ST. BASIL'S.

We have to announce this week the death of a young boy of this parish—a boy of exceptional promise—one whose career at school had been particularly brilliant—Jno. T. Brady of 60 Birch Ave. Last year he passed very creditably the entrance examination to the High School and this year earried off numerous prizes at St. Mensel's College. Brontzeted a cold some time since, which developed into pneumonia, from which he died on Saturday last at the early ago of sixteen years. His funeral took place on Monday morning and was largely attended. We extend our sympathy to his becraved parents. to his bereaved parents.

A touching scone took place in the church at half-past two when the remains of the young girl, Miss Eva Cronin, was carried up the isle by six young girls, former companions of the decessed, all dressed in white and all about the same ago. During the ceromony a choir of young ledies sang some select pieces under the leadership of Mrs. Masson. After the vespers for the dead Father Kelly gave a feeling exhortation on death to these present. He reminded the youth that they were no more secure than she who had been taken from their midst. The Lord gives all sufficient warning when He says. "It will come like a thir in the night and at a time when you teast expect Me. This is tand of death, and we should always keep it before our eyes. The funeral was the largest seen at St. Joseph's in many yedy—as the young girl was of a most remisble and goutly disposition and had made many friends for herself who deeply regret her early domise.

A visit to this in-stration, considering the purpose of its existence, and the ovidences of vaccess wereywhere to be met with, has been one of the pleasant set experiences of the writer of this article. Here are to be found a lerge number of boys—many of them intelligent noble-looking lads—boys who have been wayward and thoughtless—cliker orphans without the restraining failty accs of parents, or having parents who, from one cause or another, failed to exercise the discipline over them they should—were allowed to drift into erime and, instead of being treated in the ordinary way, have been sent here for forformation, and, if appearances go for anything, the course adopted has been a very wise one. The brilding itself is very commodious and well equipped for the purpose, and dollightfully situated on an elevated plateau, with an extensive playground in front, where pastunes of every kind may be indulged in, and whore recreation is regularly taken daily, baseball being the favorite game with the boys, and one in which, by the way, they are very experience and allowed the entired, and for those whose tastes turn to trades, there are carpenter, sheemaker, and other shops where these may be learned. Religious exercises begin and closes the day, and during the school term, all must attend classes, and the meanual work they do must be done between time. The loye are very evidence of being much improved in very rospect, This is due of course to the efforts of Rev. Father Dodsworth, in resident prices; the Christian Brothors, who are the teachers of the school; and, it may here be mentioned, that, on being interrogated, the boys are not angels, we all know. Notities are they criminals though we sometimes say or think they are. They are too young to fully realize the difference between right and wrong, and hence a little jadicious guidance, a little more retired and hence a little jadicious guidance, a little more bringing, will obtentious end in themporinging, will obtentious end in the during lower or the parties of a

Vincentians Discuss Their Approach ing Jubilce.

The quarterly general meeting of the Society of St. Vincont do Paul, which cocurs on the Sunday within the octave of the Feast of the Patron Saint, took place on Sunday last at 3.0 The President of the Central Council presided, and the attendance of brothers from the various city conferences was very fair, considering the weather.

After the presiding officer had read the opening prayers, one of the brethren read the XIX chapter of the Imitation of Christ, and the secretary read the minutes of the last general meebra, which were approved.

The President, in his opening remarks, after regretting the absence of His Grace, Archibishop O'Connor, patron of the Central Council, proceeded to lay before the brothers the various matters which required their attention. Archbishop Feehan has notified Mayor Harrison, through Father Barry, chancollor of the archdiocese, that the Catholic Churridi not desire the appointment of one of its clergy as a member of the Board of Education. The Mayor had decided to name a local pastor as a trustee. The Archbishop's reason for his stand is based on the fact that the Catholics of Chicago already have a school system, and they do not wish to assume the responsibility of the management of another, by having a priest on the Board of Education.
