FAILURE OF THE SEAL FISHERIES.—The Dundee Advertiser speaking of the seal fisheries, says:—The Dundee vessels are not alone unsuccessful. Of the large fleet sailing from Peterhead, only three ships have fish—the Mazithien, 11,000; the Windward, 10,000; and the Queen, 2,000 seals. In addition to the Peterhead and Dundee fleets, numerous vessels from English ports, and from Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, prosecuted the fishing, but with the exception of a very few, they return empty. This falling off, as compared with last year—when from 200,000 to 300,000 were caught—is thus very decided, and, following the disastrous results of the whale fishing of '67, is very much to be regretted. The loss upon the fishing will be very great. The fitting out of each vessel to the seal fishing costs fully £2,000, which, of course, in the event of failure, is a loss.
