AT THE POLICE COURT.

Barbers Fined for Shaving on Sunday—A Dishonest Porter Gets Six Months—Alleged Abduction.

Barbers working in hotels are permitted to shave guests on Sunday who arrive late on Saturday night, but this arrangement is not satisfactory to independent barbers, who are complaining that men in hotels are shaving anyone who wants to be shaved on Sunday. Several complaints have been made to the Police Commissioners, and half a dozen barbers from the various city hotels were in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. They all pleaded guilty to having broken the Lord's Day Act by shaving on Sunday. Henry Gelines, who was employed at the Walker House barber shop, was let off on suspended sentence, the blame resting, the magistrate said, on his employer. Duncan McKillop of the Tremont House was fined $2 and costs. John Vaughan, at the Palmer House, was mulcted in the same sum. John Hansen of the Grand Union was fined $3 and costs, and his assistant was remanded until called upon. Edward Addock of the Daly House was also remanded, and his partner, Hugh Mitchel, was fined $3 and costs.

Always Get Remands.

Jim Lynch, the well-known keeper of the Silver Dollar Restaurant at 177 York-street, denied the charge of illegal liquor selling. William Besson and Samuel Madill were the informants, and said that they had received two glasses of beer each from Lynch on New Year's Day. The case was adjourned to allow the defendant to produce witnesses. The other liquor cases included James Woodcock, Walter Langdon and Eli Lloyd, all of whom secured remands.

A Bogus Bill.

The two youngsters who are alleged to have tendered a bad $10 bill in payment for groceries at Coupland's store, 467 Dundas-street, on Saturday, appeared in the Children's Court yesterday morning and were remanded.

Six Months for Thefts.

David Craig, the dishonest porter at the University, was convicted of numerous charges of theft and was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

Alleged Abduction of a Girl.

The summons case of Mrs. Elizabeth Osborne of 69 University-street, who is charged with abduction, came up and was said over until the 27th. The complainant is Louis Levinsky of Chestnut-street. He alleges that Mrs. Osborne enticed from home his 11-year-old daughter Carrie, with the object of using her to do a theatrical company. Mrs. Osborne denies this.

One Convicted, Another Acquitted.

For the theft of a bag of rugs from George Smith, Front-street, Hugh Staunton was sent to jail for 60 days.

James Gorr, who was charged with stealing $3.56 from John Kennedy, was acquitted. The complainant not pressing the charge. The trouble occurred over a potato deal.

Mr. Guinane's Big Purchase.

W. J. Guinane arrived home yesterday from Quebec, after having closed one of the biggest shoe deals on record. He says he can sell en bloc the $40,000 worth of shoes which he expects will be here tomorrow and realize a good profit, but that he has already decided to dispose of the stock at his Yonge and Queen-street stores. Mr. Guinane further stated to a World reporter that he can sell shoes for the next two weeks at half price, and then there will still be a fair profit left for himself.

Retiring From Business.

Many friends and citizens will regret to learn that the old established firm of John Eastwood & Son, drygoods merchants, 122 King-street east, have decided to retire from business. This firm is probably the oldest drygoods house doing business in Ontario to-day, having been in existence over 60 years, during which period they have always maintained a high reputation for integrity and square business dealing. Mr. W. N. Eastwood, the surviving member of the firm, has rented the premises so long occupied by him, and will vacate his store on March 1. His many friends may belonging to Henry Coslings of West Gwillimbury. He is out on bail and will be tried at Barrie.

George Atkins and his little daughter, who lived on a boat in the river at Evansville, Ind., were drowned by the wrecking of the craft Sunday night. The little one died with her arms about her father's neck.

Shortly after midnight Saturday one of the largest warehouses of the old Hurricane Springs Distillery, near Tullahoma, Tenn., was destroyed by fire. Nearly 10,000 barrels of whiskey were burned. Loss about $75,000.

There were further disorderly scenes in the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday, but no actual violence. Socialist Deputies attacked the Government, and the Ministry demanded a vote of confidence, which was given by 376 to 133.

The Kingston Vehicle Works Company has won its appeal before the Nova Scotia Supreme Court against the Bank of Nova Scotia regarding its claims against the estate of A. R. Fulton of Truro, the company's agent, for $16,000.

The tow boats James A. Dumont and J. F. Wallace foundered off Coney Island Point on Sunday. Each had loaded scows for the dumping ground. The crew of the Dumont were saved, but it is feared the seven men on the Wallace are lost.

Thomas Dunsmore, who left Barrie 14 years ago and was working in a grist mill at Duluth, was killed instantly a few days ago. The body will be brought for interment to Barrie, where many relatives reside. A widow and three children survive him.

California jubilee festivities, which will last a week, began yesterday at Frisco. The city is gaily decorated. On every hand are portraits of James Marshall, who picked up the first gold nugget in California in the year 1848. The city is crowded with visitors from all over the state.

Baron Von Buelow, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, solemnly denies that any German representative or agent ever had relations of any kind with Dreyfus, the French traitor. The finding of compromising documents in the German embassy at Paris he characterized as sheer invention.

The strong gales from the west caused the water in the Niagara River to rise a good deal above the normal mark Sunday night. In the gorge below the Falls the water rose over 20 feet, submerging boat houses and washing away sections of the Gorge Railroad, while the manufacturing establishments on the river banks were endangered.

W. J. Oliver, a pattern maker at the pulp mills at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., crossed to the United States side on Thursday evening last to attend a religious service. In going home he fell over the old Michigan canal bank to the lock chamber, a distance of 50 feet. His body was crushed beyond recognition. He leaves a widow and family at Carleton Place, Ont.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter of the United States army is charged with swindling his country out of almost $3,000,000 and of endangering the defences of one of the American seaports. He is also charged with embezzlement, false swearing, deception, false accounting and failure to account for funds. There are stories, too, about gay parties on the Government boat Angler, and, as usual, there is a woman in the case.

CLAMORED FOR A CHANGE.

Exciting Proceedings at the Annual Meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Mutual Benefit Society.

The Commercial Travelers' Mutual Benefit Society held its annual meeting in Shaftesbury Hall on Saturday night, when the new officers were installed as follows: President, H Goodman; Vice-President, S R Wickens; Treasurer, Warring Kennedy. Trustees: D A Rose, 433; James Knox, 339; John A Ross, 374; H Lamont, 389; W F Smith, 340; G E A Bradshaw, 336; J Devaney, 335; J T B Lee, 299; Hamilton, E A Dalley, 338; John Hooper, 338; James Hopper, 298; A Munro, 252.

Several members complained that members not in good standing had been elected.

It was decided to keep the ballots for examination, Mr. White declaring that the elections were crooked.

The trustees reported a membership on Dec. 31 of 2533 and the insurance in force $2,408,000. The expenses amounted to $4,034.75. The association was credited with $4212.35.

The death claims of $22,835 caused no extra assessment, and the general expense balance had increased.

A discussion arose over the item of salaries in the report, the expenses being considered extravagant. The report, however, carried.

A proposal to re-appoint W. and E. A. Badenach auditors was warmly opposed by Mr. J. T. B. Lee and others, who wanted Messrs. Barber and Cross appointed.

Mr. Goodman agreed that the directorate would follow a recommendation giving the auditors only $35 a year, which carried.

The secretary's salary of $1600 was next attacked, the anti-directorate party wanting to reduce it to $1000, with a one dollar bonus for each new member. A suggestion that the matter be left with the directorate was hotly opposed.

The motion to reduce the secretary's salary, however, carried.

At 12 o'clock the meeting broke up in disorder.

THE EATON FIRE SUIT.

Accountant Neff Gave Evidence Yesterday as to the Padding in the Department Lists.

Accountant Neff was again in the witness box at Osgoode Hall yesterday. He testified that in the stock lists there were whole pages of entries repeated. The items were reversed so as to be less noticeable. One group of duplications appeared reversed three or four times. He, however, found nothing suspicious from the time of the stock-taking up to the date of the fire. He denied having lent or given money to Richard Baker, or anyone, though he had seen several witnesses in the case.

THE HYPNOTIC CASE.

Plaintiff Secures $50 Damages and Her Father, Whose House Was Searched, Is Awarded $100.

Lucy Dudley has been successful in her suit at the Civil Assizes against R. Noble for damages for alleged use of hypnotic influence upon her, owing to the theft by some person of goods from Mr. Noble's house. Miss Dudley gets $50 damages and her father, whose house was searched for the missing property, is awarded $100.

A NEW MAGNETIC STATION.

It Will be Out in Scarboro, Where All the Conditions are Favorable.

Ever since the advent of the electric wires, the magnetic instruments at the Observatory in the Queen's Park have been subject to their influence, and therefore to that extent unreliable. The director of the weather office has been casting all about the neighborhood of Toronto for a spot free from this influence, and, after a long search, he has, under instructions from the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, purchased four acres out in Scarboro, near Agincourt, miles from any wires or where wires are likely to be, and yet convenient enough to the city—about nine miles out. Mr. Stupart has prepared plans for a modest building for housing the instruments, or rather a cellar for that purpose. There will be no iron in the structure, and even traces of it will be kept out of the building material. Four acres were bought in order to keep even the iron implements of the neighboring farmers from coming too close. A house has been rented in Agincourt for a residence for the one observer who will have charge of the station. It is likely that Mr. Menzies, now at the Observatory, will take charge. The work of building will probably begin in the spring. About $2000 will buy the land and set up the plant.
