

Provincial Dairy School.

The next session of the New Brunswick Dairy School will open at Sussex, March 19th, when there will first be a ten days' course in butter making both for creamery and home butter makers, with a full course of lectures upon the production and care of milk and cream, covering the selection, testing, care and feeding of dairy cattle as well as the prevention of and remedies for common ailments. Instruction will be given on the care and operation of hand and factory separators and for those who desire it, there will be training in soft cheese making for home dairies.

During this course, to which ladies are especially invited, lectures upon the production and marketing of poultry and eggs will be given by Seth Jones, Provincial Poultry Superintendent. Lectures upon Animal and Field Husbandry will be given by Prof. E. S. Archibald, and on Veterinary Science by Prof. John Standish, both of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College. This course will close on the 29th March, and on the 2nd April a course in cheese making will begin, continuing till April 12th. During both courses, instruction in milk testing will be given. It is expected that all those who are intending to operate creameries or cheese factories will attend one or both of these courses. Tuition is free and board can be obtained at reasonable rates.

The staff in addition to the special lecturers above mentioned, will consist of C. W. McDougall, Superintendent and Lecturer; L. C. Daigle, Instructor in milk testing and cheese making; George Ransom, instructor on hand separators; Albert Conrad, instructor in butter making. Applications stating which course the applicant desires to take, should be sent to C. W. McDougall, Superintendent, Sussex, N. B., from whom all information may be obtained.

In the Merriam-Webster New International Dictionary, the plan of the divided page aids consultation and saves time. Words in ordinary use are grouped on the upper portion of the page, and technical and unusual words on the lower portion—a plan that is welcomed by the thousands of users of this dictionary.

By the street of By-and-By
One arrives at the house of Never.

—Cervantes.

Hidden Birds.

NOTE: This lesson may be expanded into a nature-study lesson by studying the habits of the birds; into a geography lesson by studying the countries of which the birds are natives; and a literature lesson by searching for and reading bits of literature in which these birds are mentioned.

1. The path through the meadow leads to the mill.
2. How rents have advanced!
3. Are all arks built alike?
4. Oh, awkward boy, how can you be so careless!
5. Did they rob in daylight?
6. Have you read "Gulliver's Travels?"
7. She looks wan and pale.
8. He hath rushed away in silence.
9. The crown and glory of life is character.
10. He broke the reed in half-inch lengths.
11. He swallowed the medicine easily.
12. I made known to her a venerable friend of mine.
13. Do venture a little farther.
14. I met her on the beach.
15. Does the pup love Ruth
16. This song will be a glee.
17. Maj. Ayers is a handsome man.
18. The celebration began at dawn.
19. He found in grammar tiny words for great uses.
20. Can a rye field produce wheat.
21. Mary gave Vashti bisque dolls.
22. See the fallen spar. Row to the other shore!
23. The evening star lingers yet.
24. She bought muslin, net, and lace.
25. The cat, by the sea, mews all day long.

—Selected.

"I enjoy the Summer School. It rests me—yet it makes me restless. I come home anxious to get out of the fields and woods to verify something I have heard in the Botany class—impatient to get to the library to find support for my understanding of a passage in Literature, or to search out a reference I am not familiar with—eager to prove or experiment or discover. It has been by misfortune that I never attended a session till last year. I shall attend next year if I can in any way make arrangements to do so."—Florence L. Alexander, Fredericton Junction, N. B.