The Committee on Soviet and East European Studies, which now offers interdisciplinary Honours and M.A. programmes in this field, also has an academic exchange programme between Carleton and Leningrad Universities, providing opportunities for advanced study for its faculty and graduates. The Committee offers non-credit seminars with visiting scholars, and sponsors public lectures on the USSR and East Europe. In future it plans to place increasing emphasis on the sponsorship of individual and group research; the development of closer relations with similar institutes; and an extension of faculty and student exchanges with East Europe.
