try to save a few dollars by feeding second class or musty hay and grain to your horses. If you ill treat or underfeed your stock you rob yourself.

IN THE SHEEPFOLD.

- Storms are bad for sheep.
- Never grab a sheep by the wool.
- Separate the ram from the ewes at night.
- Oats are good for the breeding stock, and corn is best to produce heat and fat.
- Four to five pounds of roots daily to each sheep will improve the health and make meat tender.
- The best roots for sheep are sugar beets with rutabagas next.
- Sheep do not require warm barns, but they must be protected from drafts and sleety storms.

Handling a Husband.

There is a happy man in everything. It is said that a shrewd old woman heard her married daughter say: "If my husband doesn't do such and such a thing, he'll find himself in hot water." "My child," said the woman, "a man is like an egg. Kept in hot water a little while he may boil soft, but keep him there long and he hardens."

A Coincidence.

"I'm afraid, George," said his flamee, "that you are going from bad to worse." "Quite a coincidence," muttered George. "That's what Clara said when I threw her over for you."

Ice House a Necessity.

An agricultural paper declares that an ice house has become indispensable on most farms.

There is no poisonous ingredient in Holloway's Corn Cure, and it can be used without danger of injury.
