POINTS OF EXCELLENCE.

---

ELEMENTARY.

1. Prepared in accordance with the views of the best teachers and educators.
2. The subject is treated objectively; the concrete precedes the abstract.
3. No formal definitions; new and necessary ideas are imparted in reading-lessons.
4. Geographical facts are linked with striking facts of history, natural history, and social life.
5. Illustrations are furnished on which to base questions leading up from things familiar.
6. The pupil is taught to appreciate distance, to apply the scale of the map, and to draw simple outlines by the use of the scale.
7. The maps are distinct, unencumbered, accurate, and attractive.
8. A sufficient number of questions are presented to familiarize the pupil with the contents of the map without overburdening the memory.
9. This book is Elementary in the style and quality of its matter, and in its development of the subject, as well as in name.
10. The system of reviews, the written exercises, the paragraphs in heavy-faced type, and the occasional references to standard works, are worthy of special attention.
