

POINTS OF MERIT IN ONTARIO PICTURES

Members of Society of Artists Have Creditable Display at the Grange.

Despite the weather of yesterday a large turnout of members of the Women's Press Club and friends gathered at the Art Galleries of the Grange when Miss Estelle Kerr gave an interesting and instructive talk on the pictures on exhibition. Small paintings and sketches by members of the Ontario Society of Artists comprised the collection shown by 35 artists, a number being well-known locally.

Miss Kerr pointed out that there was a link, wanting between the artists and the public to remedy which exhibits should be put on as a whole, rather than mere exhibits of art. She pointed out that there was a lack of craftsmanship—an unbalanced character to much that was produced. On the other hand, some of the artists whose pictures hung on the walls were pointed to as having many points merit almost all their own. For the critic she advised an interview with the artist with the result that many conditions under which the picture was produced would come to light and many things explained.

That landscape was almost a modern phase, not being known until the last three hundred years, and gaining its maturity within the last decade was stated. The work of the impressionist was an effort by the moderns to concentrate in a few bold strokes things that were laboriously worked out by the older painters. Difference of setting and its influence on the work of the painter was emphasized, a picture painted indoors having sometimes an entirely different effect when seen under different surroundings. To overcome this Miss Kerr recommended that artists should send their pictures on approval. The pleasure which the possession of a picture gave its owner was also noted. The appreciation of the audience was expressed by Mrs. Kinnear.

Miss Lucy Doyle, president of the club, told of an exhibition in design lately seen in New York where side by side with the moderns were the fabrics which had also been produced of this continent. Mr. Greig, proprietor of the Grange, stated that the galleries were for the public. Schools may send a class any time under direction of a teacher. Students may become members of the Gallery on a fee of $5 and others $10 a year, this entitling to many advantages in the matter of lectures and exhibits. British, American and Chinese exhibits will be on view during the next three months.

EXTEND PERIOD FOR RED CROSS APPEAL

In view of the fact that a large number of contributions to the British empire war relief fund appeal are continuing to arrive and also that the appeal is being taken up by societies, schools and churches which have not yet had time to carry out to completion, the Canadian Red Cross Society has extended the time of the appeal until the middle of December and the provincial divisions have been telegraphed to that effect.

Reports have not yet been received from the other provinces of Canada, but the appeal has been well received by organizations of all descriptions in Ontario. Individual contributions have been numerous and the manner in which the appeal has been received by organizations of all descriptions has been very gratifying. In some instances municipalities have responded and churches and schools have been very frequent contributors.

A Losing Fight Till Help Came

HOW trifling are our troubles compared with the suffering some endure.

Picture the home of a family here in Toronto—the father dead—the mother and sister invalids, and the son—a laborer—their sole support. When help came, the father's strength, and he, too, broke down.

The visiting nurse of the National Sanatorium Association found him suffering with tuberculosis. They sent him to the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, the family, living outside, resting, and properly cared for, he is slowly recovering.

ALLUSION TO FLYNN DENIED BY PREMIER

He Did Not Say Certain Newspapers Had Taken Flynn "Under Their Wing."

On Sunday night the Canadian Press Limited received from its correspondent in Aylmer, Ont., and transmitted to the editor a despatch purporting to be an interview with Arthur Meighen, in which the premier was said to have stated that he had observed the address of welcome taken Harry Flynn "under their wing."

The Ottawa bureau of the Canadian Press yesterday sent the following: "It was stated at the premier's office today that the interview published in the morning papers from Aylmer was unfounded. What Mr. Meighen stated in the subject of the Toronto meeting was in public address, and no reference was made to individuals.

"The prime minister stated that he had not given an interview on the Toronto meeting, and that the despatch of the charge that he had refused to meet Toronto returned soldiers was made during his public address, in reply to the address of welcome tendered him in Aylmer, and his words were substantially as reported by Canadian Press Limited. He had made no reference to Harry Flynn or to any other individual, as he was reported to have done in the last paragraph of the despatch from Aylmer, Ont."

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS VISIT PACKING PLANT

Thirty of the members of the Arts Chemical Society of the University of Toronto made a trip to the plant of Gunns, Limited, at the invitation of Mr. Perry, the chief chemist of the company. Mr. Perry and the staff were most courteous and patient in explaining and demonstrating to the students the processes of making the various products from the crude cotton seed oil.

From the chemical standpoint, these processes appealed most strongly to the embryonic chemists, but the real surprise of the afternoon was the fact that members were taken thru the packing plant and began to realize the size of modern institution of this kind. They visited floor after floor of cold storage rooms kept at various temperatures, then the packing cellars, beef-dressing rooms, ice-making plant and refrigeration system.

"What's In a Name?"

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel. By MILDRED MARSHALL.

HONORA.

Charming in sound and admirable in significance is Honora, or Honora, as it is most generally known today. It comes originally from the Latin "honos," or "honor," that quality which the Roman soldiers most esteemed. Honora was a Roman deity, in fact. Honorius was the name given to the Spanish father of the great Theodosius. It also named his impetuous grandson, the last genuine Roman emperor, and was cherished by his niece, Justa Grata Honora, who proved unworthy of her three illustrious names. Honora was a Christian maiden slain in a Danish invasion, and regarded as a martyr. Her name prevails in France and Germany. Ireland has made it a favorite, contracting it generally to Nora. France calls it Honore, and has so named a suburb of Paris. In England, Honora is the accepted form, and the latter has established some vogue in this country, the Honora is preferable and in more general usage. The very Honora's talismanic stone, name, said to bring her victory in her undertakings, and has peculiar power to awaken sentiment in the heart of an admirer. Thursday is her lucky day, and 4 her lucky number.

BREAD PRICE DROPS TWO CENTS A LOAF

Further Reduction May Soon Be Expected in View of Flour Cut.

The bakers of Toronto announce a reduction of two cents per loaf of bread, the new price to take effect commencing this morning. With flour on the down grade, a further cut in bread may, it is stated, soon be expected. G. Lawrence, of Lawrence's bakery, announced yesterday that, commencing this morning, the new price would be 10 tickets for $1.10. "There will be no difference in the weight of the bread, but the quality goes up," added Mr. Lawrence. "We have reached some of the finest grade of the new patent flour and the public will get the benefit. The last of the war-time flour has gone."

"There is no doubt the price is coming down. How far I cannot say, but it will be 2 cent at a time," said David Hilton, of Hilton Brothers. "Whatever the others do we will have to do, irrespective of market conditions," he added.

The Canada Bread Company, whose price for some months back has been 13 cents per single loaf or 12 tickets for $1.30, will also fall into line, it is understood, by making a cut to $1.20 for the same number of tickets.
