GARMENTS OF QUALITY

People ask us how it is that we are able to procure such all around perfect pelts for our fur garments.

The explanation is obvious. We are the largest fur dealers in Canada, and being such we have an advantage in buying in large quantities for cash and obtaining big discounts—we select what is good and discard the balance—we don't handle poor furs at any price.

Then you know that Dineen fashions are absolute—we can't say that we originate designs because we always look to Paris for the latest creations. Just remember, however, that Paris depends on us for "qaality."—There's our advantage.

Everything guaranteed as advertised or your money back.

disturb and cause a temporary rally. Sell corn on any sharp advance.

Oats—Receipts were small and the cash demand fairly good. Trade small and unimportant, with prices about steady. It is a narrow scalping market.

Provisions—Weakness in corn was against the market, which held fairly well under the circumstances, and shows good resistance to the selling.

E. & C. Randolph to J. Lorne Campbell:

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Wheat—Not much of a market, and the level for delivery was lower. More or less long stuff came out, but was absorbed by shorts on the way down. Trade again all professional and local scalping. Argentina shipments, 984,000 bushels; Indian, estimated, 2,000,000 bushels. Primary receipts for the week will be about 75 per cent. of last year. The southwest sent poor cash wheat and flour demands, but Minneapolis sold 60,000 barrels of flour. Some complaints of dry weather and dry tended to help the market, but damage was generally denied. Shipments from Chicago this week will be 800,000 bushels, which does not speak bad for the shipping demand. Looks like good increase again in visible Monday. A little buying or selling sufficed to change prices readily.

Corn—Quiet; weak and lower, especially December, which sold off 1½c at one time, under pressure of offerings and poor demand. The continued excellent weather for curing and the increasing receipts as well as liberal country offerings and light shipping demand all served to create weakness. Primary receipts for the week will be nearly 50 per cent. in excess of last year. Shorts took advantage of the decline to cover, but the market acted heavy.

Oats—Quiet and steady, without special price change. The long holders of May have a carrying charge to pay, however, of 2½c. The cash demand is poor; the receipts very light, the latter tending to hold the market in thee face of big stocks.

Provisions—Hogs, 5c to 10c lower, with 25,000 in, 15,000 for Saturday. This and the easement in grain, coupled with rather light shipping demand, resulted in a little lower product market. There is only a local trade, and stocks are very small, but gaining generally.

Liverpool Grain and Produce.

Liverpool, Nov. 18.—Closing—Wheat—Spot, nominal; futures, quiet; December, 7s 1¼d; March, 7s 3½d; May, 7s 3d.

Corn—Spot American mixed, steady, 4s 9d; futures, steady; December, 4s 8¾d; January, 4s 5¼d.

Bacon—Cumberland cut, weak, 41s 6d; short rib, dull, 45s.

Lard—Quiet; prime western, 36s 9d; American refined, 37s.

Cheese—Strong; American finest white, 47s; do., colored, 48s.

Hops at London (Pacific coast)—Firm, £8 to £8 15s.

Receipts of wheat during the past three days, 208,000, including 5000 centals American.

Receipts of American corn during the past three days, 100 centals.

A Voting Machine.

An ingenious Australian has invented a voting machine, for which he has secured a commonwealth patent. The chief features of the apparatus are its adaptability to any class of voting; the impossibility of informal voting; the prevention of fraud; the saving of time and errors in adding the votes, and the simplicity and cheapness of the machine. It can be used for all descriptions of elections, and would save much time in counting votes.

The machine stands either on a table or on legs. It is about 6 inches high and 6 inches wide, the length depending on the number of candidates to be provided for. On the front of the machine is a row of names of the candidates, and on each name is a steel rod surmounted by a knob. To vote for a candidate the voter pushes the knob down with his finger. This causes a bell to ring; the knob remains down, so that a voter is unable to vote for more tha none candidate. When the voter leaves the voting chamber, the closing of the door unlocks the machine, and the knob flies back into position ready for the next voter.

At the back of the machine are registering devices, where each vote is recorded, so that the result of the election can be read off as soon as the last vote is cast. In case of a senate election, where there are, say, three to be elected, the machine is adjusted so that three knobs can be pushed down. The rest are automatically locked as soon as the three are down, so that the voter cannot possibly vote for more than three. If the voter pushes less than the three down, the bell does not ring, and no votes are recorded at all, because the law requires that the whole three must be voted for. But the absence of the bell ringing shows that the vote is incomplete, and the returning officer can tell the voter that his vote is incomplete. If he then pushes the other knobs down, the bell rings, and the vote is recorded, so a vote is saved. The machine can be enlarged indefinitely to provide for any number of candidates.

His Character.

Cincinnati Commercial: "Do you know Blank?" asked one friend of another, referring to a gentleman famous for his fondness for unlit liquor.

"Yes, I know him very well."

"What kind of man is he?"

"Well, in the morning when he gets up he is a beer barrel and in the evening when he goes to bed he is a barrel of beer."

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

A 'JACK-THE-HUGGER' SCARE

Three Toronto Junction Ladies' Unpleasant Experience—Annexation Argument Postponed.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 18.—Toronto Junction has a "Jack-the-Hugger" mystery which so far has baffled every effort made by the police and private individuals to unravel. Some months ago the wife of a prominent barrister was attacked by the unknown "hugger" at a point on Louisa-street where a thick growth of trees grows close to the roadside. The screams of the lady scared away the assailant. Nothing further transpired until during the past 10 days, when the unknown assaulted three ladies in that part of the town bounded by Annette-street, Glendonwynne-road, Lakeview-avenue and Quebec-avenue. The assaults were made after dark in two cases, the ladies escaping in each instance. One young lady had a desperate struggle with the scoundrel, and scratched his face so vigorously that she feels certain she can identify him should she see him again. She describes him as a young man, about 23 or 24 years of age, well dressed and good looking. The men are forming a vigilance committee, and propose treating the Junction "Jack-the-Hugger" with a coat of tar and feathers and a swift trip out of town on a fence rail.

Electors of the Third Ward are pressing ex-Mayor Armstrong to stand for councillor, on the ground that "there has been no time in the town's history when men of his business ability were more needed than now." It is understood that a strong effort will also be made to induce ex-Mayors Clendenan and Laughton to stand for councillors in other wards. A. M. Wilson and C. M. Hall are spoken of as candidates for the Fifth Ward.

Anniversary services will be held in Annette-street Methodist Church on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Baker will preach in the evening.

Margaret Irene Guthrey, only child of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Guthrey, 76 Hoskin-avenue, died this morning. The funeral takes place to Prospect Cemetery at 2.30 p.m. to-morrow.

The only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Macnamara was taken ill with diphtheria to-day.

Thomas P. Wright gets $2930 for putting in the interior fitting in the new postoffice.

To-day the G.T.R. had a big gang of men laying the rails on their new switch on Cawthra-avenue, from the main line and along the west side of the Gurney Foundry Company's works. The original intention was to continue this switch across Junction-road to Campbell's mills and the Comfort Soap Works, but this move was blocked by the C.P.R., which built a crossing over Junction-road and connected it with the tracks on the Gurney Foundry Company's property, and at the same time secured the right to continue the tracks south along Cawthra-avenue to Campbell's mills and the soap works, thus blocking the G.T.R.'s move in the same direction and preventing them obtaining access to the factories named.

A horse attached to one of Bredin's delivery wagons ran away on Dundas-street to-day. The driver stuck to his post until the horse suddenly bolted across the street opposite Union-street, and brought one of the wheels up against a telegraph pole. The vehicle was only slightly damaged.

The motion re the mandamus to compel the Toronto Junction Town Council to submit the annexation bylaw to the people, which was to have been argued at Osgoode Hall to-day, was held over until Tuesday next.

Woodbridge.

Woodbridge, Nov. 18.—John Elliott, one of the oldest citizens of Woodbridge, is seriously ill with pneumonia. It is not expected that he will recover, as he is upward of 90 years of age.

The pastor of Woodbridge Methodist Church asked for a thank-offering of $190 and his congregation gave him $163.45.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church entertained the Edgeley Epworth League to-night in a very pleasant and successful at home.

The Township of Vaughan has now a standing offer of $40 reward for the arrest and conviction of horse thieves within the municipality.

Thomas Smythe is claiming damages from the Township of Vaughan for injuries received on the town line between King and Vaughan.

The Woodbridge Euchre Club will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lawrence next Tuesday evening.

The village council met in Dufferin Hall last night. Reeve Bull and Councillors Beasley, Ashman, Mallaby and Smithson being present. There was a lengthy and somewhat warm discussion as to the time which should elapse during which unsatisfactory incandescent electric lamps could be returned and replaced without extra charge. Many of these lamps were useless, a number returned for this reason by Mr. Adamson, foreman of the Moffatt Stove Company, giving rise to the discussion. The opinion of the council was that two weeks' trial should be the limit. William Lacelby, electrician, asked the council to increase his salary from $550 to $600 per year. Councillor Smithson was in favor of leaving the electrician's salary for the new council to deal with, but all the members of the council were in favor of the increase, and a bylaw will be passed to that effect at the next meeting of the council. Mr Lauke asked the council for the free use of Dufferin Hall for the meeting of the West York Farmers' Institute on Thursday next and his request was granted. The treasurer reported that $5640 in taxes have been collected, leaving a balance of a little over $3000 to collect.

East Toronto.

East Toronto, Nov. 18.—The members of the East Toronto Gun Club arrived home from Boundary and Spring Lake camp last night. Mayor Walters declared that the outing to all the party had been one of exceptional pleasure. They were successful in securing 33 fine deer. Many rabbits and partridge were also bagged.

The regular weekly meetings of the Willing Workers of St. Saviour's Church are growing in interest and attendance.

It is expected that a game supper will be held in Snell's Hall at an early date.

Work on the Y.M.C.A. building is now proceeding very satisfactorily.

The new smoke stack at the power house is nearing completion.

North Toronto.

New wires are being installed for the town electric service, and the continued complaints are expected to be obviated after this expenditure.

J. Armstrong, M.P., and Mrs. Armstrong, of Petrolea, returned home yesterday after a visit with Councillor Armstrong.

James Boyle of York Mills was brought before Magistrate Ramsden yesterday by County Constable Tomlinson on a charge of till-tapping at Fulton's store, York Mills, and was committed for trial on the charge.

Ladies' sessions, under the auspices of the Women's Institutes, will be held in the Macdonald Institute on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On Monday evening a public meeting of interest to all will be held in the College Convocation Hall. Arrangements have been made for single rates to Guelph for the Experimental Union meeting and the Provincial Winter Fair. The excursion rates start on Saturday, Dec. 3. For particulars write to C. A. Zavits, secretary, Agricultural College, Guelph.

Balmy Beach.

W. R. Trumpour, B.A., will conduct the service at the Church of England pavilion, Spruce-avenue, Bamy Beach, to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock.

Trees on the Hillside.

Dr. Clark, provincial forester, gave a talk to Farmers' Institute workers at the parliament buildings yesterday regarding forestry and the farmer's wood lot. He said the hillsides should never be cleared of timber, and where they were cleared trees should again be grown.

Weston.

John Dickin of Weston was committed for trial yesterday by Magistrate Frankland on a charge of taking a false oath on election day in a polling booth. He waived examination.

Davis Ran First Night Train.

Henry Gassaway Davis found his first advancement when he secured the coveted position of brakeman on a freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. It was not long before he was advanced to the more responsible position of a freight conductor, responsible in these days, but far more so, relatively, in those. At 24 he was again promoted, this time to the position of superintendent in charge of the running of all the trains. He introduced an innovation which marked a decided advance step in railroading. Up to that time it had not been considered practical to run trains at night; when nightfall came freight trains and passenger trains alike were "tied up," their journeys to be resumed only when daylight came. Davis held there was no good reason why they should not be run by night as well as by day, and proved it. His first night train from Cumberland to Baltimore marked an important epoch in railroading.—September Leslie's.

Useless Bother.

Chicago Record-Herald: "With this little device," said the gentlemanly agent, "you can reduce the amount of gas you burn one-half."

"What's the use?" answered the woman who had been trying in vain to keep within her allowance. "If the gas company doesn't get it, the meat trust or the flour trust or the coal trust or somebody else will. Excuse me. There's the egg man. I suppose he wants to tell me he's going to raise the price again."

Mocenni and the Pope.

New York World: It was thru the shrewd administration of the late Cardinal Mocenni that the late Pope was enabled to recover the millions lost by the vatican thru the mistaken investments of Mgr. Folchi. Cardinal Mario Mocenni was born in 1829 at Montefiascone, in the diocese of Viterbo. He pursued his theological studies in Rome, and for several years taught theology in his native diocese. His first appointment in the diplomatic service of the church was as secretary to Mgr. Falcinelli, nuncio at Vienna, in which position he remained several years. Pius IX. selected him as apostolic delegate to Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia in 1877, promoting him to the archiepiscopal see of Ellopolis. In South America, Mgr. Mocenni rendered great service to the church, obtaining many concessions from the governments. In 1893 he was made a cardinal, and the following year he was promoted to the Bishopric of Sabina and made apostolic administrator. It was because of this latter office that he ever constructed in the vatican palace. He occupied until his death. As he had to climb many steps to reach his abode, he prevailed on the late Pope to give permission to instal an elevator in the Court of St. Damaso, being the first that was ever constructed in the vatacan palace. He also procured the installation of an electric plant for the lighting of the vatican and St. Peter's. Vatican visitors often met him in the corridors smoking a pipe and wearing a golf cap. Cardinal Mocenni's successor as Bishop of Sabina, which is one of the six suburban dioceses, will probably be Cardinal di Pietro.

Always Had Weak Lungs

Before Using Dr. Slocum's

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

The greatest of tonics and disease destroyers

When it is considered that one may live a few days without water or often a month without food—yet only for a few moments without air, the great importance of taking every care of the respiratory organs, the lungs, is easily realized.

Psychine Built Me Right Up

Linden, N.S., November 7th, 1904.

"I cannot speak too highly for your excellent—I may say invaluable—remedy for weakness of throat, lungs or declining conditions. My brother, mother and sister died of consumption, and I suppose I inherited a tendency in this direction, but, thank God, through the use of Psychine I to-day enjoy good health. I suffered for some two years from a distressing, obstinate cough and weak lungs. I used Psychine and Oxomulsion, and they built me right up. My lungs are now strong and I enjoy splendid health.

Yours truly,
ELLA M. COVE.

The cause of almost every organic disease is traced to a weak throat or affected lungs. The lungs being the primary organs in the circulation of the blood, if they become diseased the blood takes on impurities which are delivered to every part of the body. General weakness, run-down system, indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, loss of flesh, night sweats, chills and fever, feelings of depression are the outcome of diseased lungs and are the allies of consumption.

Psychine and fresh air are doing wonders for lung sufferers. It is the only specific known to modern medical science which will cure either incipient or advanced consumption.

Psychine is the greatest protection against all disorders of Throat, Chest, Lungs and Stomach. If you are quick to catch cold, have pain on taking a long breath, or subject to catarrh or weakness of any kind, you need Psychine. The work of Psychine tells wherever the lungs, stomach or the system need to be strengthened and built up.

PSYCHINE is pronounced SI-KEEN

Psychine, Oxomulsion and all the Dr. Slocum remedies are sold by all druggists at $1.00 and $2.00 per bottle. For further advice or information, for free sample, write or call. Dr. Slocum, Limited, 179 King-street West, Toronto, Canada.

A Buffalo Coat, $12.00

"For one hundred and twenty, you mean."

No, $12. It's not the hide of an old plains roamer from the west, but it's near it. It's just as warm, and you know what the old Buffalo coats were. It looks just like it, but it's not real buffalo fur, it's imitation, with a wind-proof interlining of rubber.

The buffalo himself is gone, and the few buffalo coats and robes remaining are thin and worn, or prohibitive in price to ordinary folk. Here's a good practical substitute, just as warm, just as brown and furry, for $12.00.

Men's Imitation Buffalo Fur Coats; made from the very best quality cloth, in dark brown color; close, heavy and even curl; the whole coat interlined with good serviceable rubber cloth and best quilted sateen body lining, making this coat, we believe, one of the best on the market at the present time; our special price..... 12.00

No dress suit case like it can be bought elsewhere under $8.00, and you can spend more than that and fail to get as good.

60 Fine Cowhide Suit Cases; linen-lined, two outside straps, going all around, four inside straps, two brass bolts and locks combined; size 24 inches; regular $8.00; on sale Monday..... 5.95
