RARUS BEATS "TIME."

On Saturday afternoon last the final day of the summer meeting at Buffalo, the trial heats in the special speed class took place. The conditions of the race were that if the first three heats were trotted to average 2:18 or better, $1,000 would be paid, and $500 additional if 2:14 were beaten in any of such heats. Rarus was the only horse to make the attempt, and the following are the details of the trial:

It was 4:45 p.m. when Rarus appeared for his contest against time. Lula, Great East-ers and Hannis, who had been entered for this event, were drawn. When the great flyer came out with Splan behind him, he was greeted with round after round of ap-plause. The horse looked fine as possi-ble, and fit to trot for any man's life. A run-ning horse was provided to accompany and stimulate him. After enough warming up to satisfy Splan, the horse came down flying, the word was nodded for and given, and off he started on his first heat. The mare did not set out for him until he was one hundred yards from the score, and when he reached the quarter pole and the watches marked 35½, it was evident that 2:14 would not be beaten in that heat. The half was in 1:09½, the three-quarter pole in 1:48 and 2:17 was being out at the time of the mile. This was fast enough to show that the horse was at himself, but left it an open question whether he could beat 2:14 that day. In the pools he was the favorite at about $50 to $85 against time.

In about half an hour he came out again, this time meaning business. The mare started with him from the score, and kept close up. On he flew, but just before he reached the quarter-pole he lost his feet. The champion is a poor breaker and the break continued up the stretch, until the horse came almost to a stand still. He was set going again, and when he came home the watches in the judges' stand marked 2:50. Alas for hopes, here was a fizzle indeed. The $1,000, the main purse was lost, and it looked blue for the $500 conditioned on beating 2:14.

Without leaving the track, the horse again came down and got the word, but broke almost immediately, and was turned before reaching the draw-gate, brought back and blanketed for a couple of minutes. Now came the hour of victory. Again Rarus came flying down, this time as steady as clock work, the word was given, and with the runner at his heels he flew along. Every foot-fall was eagerly watched, not a mistake did he make, and when the quarter-pole was passed the watches marked 88½ seconds, a 2:14 gait, and on the slowest quarter of the track. The straight work of the back stretch was now before him, where his mighty stride could have its perfect work, and along this he flew at a terrible pace, reaching the half in 1:05½, or 2:11½ gait, and trotting the second quarter in 82½ seconds, a 2:09 gait. The speed was slackened very little on the third quarter, the gallant trotter never making a skip, or faltering, and when the timers noted 1:38½ at the three-quarter pole, the exclamation, "He'll do it" was heard all over the track. Now the seconds became precious, the horse was tiring as Splan could feel, and as the wire was ap-proached he gently touched him with his whip, tap, tap, on his hind quarters. Two minutes was recorded by the watches; 2:10, and he was within one hundred feet of the score, 2:11, 2:12, and he is only fifty feet away, 2:18, and he is here, and clock goes scores of watches as he sweeps under the survival and performance, having only them selves to blame.

CANADIAN HORSES AT SARATOGA

GREY CLOUD.

The following is the report of the steeple-chase at Saratoga on Aug. 2, in which Grey Cloud was engaged—

Betting.—Waller, $650; Coronet, $250; Dandy, $100; Redding, $30; Grey Cloud, $35.

The following is the report of the steeple-chase at Saratoga on Aug. 2, in which Grey Cloud was engaged—

Betting.—Waller, $650; Coronet, $250; Dandy, $100; Redding, $30; Grey Cloud, $35.

The Race—At the start Redding took the lead and was followed by Waller, Coronet, Dandy and Grey Cloud, they running in that order round the east field. At the north section of the water jump Redding led by fifty ten lengths, Waller running a length in front of Coronet, who was about the same distance in front of Dandy, with Grey Cloud away off. The jump over the water was a very fine one and elicited some applause. After making the jump Coronet swerved up so badly up toward the judges' stand that Jim Henry slipped in with Dandy and took third place. In the mean time Gaffney was going right on about his business and L L Waller by ten lengths across the west field, over the main track and through the pasture by the Pierre Lorillard, Belmont and Dow-well stables, passing which the course turns sharply in towards the east field, the horses having to cross the main and fractional track-rails. Crossing these Maney gradually closed up on Redding with Waller, as also did Deadhead and Coronet, so that when Redding took the wall by the seven furlong pole he only led four lengths, while the others were a length apart. The next jump was the south section of the water, and with a rush Redding took it gradually, as also did Waller and Deadhead, but Coronet over-jumped it and stumbled, throwing Setcliff out of the saddle. He was quickly on his feet, neither he nor the horse being hurt. Redding led again over the fractional track, but in the run round the west field Waller gradually overtook him, and as Deadhead was also close up the three took the fence and hedge by McDaniel's gate together. The next jump was the wall opposite the public stand, over which Maney led four lengths, having gained nearly that distance by riding close to the white flags. Dandy was second and Redding third. The course now laid parallel to the fractional track and led into the main track for the run home. At first it looked as if Waller would have an easy finish; but Gaffney again moved up with Redding, and the race became exciting, Waller's lead being gradually reduced from four lengths, until at the hurdle in the lower turn he only led half a length. They were even at the three-quarter pole. Entering the stretch Waller again led a length, which distance separated them at the last hurdle. Both made good jumps, but Redding was too far gone to make up the distance, and Maney brought Waller home an easy winner by eight lengths, Redding second, ten in front of Dandy, who had been compelled to fall back owing to a broken stirrup leather. Two hundred yards behind him came Grey Cloud. Time, 6:46.

INSPIRATION.

Inspiration made her first appearance at this year on Saturday last in a dash of mile for $300, which was won by Mr. Belmont's 8-year old filly by Glenelg out of Grecian Bend in 1:45. The betting was. Inspiration, $800, Dan. K., $300, Belle, $165; Rhadamanthus, $45; and the field $55. The Paris Mutual tickets on this race paid $249 for $5. The report of the race follows—

The racing to-day began with a dash of a mile for all ages, in which the starters carried the old weights. Dan K., Bell, Inspira-tion, Lady Salyers, Rhadamanthus and Pride of the Village started, but none of them could claim the maiden allowance ex-cept Mr. Belmont's unnamed filly, the paid 2 to 1 on Dan K. The race was a good one, but Inspiring being the winner. Belmont's filly took the lead and was in a real dash, she winning with comparative ease, and very fast. At the half she was no doubt on what due to the absence of good riders on Belmont's side, was riding in all the way up the stretch, while as to positions that Dan K. and Inspiration were in the race, neither was it a matter of dang risk, although both finished well, and made one of the prettiest finishes during the meeting. The only one of the other starters that took the full distance was Rhadamanthus.

Athletic.

CANUCKS IN THE STATES.

The Caledonian Club, of Troy, N. Y., their games at Glen Mitchell. As Ross, John son, and Reed earned away majority of the good things. Their wins are detailed as follows—

D. C. Ross—Heavy stone first 34 ft. 10 in.; 12 lb hammer first 101 ft. 6 in.

E. W. Johnson—Heavy stone first 34 ft. 10 in.; 12 lb hammer first 101 ft. 6 in.; 10 lb step and jump, first, 42 ft. 6 in.; 10 lb step and jump, first, 39 ft. 10 in.; running jump, first, 5 ft. 6 in.; standing high jump, first, 4 ft. 7 in.

A. C. Reid—Hitch and kick, first, 8 ft. 11 in.; hurdle race, first.

ROSS "GETS THE WORST OF IT"

At the games of the Kings County As-sociation, held at Jones Wood, New York, the 26th ult., D. C. Ross, the Canadian athlete, appears to have taken among the P. tines. The contests were conducted in the presence of a large number of spectators, and considerable prejudice of Ross, and considerable trouble was created. In putting the 56 lb. stone James Daley is credited with 20 ft. 3 in.; Ross, 19 ft. 9 in. The contest, however, was declared off, owing to a misunderstanding. Daley throwing with a follow. The 10 stone was thrown by Daley 46 ft. 0 in.; Hayes, 46 ft. 5 in.; Ross, 43 ft. 1 in. Ross is very indignant at the manner in which was treated, and has issued a challenge to Daley for the following competitions—1. To throw the light and heavy weight hammers with one hand against Daley's two Ross tying his left hand behind him, allowing three feet start with the light and heavy stone, and two feet with the 5 lb weight. Also, to throw the light and heavy weight hammers with one hand against Daley's two, putting sixteen and thirty pounds of shot, on foot start. A like distance with the 56 lb weight, with or with follow.

INNES—REID—G Innes, of L. A. L., challenged A. C. Reid for the following games running long jump, standing jump, running high jump, hurdle race, and 44 yards race, for $50 or $100 a side, the winner of the majority to take the money. Caledonian Rules to govern.

CLARK—REID.—We have received a communication from Thomas Clark, of Linwood Ont., in which he makes a proposition to compete with A. C. Reid in several games. As his challenge was unaccompanied by deposit, we can not publish it.

LIBERAL.—Thirty dollars is to be given at the Caledonian games at Montreal on the 24th inst., for a mile foot race. The Gazette of that city, says some of the best runners the Dominion and the States will compete. This is very likely, as what pedestrian of note could refuse the temptation of training, training, and paying expenses, to compete in a mile race for the munificent prize of $300 up into three or four parts. It is too liberal.

RETURNED.—Mr. Chas. C. McIver, a Canadian sprint runner, who has been in England, returned home to Montreal Tuesday. He would like to get a match with some of our Ontario fast ones.
