Christmas Eve

And the Last Chance

Christmas Eve, and the last day for Xmas shopping! What are you going to do? Are you going to let this opportunity pass, and not take advantage of it? A necessity sale, at which Fur Garments are being sacrificed regardless of cost or value! A fire next door slightly damaged our stock displayed on the racks and tables—the balance, collected in air-tight cases, did not suffer.

The smoke-affected furs are being sold at very low prices, really lower than cost, because of a prompt adjustment by the insurance companies. The whole remainder of the stock is being offered at a 25 per cent.

Now, this is no "boost sale." It comes through an accidental fire, which occurred before the holiday shopping season.

There's an extra staff to look after your wants quickly. If you know good fur, you won't leave the showrooms without making a purchase.

THE LAW CASE.

Who Are Behind the Publication of The Mining News?

Frank Law, in the afternoon police court yesterday, Assistant Crown Attorney Price produced several copies of The Mining News, the publication of The Mining News, th of The Mining News, the publication which had been distributed for the last month or so in the interests of the mines promoted and owned by Law & Co. The paper was said to be owned by W. E. Kreusch, and Lockhart Russell was acting for him.

The case will be continued day, Dec. 26, at 2 o'clock.

Capt. Dobbs of New York, mining expert of forty years' standing, had been instructed by Tighe Bros. to locate twenty-four claims north of Larder Lake. He got several samples from each claim. One of these claims was called Highland Mary, and some samples produced court as taken from Tighe Bros.' Highland Mary and Thistle claims. Chester Merkley, who assisted in the staking of Law's Highland Mary claim, thirty claims which witness had had staked were handed to a man named A. E. Little to sell. They were really his claims, and he valued them at $5000. On Sept. 3, Little made a transfer 'of some of these claims and sent the witness $439.45. He had spent between $700 and $800 on them. Recalled by the crown, E. Gillies de-nied that he had anything to do with The Canadian Mining News. He had written one financial article for this paper, but he had not prepared any prespectuses of mines for it. A man named Kendricks was the manager of the paper until some weeks ago, when Gillies' brother-in-law, named Lamb, was introduced to Russell and put in charge of the paper.
W, T. Morris, who worked for a short time on The Mining News, was hired by Mr. Gillies. He understood that Gillies perintended the make-up of the pub-"Did you ever have any discussion with Law about it?"

"Yes. Law said that the paper might be built up into a running concern."

In reply to a question, the witness said that he had not been paid his salthing to do with the concern.
"The wrappers for the papers were addressed in Law's office," said the witness," and once the stamps were procured there. Six hundred papers been sent to England."

VINDICATING VON MOLTKE.

Divorced Wife Greatly Modified Former Statements.

BERLIN, Dec. 23 .- The hearing of the Harden-Von Moltke case was resumed here to-day, the morning session being behind closed doors, but in the afternoon the court was re-opened to the public after the examination of Frau Von Elbe, the divorced wife of Count Von Moltke, during the course of which she modified her former testimony to such a surprising degree as to influence the position of the defence to a considerable extent, many of Herr Harden's assertions against Von Moltke being based on her previous declarations.

Frau Von Elbe withdrew some of her statements derogatory to Count Von Moltke's character and gave to other statements she had made an entirely different meaning than presion being behind closed doors, but in
