

INCURABLES WILL ENJOY CHRISTMAS

Holiday Cheer Everywhere Evident at the Hospital.

PRESENTS FOR EVERYONE

Patients Will Enjoy Splendid Dinner Amid Bright Surroundings.

A glimpse into the holly-decked corridors of the Hospital for incurables where every inmate is waiting for an extra flutter of the heart for the going to summon them to the great feast of turkey, cranberry sauce, plum pudding and fruit, dispels all misgivings in the heart of the interested visitor and conveys the impression that here, too, the good Saint Nicholas has cast his glad charm and brought contentment and good-will. A tour of inspection makes the impression a vivid reality, and from Sarah piling bread on the pantry shelves—Sarah, by the way, has been at the home for 23 years and does beautiful fancy work—to Bertha basking in the sun on the porch, the look of childish anticipation that makes you feel glad that Miss Green's store-room shelves are crammed with fat, mysterious bundles bearing dainty little cards with the name of the one for whom it is intended.

- "Gifts for the Soldiers—a View of Packing Operations"

The frontpiece of the four-colored section has a reproduction of Mrs. Sally James Farnham's prophetic figure, Victory, representing the triumph of all the arts of Peace over Conflict—a seasonable subject.

Montgomery Flagg, Humor in Words and Pictures, will furnish a pleasant antidote for the Christmas festivities.

"The Holy Town of Bethany," that has three Christmases, illustrated.

The first of a series of stories by Sir Gilbert Parker, "Once at Red Man's River."

DOCTORS TO TEST ASHER'S SANITY

Mission Worker Remanded on Charge of Shooting Clergyman.

PRESBYTERIANS DISCLAIM

Offender Never Was Agent of Church Nor Received Money From It.

Harry Asher, the Roumanian, who shot Rev. John M.P. Scott on Wednesday evening, was remanded for a week in the police court yesterday on the charge of shooting or pleading to allow of Mr. Scott's evidence being given before the case is disposed of.

He came from United States. Dr. A. S. Grant and Dr. R. P. MacKay, of the Presbyterian Church, gave out the following statement regarding the attempt on the life of the Rev. J. M.P. Scott.

Under Halloweening. The withdrawal of the recommendation was the great offence that led to this act of revenge. Asher is possessed with the hallucination that Mr. Scott has been pursuing him, and that if he knew the facts Mr. Scott has been his best friend.

OPPOSED GERMAN'S NATURALIZATION

Prof. Mueller Declared He Hoped the Allies Would Win.

SYMPATHY IS NATURAL

Judge Coatsworth is to Give His Decision Next Wednesday.

Before Judge Coatsworth in the county court yesterday, Professor Mueller, setting for A. A. Gray, 561 West-sid street, objected to the granting of naturalization papers to Professor Mueller of Toronto University.

Acting with Mr. Hassard was C. M. Garvey, for some person whose name he would not make known, and A. P. Mueller, the objector, was backed up by the grounds that it was contrary to the interests of the British Empire to grant citizenship to a person of the countries now warring with Britain.

It was argued that the statute relating to naturalization referred only to times of peace and that mere compliance with all its requirements was not sufficient to obtain citizenship. That was a question for the judge and it, in his discretion, he thought it was inadvisable he could refuse the grant.

Professor Mueller said that he had been 21 years in Canada. His early education had been received at the Missionary Seminary, and that mere why he had lived so long in Canada without becoming naturalized, he stated that he was not certain where he would permanently live. When he obtained a permanent appointment as an associate professor at the university it determined his citizenship, but he kept putting off making the application until after the holidays and then the war started.

Professor Mueller expressed his regret regarding the war and was unable to understand its reasons. "Since I left Germany, 21 years ago," he said, "I have learned and ideas have greatly changed and I don't know what they are. I can't deny that I have sympathies for my own country nor can I deny that I have sympathies for this country."

He admitted to Mr. Garvey that he had served his term in the German army. When he went to Germany three years ago, he wanted to register as a student, but he was informed that after 10 years' residence outside the country he had become excited and satisfied and no longer receive the benefits of German citizenship.

His honor asked that counsel submit authorities to him on the matter and reserved judgment until Wednesday morning.
