REV. ALEX. GILRAY,
College Street Presbyterian Church, writes:
Dear Sirs,—

It is with much satisfaction that I learn that you have decided to establish a branch office in Toronto, believing as I do, that the more widely your Acetic Acid remedy is made known, the greater will be the gratitude accorded to you for the relief experienced by many sufferers in Canada. We have used your Acid for over eighteen years, and are now prepared to state that it is worthy of a place in every family. We have found it thoroughly safe and effective and have commended it to many,—for which we have been thanked. We wish you success in your new quarters, as we feel sure your success will bring relief here as it has already done to large numbers in the old land and other countries. Much will depend on the patient and persevering use of the Acid as set forth in your little book.

A Frenchman, M. Bersier, has devised a plan by which the compass performs the part of the helmsman. When the vessel gets off the course for which the instrument is set, an electric current starts a motor and moves the rudder until the vessel returns to her proper course. A two months trial of the apparatus is reported to have resulted very successfully. Among the advantages are greater accuracy and no loss of distance in a run of twenty-four hours, as is usually allowed.

In a series of experiments on modern high explosives by Macnab and Ristori (London Royal Society, May 10), the authors found that the largest total volume of gas per gram (901 cubic centimeters) was given by a mixture of 80 per cent. nitro-cellulose and 20 per cent. nitro-glycerin, and the smallest (741 cc.) by pure nitro-glycerin. The experimenters are now endeavouring to measure the actual temperature of explosion, and have already attained some degree of success.

Messrs. Lowy and Puiseux exhibited at the Paris Academy of Sciences, on July 9, some remarkable lunar photographs made with the aid of the equatorial coude, or elbowed equatorial. One of the photographs showed the lunar disk with a diameter of 1.8 meters (about 5½ feet). The enlargement on glass is said to be even superior, as regards the clearness of the details. Such photographs are extremely valuable in the study of changes that have recently been asserted to take place on the moon's surface.

It is a well-known fact that on account of the superficial position of the blood-vessels at ankles and wrists, the blood in cold weather is easily chilled at those points. For the same reason in warm weather one ought to keep these localities as lightly covered as possible. This is the case with regard to the wrists, but ninety-nine men out of a hundred have thick leather coverings high over the ankles, and the shopkeepers say so few low shoes are called for that it is often difficult to fit satisfactorily a customer who does demand them.

A train was recently stopped in France, on the line between Bellegarde and Geneva, under the following curious circumstances: A freight-train had in one of its cars some coal-oil, which began to leak away from the containing vessel. By chance, the escaping steam struck exactly in the middle of the rail. The train that bore the oil was not affected, but the track was thus well greased for the passenger train that followed, which came to a standstill when it reached the oily rails. Nearly three-quarters of hour were consumed in running the 2½ miles to the next station, and this rate was only attained by diligent sanding of the track.
